

Morris Hymes

CLOTHIER

52-54-56 North Front St.

D
U
X
B
A K
D
U
X
B
A KDUXBAK
HUNTING WEARBass and Russell's (HUNTING SHOES)
MOCCASINSFAD-CRAFT
Knickers and BreechesWANTED

Men to Pick Apples

F. W. VAIL & SON

MILTON, N. Y.

All for Art's Sake

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(C. 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

When he saw Miss Constance Rood sitting in her big chair on the front porch of the white cottage, Linn Mowbray pushed open the gate and strode up the brick path and sat down on the steps. As he laid his hat down Miss Constance noticed that his good-looking young face was anxious.

"How is everything at the bank, Linn?" she asked him, knitting away at another gay sweater for her pretty niece, Jean.

"Fine—I am in line for promotion soon—Mr. Day is leaving the first of the month." The momentary enthusiasm died out of his face and he reddened. "Have you heard—from—er—Jean lately, Miss Constance?"

"Last night—here is the letter—read it if you like, my dear," said Jean's aunt, as she gave him a bulky envelope. She knitted busily as he read and re-read the pages. At last he gave them back to her. "Thank you," he murmured.

"Razzanti has told her she has the soul of a housewife—and—confound it all, Miss Rood, I'm not fit to talk to any one tonight!"

"My poor boy," sympathized Miss Constance; "I really believe, Linn, that I understand Jean thoroughly—have I not been mother and father to her since her childhood? This painting notion will soon wear away and she will come home disillusioned and settle down. Meantime she is happy. Can't you wait a little longer?"

"I'll try to, Miss Constance—you're such a good sport yourself—I know you miss her—see you later—" He

He Shook His Fat Fingers at Her in Rage.

Janined on his hat and rushed out of the gate. As he tramped down the road his doggedly planted feet seemed to pound out unanswerable questions. "If Jean is really happy, why does she write so vituperatively of the garden and the home folks in Elmdale? If she is a genius why is she not absorbed in her painting? If Razzanti, the painting master, really told her she would succeed, why had she cried? If she didn't care for the work why not come home and marry him?" (Certainly those were tear blisters on the thick, creamy pages of her letter!)

"The next holiday I'll go down and find out," he muttered at last.

What really happened was this: The temperamental Razzanti had given Jean her sixth lesson. His greedy eye had noted the lean leather wallet as it went back into her handbag after she had paid him. She tried to arrange terms with him—perhaps he would wait for payment of the next lesson until she had sold a small still-life study of flowers and a basket of vegetables.

"Sell? You—a sell that? Anytime? Ha!" He paced the dusty studio with increasing wrath that one so unworthy should take up his valuable time. "That's a doubt? Looks like tomato can—bah!" He shook his fat fingers at her in rage and Jean with her things clutched to her breast hastened to leave the place. As she went down the stairs to the hot street, Razzanti put his head out of his door and hissed one word after her.

"Sapristi!"

Jean turned furiously. In Elmdale one did not specialize in other than Latin, Greek or French. But her tongue trembled for speech. "S-s-paghetti!" she hissed back at him and had the last word.

Back in her room at the boarding house, she washed her brushes and cleaned up her painting boxes with tear-blind eyes. She was giving up a long-cherished plan—her life's ambition. She had saved the money little by little and Razzanti's exorbitant charges had absorbed her scanty capital. She had learned little for he was but a huge fraud, and had been sought through an advertisement. She could not go home to Elmdale without money—and there was Linn Mowbray to face. How every one would laugh at her for a failure! That evening after a meager dinner at a funny little tea shop, she told her story to the kind-hearted girl who sat at the desk.

"That's a shame, Miss Rood—honestly, I wish I knew how to help you. You wouldn't want to wait on the tables, now?"

"Yes, I would, and thank you," cried delighted Jean.

In a few days the girl departed

HeadachesAre Usually Due to Constipation

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus replaces it.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

that Jean could make fluffy muffins and cup cakes that would melt in a hungry customer's mouth, and so Jean was promoted and the patronage of the tea shop increased wonderfully. Soon she had charge of the cooking and gradually her pile of savings increased.

One day, behind the dainty blue screen, where Jean was concocting a delicious salad, she heard the sound of vaguely familiar voices. Through a peephole she saw two of Elmdale's prominent matrons, seated at the table next to her screen. Those voices made her homesick.

"Yes, Jeanie," Mrs. Grey was saying as she buttered one of Jean's muffins, "Mr. Day has left the bank and all the clerks have been promoted—it's a fine thing for Linn Mowbray—he's been rather interested in my Dorothy, and holding that position in the bank makes it quite all right now."

"I thought Linn was engaged to Constance Rood's niece—Jean Rood. I haven't seen her for months."

"Somewhere in the city here—studying art; they say she has considerable talent. I suppose she wants to devote her life to art—these modern girls—"

Mrs. Grey sighed and took another muffin. "A culinary artist made these muffins," she added.

"Yes," agreed her friend. "And be sure and let me know—if Dorothy does become engaged—I shall want to send her something very special for her trousseau."

Jean very white and grave, finished her work for the day. Then she obtained a few days' leave of absence and went to Elmdale. She arrived at twilight and walked down the street, drinking in the beauty of the familiar scenes, hearing the evening song of the thrush and the orchard oriole. She passed the Grey home and heard young voices in the screened veranda, and wondered if Linn had transferred his allegiance to Dorothy, the girl who stayed at home.

Miss Constance was sitting in her little porch when Jean opened the gate. She arose with a glad cry and went down the path to meet the home-sick girl. Some one else arose from the shadows and took her out of the older woman's arms.

"Linn!" cried Jean. "I have come to stay."

"Great—our little house is almost fulfilled. Can you cook, dear?"

"Have you forgotten so soon?" she quavered. "Tell him, Aunt Connie, that I can cook everything except spaghetti!"

MANY VISIT SULPHUR SPRINGS

Waters in Platt National Park Have for Years Been Noted for Their Curative Properties.

In southern Oklahoma, not far from the Texas boundary, a group of 30 healing springs, these of cold, sparkling water, were set apart by congress in 1904 under the title of the Platt National park. Most of them are sulphur springs; others are impregnated with bromides and other mineral salts, the Detroit News states.

Many thousands yearly visit the bordering city of Sulphur to drink these waters; many camp in or near the reservation; the bottled waters bring relief to thousands at home.

All these Platt springs, like those at Hot Springs, Ark., were known to the Indians for their curative properties for many generations before the coming of the white settler.

According to a Chickasaw legend, two warriors competed for the hand of Deerfoot, a chieftain's daughter. Both were killed by jumping off a cliff. Then Deerfoot also jumped and killed herself. The chief on the hilltop cried so many bray tears that, according to Indian tradition, they filtered down through the cliff and mingled with the spring water, to which they imparted remedial qualities.

Not Strictly Truthful.

The late Henry Watterson, who was fond of sojourning at watering places like the Riviera, Florida, was one winter spending some time at Joseph Pulitzer's marble palace near Monte Carlo. He was sitting on the sun-drenched terrace when a group of gilt-haired old ladies passed. When they were safely out of hearing Mr. Watterson remarked, "Figures don't lie, but these new-fangled corsets keep them from telling the whole truth."

Ancient Egyptian Dentistry.

The art of treating the teeth when diseased and of replacing them when lost is a very ancient one. Herodotus speaks of the ancient Egyptians as practicing this art, and the Laws of the Twelve Tables (Fifth century, B. C.) provides that where "teeth bound with gold" were found, it was lawful to burn or bury the gold with the body of the dead person. An Etruscan skull, with a set of animal's teeth artificially inserted in it, was exhumed in 1885.

MERRITT'S

429 WASHINGTON AVE.

Telephone 1188-1189.

FREE DELIVERY.

Fresh Dutchess Co. Pork

LEGS, lb.	19c
CHOPS, lb.	19c
SHOULDERS, lb.	15c
SAUSAGE, lb.	18c
SALT PORK, lb.	16c
FRANKFURTERS, lb.	19c

Hams Armour's, Morris, Thompson, Rohe and Swift's.

REGULARS, lb.	25c
SKINS, lb.	21c
CALAS, lb.	15c
BACON SQUARES, wrapped, lb.	20c

ORANGES

FANCY, JUICY AND SWEET,

25c doz.

OLEO

3 lbs OLEO

59c

Red or Yellow Onions
$1.25 Bushel

FANCY MIXED

CAKES, 2 lbs

25c

Prime Western Beef

CHUCK POT ROASTS, lb.	12 1/2c
CHUCK STEAK, lb.	16c
ROUND STEAK, lb.	25c
RUMP CORNED BEEF, lb.	20c
PLATE CORNED BEEF, lb.	7c
FRESH PLATE STEW, lb.	7c
FRESH HAMBURG STEAK, 3 lbs.	25c

CHICKENS

ROASTERS, lb. 45c | FRICASSEE, lb. 35c

FANCY NO. 1 SWEET POTATOES, peck. 30c

FANCY NO. 1 WHITE POTATOES, peck. 29c

$1.00 Bushel

1-8 SACK FLOUR. 90c | COFFEE, lb. 25c

BULK COCOA, 3 lbs. 25c | FANCY TEA, lb. 35c

TOMATOES, can 10c | EARLY JUNE PEAS, 2 cans 25c

Armour's Star
HAMS,
lb, 25cThompson's
Tenderloins. 35c
Bacon, lb. 28cBest Creamery BUTTER, lb, 40cState
EGGS, doz, 40cLarge
FRANKFURTERS, lb, 23c

HOME GROWN

Potatoes
pk. 28c

Bushel $1.15

JANTLEY'S

83 NORTH FRONT STREET.

SATURDAY SPECIALS

Telephone Call 944-M.

Free Delivery

BEST GRANULATED

SUGAR
lb. 6 1/2c

100 lbs, $6.55

ITALIAN
SPAGHETTI,

2 lbs. 25c

BEST MILD
CHEESE,

lb. 29c

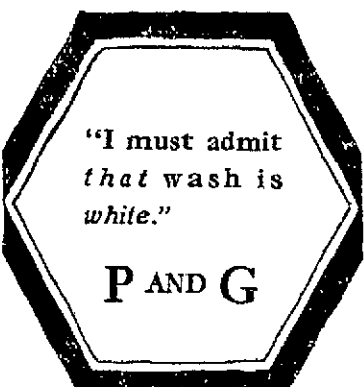

Vegetables

Sweet Potatoes, pk.	32c
Cauliflower	19c, 25c
Ripe Tomatoes, lb.	5c
Green Tomatoes, lb.	2c
Green Peppers, doz.	18c
Celery, bunch	10c
Lettuce, head	8c
Yellow Onions, lb.	5c
Spanish Onions, each	4c
Spinach, 4 qts	19c

Fruit, Etc.

Bananas, doz.	19c, 25c
Grapefruit, 3 for	25c
California Oranges, doz.	49c, 59c
Elberta Peaches, qt.	15c
Large Quinces, doz.	40c
Angel Pears, basket	60c
Greening, Northern Spies, Baldwin Apples, 3 qts	25c
14 qt. basket	65c
Blue Grapes, 3 lbs.	25c
California Lemons
Fresh Roasted Peanuts
Mrs. Salzmans' Break and Schwenk's Bread
P. & G., Star, Kirkman's Soap, 10 cakes,	48c
Star Naphtha Powder	7c
White House, Yuban, lb.	37c
Breakfast Coffee, lb.	35c
Clover, Magnolia Milk, 2 for	25c
Pink Salmon, 2 for	25c
Red Salmon, can	25c
Peanut Butter, jar	15c
Comet Rice, pkg.	12c
Shredded Wheat, pkg.	12c
Post Toasties, Corn Flakes, 3 for	25c
Gold Meadow Buckwheat Flour, pkg, 11c
All Kinds Sunshine Cookies
All Kinds of Canned Fruit

THEY SURELY ARE WONDERFUL LITTLE WORKERS—FREEMAN ONE-CENT-A-WORD "WANT" ADLETS

"I must admit that wash is white."

P AND G

Ezra Meeker, pioneer traveler and historian of the Oregon Trail, visited the Woodland Golf Club at Grand Island, Neb., and, although only a few weeks under ninety-two, he is now a golf devotee, in which he finds his relaxation. He lives at Puyallup, Wash.

Today's Sermonette.
Happiness is not a passive state, but the joyous activity of the best and highest powers of the soul.—Roston Transcript.

Thrift's the Watchword.
The slothful man roasts not that which he took in hunting but the substance of a diligent man is precious.—Solomon.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Oct.—The stock market was irregular at the start today with most of the active issues in supply. Standard Oil of New Jersey started five points lower at 216 and Standard Oil of California showed a loss of 2 1/4 at 129. Mexican Petroleum dropped 1 1/4 to 183 1/2 and Marine preferred was one point lower at 63 1/2. U. S. Steel yielded 3/4 to 103 1/4 and Baldwin locomotive was 1/2 lower at 137 1/2. Reading dropped 1/2 to 78 1/2.

WHITE IS IN THE LIMELIGHT

White occupies the center of the stage, so fashion decrees, and when of crepe and beaded in bugle beads, it becomes a gown of charming appearance. The pointed skirt and black sash are its chief characteristics.

FASHION'S FANCIES FOR FALL

New Clothes Are Apt to Blaze Forth in the Bizarre Shades, Observes Fashion Writer.

Black has become the vogue. Take it, you will, with its variety of trimmings, a fashion correspondent. Black of black is an essential to a well-equipped wardrobe this season. It may call a compromise by being gray for its trimming. But the frock that is black in foundation, regardless of its overtones or draperies. What does this predict for fall, women are asking. Either of two things will happen. Designers will insist upon showing their color skill and defy the disappointment of summer, so that fall clothes are very apt to blaze forth in the bizarre shades which outdoor togs demanded not so long ago. Already there are evidences of heavy coats being fashioned on such shades as light henna, flame, almond green and tangerine.

Whether women will demand the dark clothes to which they have become accustomed, or whether they will yield to the dictates of the designers, who seem to insist, upon displaying their color knowledge, still remains a matter of speculation. But one fact is definitely settled. Frocks, suits and wraps will be trimmed lavishly. Not so much in evidence are the drapes and pipings and panels that bedeck the summer styles, but, rather, the pendulum seems swung backward to the era of embroidery in silk, wool and beads of every description.

Tunic blouses, lavish in crystal beadings, are important. They are so practical and may be used with so many fascinating effects that it will take a goodly amount of persuasion for the majority of women to relinquish their claim.

Frocks are more in evidence than suits or cape suits. The three-piece model of summer is, no doubt, responsible for this change. Not so long ago every woman figured on selecting her fall suit, and she began to think of it when summer lulled its last breeze to sleep. Now she looks further ahead and begins to prepare her wardrobe, mentally, with one eye on what will be offered later.

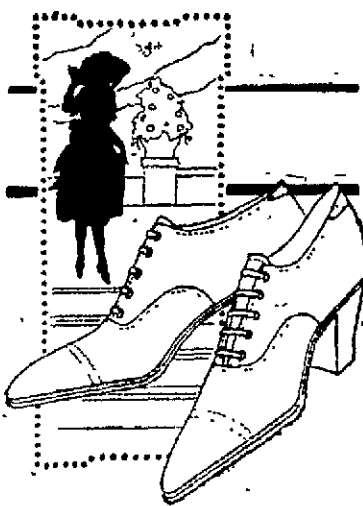

Royal English Poets.
An amusing bypath in English literature is the study of the poetry—or verse—written by several of our kings and queens. Certainly the best of our royal poets was Henry VIII, if, as seems probable, we can accept the traditional attribution to him of several charming songs. But the most voluminous verse writer of them all was James I, who published two volumes of poetry, and left many things in manuscript. The subject is brought to our minds by the fact that the Bodleian Library has issued, as a supplement to its Quarterly Record, five poems by James I, printed in the Felt type from manuscripts in the library. * * * It is to be hoped that some scholar will one day give us a complete edition of the poems of the royal poet, who, though he was not a great poet, had at times a minor charm that is not unpleasant.—The Saturday Review.

Mother: "Can this white underwear really be Johnny's?"

P AND G

The R-G-R Will be Headquarters for Saturday Shopping Tomorrow

STYLISH NEW FOOTWEAR FOR FALL

Just look over our stock. Permit us to show the new arrivals and we'll demonstrate why so many discriminating people buy their footwear here. Only Dependable Shoes are sold at R-G-R'S.

See These for Saturday

- WOMEN'S Patent Colt Oxford, beige, suede trim, military heel. Price $6.00
WOMEN'S Tan Mahogany Pumps and Strap, rubber heel attached. Price $4.00
WOMEN'S Tan Kid Oxford, military heel, rubber heel attached. Special $3.29
WOMEN'S Black Satin Pump, one strap, Cuban heel. Price $6.00
WOMEN'S Black Gun Metal Pump, one strap, cut out effect. Price $7.00
WOMEN'S Patent Colt Pump, one strap, military heel. Price $4.50
WOMEN'S Patent Colt Oxford, welt, rubber heel attached. Price $4.00
WOMEN'S Black Kid, One Strap Pump, military heel. Price $4.00

Specials in Children's Coats

Some big values in our large assortment

- CHILDREN'S COATS, mixtures, velours, herringbone, in brown, sorrento, navy and reindeer, with and without fur collars, sizes 7 to 14. Price Range $8.97 to $21.97
CHILDREN'S COATS, 2 to 6 years, in mixtures, chinchilla, velours and broadcloth, well lined, smart garments for little tots, colors brown, copen, reindeer, gray and khaki, with and without fur collars. Price Range $4.47 to $13.97

Saturday Special

- HOUSE DRESSES, medium, light and dark colors, sizes 36 to 46, good grade percales. Price $1.97 each

- HOUSE DRESSES, gingham and percale, Billy Burke and belted numbers, also two-in-one collar and long sleeve garments. Special Price $2.59 each

- SATEEN PETTICOATS, black, colored and dresden effect. Very Special for $1.00

Saturday Special

- MIDDY BLOUSES, white and tan crash, co-ed and regulation. Sizes 8 to 22. Value $1.49. Special $1.00

- LADIES' White Shirt Waists, voiles, dimity stripes and madras. Size 36 to 46. Value $1.49. Price $1.00

- MISSSES' and LADIES' Costume Slips in white lawn and batiste, and brown, navy blue and black satin. Sizes 36 to 46. Price Range... $1.25 to $3.59

From Second Floor to Second Basement—Four Floors of Dependable Merchandise

Exceptional Values

From Our

HOSIERY SECTION

- WOMEN'S Imported English Wool Hose, with hand embroidered clox, colors are gray, navy, otter and heavier. Special $2.89

- WOMEN'S Imported English Cashmere Hose in all the leading shades. Special, $2.50

- WOMEN'S Imported Silk or Wool Hose, broad ribbed or plain, colors are brown, black and blue heather mixtures. Special $1.97

- WOMEN'S Wool and Cotton Mixed Hose, in beaver, otter and green, blue and brown heather mixtures. Special, 97c

- WOMEN'S Plain Cashmere Hose, in regular and outside, black only. Special $1.25 and 75c

- MEN'S Imported Wool Golf Hose, brown, blue and heavier heather mixtures, with fancy colored cuff tops. Special $1.25 to $3.50

- CHILDREN'S Wool Hose, broad or narrow rib, in black, navy and brown heather mixtures. Sizes 6 to 10 Special, 75c, 85c and $1

TOILET GOODS

Specials for Saturday

- Mavis Talcum, regular, 25c. Special 19c
Azura Face Powder, regular 95c. Special 83c
Dorin's Rouge, regular 50c. Special 38c
Mavis Compact Powder, large size, $1. Special 79c
Luxor Face Powder, regular 50c. Special 38c
Pompeian Massage Cream, regular 50c. Special 38c
Nect (tube), regular 50c. Special 38c
Kolynos Tooth Paste, regular 25c. Special 19c
Phillip's Milk of Magnesia, regular 50c. Special 38c

The Sale of Rugs and Floor Covering

That Everyone is Talking About

ROYAL WILTON RUGS

Strictly all wool, beautiful lustrous designs, copies of famous Oriental rugs, 9x12 feet.

SPECIAL $69.98

ROYAL AXMINSTER RUGS

Heavy pile copy of Chinese and Orientals, strictly all wool,

SPECIAL $34.98

- Tapestry Brussels Rugs, the fine grade, 9x12, seamless. Special $24.98

We carry a large assortment of odd sizes, as follows: 9x9, 9x10.6, 9x15, 11.3x12, 10.6x13.6, 11.3x15, at special prices.

- Felt Base Floor Covering, a special lot, new patterns in matting and wood floor effects. Special 39c per yd.

- Smyrna Rugs, strictly all wool, in oriental patterns, reversible, 30x60. Extra Special $2.98

- CONGOLEUM FLOOR COVERING by the yard, same quality. 59c
Special per yd.

- Genuine Cork Linoleum, in room lengths, 5 to 12 yds. Special 79c per yd.
Ingrain Carpet, a special lot, 98c per yd. Extra heavy.
Genuine Inlaid Linoleum, a special lot of new patterns. Reg. $1.50 and $1.75. Special $1.29 per yd.
Genuine Cork Linoleum Rugs
9x12. Special $13.98
7.6x12. Special $12.98
7.6x9. Special $9.98
6x9. Special $6.98

EVERYTHING IN FLOOR COVERING

is featured now and particularly these well-known felt base floor covering CONGOLEUM RUGS.

- 6x9, Regular $8.10. Special $6.98
7.6x9, Regular $10.10. Special $8.79
9x12, Regular $16.20. Special $13.98

- SPECIAL LOT FELT BASE FLOOR COVERING, very desirable pattern. 49c
Per yard
No seconds or imperfect merchandise.

UNDERPRICE OFFERS IN QUALITY DRESS FABRICS

- 40 IN. SILK CHARMEUSE, a splendid quality in this popular material for which the present season shows a special preference, comes in navy, taupe, blue, seal, Pekin, Burgundy, black, grey, etc. SPECIAL $1.98

- 35 IN. ALL SILK MESSALINE, high lustre for dresses, blouses or skirts, full line of street and evening shades. SPECIAL $1.49

- 35 IN. ALL SILK BLACK SATIN DUCHESS rich black, splendid quality for all dress purposes. SPECIAL $1.69

- 40 IN. ALL SILK CREPE DE CHINE, a firmly woven crepe desirable for dresses, blouses or lingerie in navy, taupe, seal, grey, copen, jade, and the evening shades. Reg. $1.69. SPC. $1.39

- 36 IN. SATIN NEGLIGEE, a most satisfactory wash satin in white, flesh, pink, blue, black, etc. SPECIAL $1.98

- 40 IN. SATIN CREPE, a crepe weave with a satin finish that drapes to perfection for dresses, blouses or skirts, comes in navy, seal, grey, brown, black and evening shades. Regular $3.75. SPECIAL $3.25

- 36 IN. LINING SILKS, in combinations of green, brown, grey, rose, tan, helio, blue, copen, etc. THE YD. $1.19

- 40 IN. ALL SILK CANTON CREPE, a firm weave with a lustrous finish, superior quality, in grey, henna, navy, seal and black. SPECIAL $2.69

The R-G-R Millinery is Popular With Everyone.

THE VOGUE OF TRICORNS

As Depicted by the Foremost Designers

New, fascinating and decidedly smart are the Marquise Tricorns. Copies of the latest creations of famous Parisian designers with nothing lacking except the Par is label and the additional good dollars that you would be obliged to pay for that label.

Velvet—Lyons and Panno—are the favored materials; offset by Coque, Ostrich, Ribbon Peacock, Monkey Fur, Ribbon Cockade and Jewelled Ornaments.

$5.95 to $12.50

Sports Hats—An Increased Supply to Meet the Multiplied Demand

At $1.49 to $3.25

This time it's Felt Cloth, Suede-Like and Duveltyne. All are cleverly embroidered and all are very flattering.

COLORS: Everything that fashion favors for sports wear from the very gayest to the soft, woody browns.

Remarkable Values

From Our

BUSY BASEMENT

- UNIVERSAL Clothes Wringers. Warranted 3 years.
10x1 3-4 roller $5.75
11x1 3-4 roller $5.98
Stationary tub Wringer, $6.50

- SAVOY Steam Double Boiler, a combination steamer and double boiler, turquoise finish, outside with speckled blue and white lined inset. Made in two sizes.
2 qt. inset $2.29
4 qt. inset $2.98

- THE UNIVERSAL Wringer Bench, wringer warranted for 3 years. Bench built of best selected hard wood, $9.25

- POLAR Cub Electric Heater—For use on 110 volt alternating or direct current. Solid copper reflector, 11 inches in diameter. Cord and 2 piece separable plug .. $5

- GALVANIZED Ash Cans.—We carry several qualities at lowest prices.
$1.65, $2.79, $3.65, $4.98

- ALUMINUM Sink Shovels—Made of pure aluminum, wear a lifetime. Special, each 10c

Saturday Specials

In Our Domestic Dept.

- 19c PERCALES, 36 inches wide, light ground block or colored figures or stripes, 12 1/2c

- 22c CLOTH OF GOLD, No. 100 fine, 36 inches wide, full bleached, soft finish 19c

- 25c WHITE FLANNEL, 36 inches wide, heavy weight, full bleached 19c

- TOWELING SPECIAL—Extra heavy, bleached absorbent crash, will give excellent service 9c

- $3.98 BED COMFORT, exceptional value, full size, stitched all over, filled with 100 per cent clean cotton, $3.47

- $2.98 BED COMFORT, large size, floral and Persian designs, filled with clean cotton $2.59

Kingston Daily Freeman.

TERMS:
 For Annual in Advance $7.50
 For Single Copies 5c
 Office: 157½ Union St., Kingston, N. Y.
 Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Kingston, N. Y.
 Published by Freeman Publishing Company, 157½ Union St., Kingston, N. Y.
 Editor: Harry DeWitt, Jr., Treasurer: Adolphus Freeman, Secretary: M. K. Kline, Postmaster: M. K. Kline.
 Member American Newspaper Publishers Association.
 Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
 Member New York Associated Dailies.
 Official Paper of Kingston City.
 Official Paper of Ulster County.
 Please address all communications and make all money orders and checks payable to Freeman Publishing Company, 157½ Union St., Kingston, N. Y.
 Telephone Office: 157½ Union St., Kingston, N. Y.
 New York Telephone: Main Office Downtown, 157½ Union St., Kingston, N. Y.

KINGSTON, N. Y., OCT. 6, 1922.

Reports from Geneva say that the league assembly is amazed at the recent happenings in Smyrna. It was apparent to everybody else that the allied tactics in Asia Minor would surely lead to some such denouement, but the league is so engrossed in contemplation of its own righteousness that it has no time to attend to practical problems of world peace.

On September 30 the price of Treasury savings certificates was slightly advanced, but they can still be bought so as to yield about four per cent on the investment when they mature in five years from date of purchase. Their new cost is $20.50, $22, and $20, and they are redeemable in five years for $25, $100, and $1,000, respectively. There is no better investment in the world, and in the present state of the Federal finances it is a patriotic act to buy them.

FRENCH DON'T LIKE IT.

The Paris Temps is all upset because of the passage of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law and predicts it will restrict the sale of French goods in America. The Republicans admit the soft impeachment. That was one of the intentions of the measure. Our imports from France consist mainly of luxuries of the highest type—satin, silk and furbelows, rouge for the lips of the city flirt and wax for the mustache of the tango dandy. If the belle of Hollywood, or the dowager of Dowagiac wants a high-toned perfume at a dollar a drop, she dips her digit into a French flask. If old Beau Brummel wants a hair dye or pulchritudinous Percy selects a wristwatch, he searches for the French label. Toilet soaps of rare odor for the delicate epidermis of the American demimonde, must be French, and her hands must be encased in French gloves which match a Poiret gown.

Now, the people who can afford these luxuries are presumed to be able to pay for them, and since they will have them to the exclusion of American substitutes they should pay the duty. What is more, they will pay it, or somebody will for them, only the chances are that they will not spend so freely where the duty is added as they did when the tariff was on a low revenue basis. The little economy thus encouraged will not hurt them, and it will add to the revenues and give American products a chance to prove their worth.

The Temps says, "Americans blame the reparations for holding up European reconstruction. They are wrong. The real obstacle lies in protectionist measures of the kind contained in the new American tariff and not in the just demands of France." Ooh, la, la! The American tariff law had not taken effect when that statement was made, and the French attitude on reparations has held up European reconstruction since 1919.

"THE COCONUT COW."

The earnest support by the agricultural organizations of New York State of every agricultural bill signed by Governor Miller is an indication of the strength of the Governor in the agricultural districts. Every agricultural bill which was passed in the 1922 session and signed by the Governor was unanimously approved by these organizations. The "filled milk" bill, which was enacted into law with the support of Governor Miller, is an example of his interest in the welfare of agriculture.

While "filled milk" is a term not readily understood by all, the farmer understands the term perfectly well and knows what it means to him. This bill was aimed directly at the "coconut cow" which producers have come to look upon as a serious menace to the dairy industry.

Coconut oil, or other substitute fats or oils, is mixed with skim milk or cream, and the admixture became so extensive that milk producers were alarmed since the use of these fats simply had the effect of reducing the demand for the milk fat produced in the dairy.

But, in addition to benefiting the producer by prohibiting the substitution of coconut oil or other foreign fat for cream, the natural and wholesome product of the cow, a greater benefit accrues to the consumer.

sumer. These substitutes have little or no food value to the consumer who purchases evaporated milk which is not made from the unadulterated milk or the whole milk as it comes from the cow. The substitution of coconut oil for milk fat is adulteration under the terms of the statute and its sale is prohibited. Therefore, the practice of removing the cream, containing the greatest health-giving elements, from the milk and substituting coconut oil, or other foreign fats, is discontinued.

If this were the only accomplishment of the Miller administration from the agricultural point of view, it is well realized by farmers that it is of greater value to them than any legislation put forward in any administration in years past. It is a measure which the farmers consider an excellent type of the Miller-brand of justice firmly and unerringly administered in their behalf.

Burroughs Nature Club Notes

Copyright 1921.
By HOUGHTON MIFFLIN CO.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Is there any other natural check on insects besides birds?
2. Please tell the habits and shape of the Hyla, also called peeper?
3. I found a nest with some little birds in it, and eggs too. Did they all belong together? I couldn't see the old bird, but the nest was a shaky, badly made thing, as though not all done.

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Is there any way to tell poison sumac from the other kinds?

Yes, several differences mark it. Poison sumac has leaves with no toothed or jagged edges. Its flowers are whitish-green, and the stems of the clusters spring from the angle of the leaf stem. Flowers turn to greenish fruit. Non-poisonous sumacs, dwarf and staghorn, also have greenish-white flowers, but they grow in pyramid-shaped clusters at the tips of the sprays. Fruit red.

2. Are any turtles dangerous?

Yes; when big enough, the soft-shelled turtle found in Georgia, Florida, and Louisiana, bites viciously when resisting the fisherman. (It is edible and caught for market North and South.) The ordinary snapping turtle of any size is capable of amputating a human hand, or more often an unwary finger.

3. What is the correct name of a bird locally called water turkey? Body resembles a goose, as do feet, except they have sharp hooked claws. Neck long, bill long and sharp, with serrated edge. Lives on fish entirely and catches them by swimming under water. Plumage resembles a turkey.

There is a so-called water turkey, Anhinga, but we do not believe the bird seen by this correspondent (in Florida) is Anhinga, as the description does not apply. Probably a cormorant of some kind. The hooked claws on webbed feet, fish-eating habit, and serrated bill and color of plumage fit better to a cormorant.

RUBY.

Ruby, Oct. 5.—Milton Robbins closed his house for the winter and returned to his home in Coney Island.

Mrs. Anna Schobel and son, Jacob, are visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Kelly, of East Orange, N. J.

Mrs. Rose Staerker spent last week in Kingston with her relatives. Michael Staerker has been called back on the railroad again.

Mabel Young returned home from Bay Ridge after spending two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. James McCue.

Patrik Atkins of Bay Ridge is visiting his sister, Mrs. George F. Young.

Mrs. William Staerker, Mrs. Michael C. Staerker, Jr., and Mrs. Edgar Halwick were Kingston visitors last week.

Miss Betty Benson of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Scheffel.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwartz and baby of Kingston called on Mrs. Schwartz's parents in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Low and sons and daughter, Mrs. Fred Vack and children of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of their mother, Mrs. Rose Staerker.

Mrs. T. Larkin returned to her home in Troy after visiting at the home of Mrs. George E. Burger of Ruby Heights.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Oct. 6, 1902.—Edward Kline of Post street narrowly escaped losing one of his arms in the Peckham factory.

Oct. 6, 1912.—Nathan Levine and Miss Rose Munitz married. Charles Osborn died at East Kingston.

Mrs. William Hardy died at Rifton.

"See their whiteness, ma'am — and the towels and the boys got through."

P AND G

HOW

ENGLISH ENGINEERS ARE EMPLOYING SEWAGE GAS

—Gas produced from sewage is being used to run engines at the sewage disposal works of Birmingham, England. Experiments made by John D. Watson, chief engineer, have proved successful, according to reports transmitted through consular channels. The sludge from the sewage, after it has undergone a certain amount of sedimentation, is fed into a septic gas producing tank, which is furnished with an air relief valve. The sludge is not aerated before it is used. The gas thus obtained contains about 60 per cent of methane or marsh gas, and is of big calorific value. It averages as much as 675 British thermal units per cubic foot, which compares very favorably with coal gas with 600 British thermal units per cubic foot.

Mr. Watson calculates that two tons of sludge will produce the gas required to give 150-horsepower hours, and that the total power available at that particular station could be raised if necessary, to 5,000-horsepower hours daily. The gas produced at the plant is employed in driving a 25-horsepower gas engine, which in turn works a centrifugal sludge pump. The exhaust from the engine is passed through pipes traversing the septic tank to supply heat and hasten the formation of gas. Samples of gas taken for analysis in cold weather had a higher calorific value than those taken in warm weather, a fact which would seem to indicate that a warm climate is not essential for gas production.

FICTION WRITERS AS SEERS

How Oldtime Tellers of Tales Predicted Marvels Which Today Are Merely Commonplace.

A most amusing and voluminous book could be written around wise men's forecasts, beginning with those of Mercurius, in the year 1240, described many future marvels. His prognostications caused skeptics even of the eighteenth century to smile in derision, yet, in the Twentieth century they are only simple and commonplace realities.

There could be cited Cyrano de Bergerac, the Marquis d'Argenson, Jules Verne, and a score more, without forgetting Emile Souvestre, who foresaw more than one of our conquests in his book, "The World in the Year Two Thousand."

Here is what can be read in one of the last novels of Champfleuri, "Le Jardin du Rot" (The King's Garden) about forty years ago: "A day will come when science will project her light into the interior of the human body and clearly see there just as we see the pebbles on the bottom of a brook."

Thus, a little less than twenty years before his discovery the author of "Fayence Fiddle" foresaw the X-ray. Truly, it must be conceded that fiction writers are often seers.

How Entire Town Was Moved.

Residents of Cedar Falls, a mountain town 40 miles from Puget sound, were terrorized recently when the entire place moved eleven feet toward Cedar lake. Should the slide continue it will mean the loss of all property and the abandonment of the town site.

It has been found that the clay formation upon which the foundations are erected lies in a slanting rock strata of extreme smoothness. There is really nothing but the weight of the clay subsoil to keep it balanced.

The winter's deep frost and a supposed earthquake shock may have been the cause of the earthslip. As every section of the town moved exactly the same direction and space the only damage was a few broken window lights.

How Nature Made Test.

A reinforced concrete arch of 85 feet span, forming part of a highway bridge constructed the year before last at Herkimer, N. Y., was submitted to an unexpected and severe test when the work of concreting had been completed only 12 hours. Owing to heavy rains during the deposition of the concrete, the water in the river spanned by the bridge rose about five feet, washing out or undermining the supports of the centering and carrying away part of the latter to such an extent as to leave the arch entirely without support, save that afforded by the molds in which the concrete had been deposited. Notwithstanding the sudden strain so imposed on the concrete, no injury was caused in any part of the arch.

How Fashion Slays Monkeys.

The dictates of fashion have exerted a strong demand for black and white Abyssinian monkey skins to be used for trimmings, particularly in Paris. The supply of skins is very limited and not more than fifteen to twenty thousand can be obtained in a year. Says Consul Cross at Aden, Arabia, in a report to the textile division of the Department of Commerce, without unduly raising prices and exterminating the monkey. The price at Aden Ababa has been fairly steady, the cheaper grades selling at 45 cents and the more expensive at 80 cents.

A Burglar Sighs at Lies.

Even a burglar may have sorrows. One says he is saddened by the manner in which people exaggerate their losses when he lifts some of their property.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Copyright 1922 Hart Schaffner & Marx

GET MORE STYLE

in your fall clothes

You get more quality here, too; Hart Schaffner & Marx latest models in rich imported and domestic woollens. You save money by wearing such clothes; you look better and feel better, too.

Fallsportsuits

They're good; belted backs; belts all around; Norfolks; great values at

Fall overcoats

New ones; in whipcords, Raglans, Chesterfields, belted styles and box coats

$32.50 $35.00

S. COHEN'S SONS

331 Wall Street, Kingston, N. Y.

SAFETY IN STORM

"Skyscraper" Good Place to Be When Lightning Flashes.

Steel Frame Conducts Electric Fluid
Harmlessly to Earth—Some Places
That Are Especially Dangerous.

Here's good news for skyscraper folk. The safest place in a thunderstorm is a steel frame building. That is, it's the safest place accessible to most of us. There might be a slight margin in favor of an underground cave or a compartment completely enveloped in metal network. But a modern office building, hotel or department store comes pretty near making its occupants lightning proof.

Not that lightning never strikes such a building. Indeed it often shatters some wooden excrecence on it, like a flagpole, and there have been thunderstorms in New York which have littered downtown streets with such wreckage.

But the modern buildings themselves are such good conductors that when they are struck the people inside them never know it. Through their steel skeletons the electric fluid speeds harmlessly on its shortest possible path to the earth.

More, the skyscraper actually plays a beneficent part in a thunderstorm, says Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, chief consulting engineer of the General Electric company, since they tend to relieve by "silent discharges" the tension existing at such times between earth and sky.

If you are lightning shy, Dr. Steinmetz' conclusions will encourage you. At the same time he utters a few words of warning. While the sporting odds, based on lightning fatality statistics, are about 240,000 to 1 against any particular person being killed by lightning, it's just as well to notice where you're standing while a thunderstorm is raging.

It might not be healthy, for instance, to take up your station in a direct line between two good-sized metal objects, such as a steam radiator and an iron sink, or between either of them and a rain spout running up the side of the house. That would be a reckless invitation to some flash of lightning, either direct or indirect, to do its worst to you. For lightning prefers metal conductors on its journey to the ground and would rather jump from one metallic body to another than take a direct course through nonconducting mediums.

"A place of special danger," says Steinmetz, "is directly beneath a hanging lamp or globe suspended from the ceiling by a chain. Lightning may follow the chain to its end and then jump off. The place where a wire clothesline enters a house may also be a danger spot, although I think this has been overemphasized."

Golf fans will be cheered to learn that the metal pieces on their clubs are too insignificant to attract the majestic attentions of a lightning stroke. Golfers caught in a thunderstorm have been known to fall in a panic and throw away their clubs, but their fears are pronounced groundless.

The behavior of lightning under various conditions has been studied sympathetically by Steinmetz, who was dubbed "lightning tamer" when he succeeded in producing artificial lightning in his laboratory.

"If you glory in a thunderstorm as I do, you will want to stand at a window or on the front porch and watch it," he said. "And there you will be just about as safe as anywhere else. For all the lightning flashes generated by a vivid summer storm, less than 1 per cent strike the earth. The rest are confined to the sky that breeds them. Your chances of being bitten by a mad dog are probably greater than the chance that you will be struck dead by lightning. Only about 500 persons are killed by lightning in this country every year."

As for the human rabbits who seek "insulation" in a thunderstorm by rolling themselves in feather beds, the lightning tamer has nothing but mild ridicule for them.

Effect of Age.
A young man seems to feel sheepish when he has to wheel a baby carriage, but have you ever noticed how proud a septuagenarian is to do it?

PORCH ROSES

By MILDRED WHITE

(© 1922, by Western Newspaper Union.)

Betsy Rose glanced covertly at the face of the man who sat near her. He was very difficult to understand, this man, with his moods of depression and his evident joy in her companionship. "If he loves me," thought Betsy Rose, "and surely he must know that I love him, then why is he not happy all the time?" It was a perplexing question. Douglas Barton got up from the hammock to pace restlessly the veranda floor while Betsy went thoughtfully to fasten a drooping Dorothy Perkins rose to the trellis.

"I must go back to the city," he said to her abruptly. Betsy turned her violet eyes upon him in surprise.

"The country wearies you? Aunt Libbie will be sorry. She has enjoyed having you with us."

"And it was kind, indeed, of your aunt to take me in. The country does not weary me. I should like to stay here forever—with you." The last words were a whisper.

"Then," asked Betsy Rose, the pink roses nodding above her brown head, "then why must you go?"

"Do you remember," he asked her gently, "the first day that, driving by chance down this road, I found your house and stopped to ask for a drink of water? It was a hot day, and dusty, and you in cool white stood in this same little porch among the pink roses. That was nearly a year ago. And after a time I came back to ask that I might stay for the night. The moon was out then and there was a stillness and desolation in the air. I thought that I should never forget that sense of desolation, but I have forgotten it; you have taught me. And since that evening in the moonlight porch I came again—and still again. As your roses budded and blossomed so did my love for you, until now it is a perfect flower; a flower my heart would offer you, little Betsy Rose, if I dare, because I feel that you will not be able to understand when I have told you a story. I dare not offer it. So, I must go away."

Douglas Barton leaned back, speaking slowly, absently, as though his thoughts were with a time far away. "There was a woman with me the day we stopped at your door, dear; do you remember? A woman so beautiful that her beauty and fame were known across the continent. She was, indeed, a great singer. When first I saw her and heard her, I was translated into another world—a world of adoration. There I lived with but her face my constant thought for months; or was it years? Time was blotted out after I knew her. And so it was with many; only to me was she kind. I cannot tell why. Perhaps the success of my latest invention, brought with my companionship, a share of power. Malda Masters gloried in power. It was not until I came to know her quite well, that I learned that she had a husband.

"Joel was my rustic lover," she would say, "when I was a rustic maid. We lived in a tiny cot near a pine wood and thought that we were very happy until I went to visit a relative far away and met the great master. The musician discovered my voice. I had been but using it to make merry over household tasks. So Joel brought forth his savings. He had worked hard there among the pine timber and I went away with the relative to study. She was very proud of me and the musician enthusiastic and I have proved their trust." So spoke Malda Masters, who had won my heart along with many. "I will be freed from Joel," she promised, "and I will marry you. Joel is reasonable. He will understand how unsuitable now is our union." And I agreed. So that day we were driving back to the tiny home that Malda had known in her marriage, to beg from her husband Malda's freedom. And the sight of your Dorothy Perkins' roses caught her eye.

"We had," she said softly, "just such roses over the doorway of that first little home near the wood. Joel trained them for me that beauty and fragrance, he said, might screen out all the barrenness of life. Oh, Joel was a poet, unconsciously—I must stop here. You shall ask for a drink of water from the little maid at the door." So ordered Malda and I obeyed. And when she had sat for a time in your little porch, Betsy Rose, this favored woman looked out to my big waiting car with tears on her cheeks. I had not dreamed that tears could find place there, and with a knot of your flowers in her hand she came toward me. "Douglas," she said, simply, "I am going back, back to Joel."

"So I came back down the long road, later alone and your little porch was desolate in the cold moonlight. I felt that I could go no farther, and your aunt was good enough to let me stay. And as I saw you here from day to day, oh, my little Betsy Rose, it seemed that you were the ideal I had taken her to be; the little girl, as she had said, that she used to be, before adulation and love of power had changed her. And in my love there has ever been sorrow, for because of your very identity I know that you could never give to a man who would have taken a woman from her husband—your confidence—and yourself. That is why I must go away." Betsy leaned close that she might fasten the rose she held in the man's coat lapel. "It is pleasant here now than in the city," she said, smiling. "And Douglas, there need be no desolation for you in the moonlight tonight."

Eucalyptus Has Advantage.
It requires more than a century for a cedar tree to grow large enough to yield a 30-foot telephone pole. The eucalyptus will attain a larger growth in 30 years, and its wood is quite as durable.

RED CROSS HEALS WOUNDS OF WAR

25,000 Disabled Ex-Service Men in Hospitals After Four Years of Peace.

CHAPTERS' FIELD OF SERVICE

Every Veteran Needing Help Gets Individual Attention of Sympathetic Workers.

When on November 11 the world halts to observe the fourth anniversary of Armistice Day, and the American Red Cross inaugurates its Annual Roll Call for the enrollment of the 1923 membership, the people of the United States may well pause to think of the unparalleled contribution to the cause of peace made by our Army and Navy in the World War. The glory of it is a common tradition; but the wounds of war remain. They are not healed in a day, in a year, nor in four years. And on Armistice Day there will be under treatment in Government hospitals over 25,000 ex-service men, broken physically by wounds, exposure, nervous strain and exhaustion incident to their service in the war.

The Government without stint is undertaking to furnish these disabled men with the compensation and medical care to which they are entitled; yet their especial care is a duty of the Red Cross. Why? Because the Government cannot handle the cases of ex-service men individually; it must handle these men in bulk under a standardized policy. The Government has neither the authority, the funds or the equipment for working out the problem of the individual man. There is where the American Red Cross finds its greatest field for service, aiding through its very active Chapters in reaching the disabled man with immediate practical help, assisting his family while his claim is emerging from the process of adjustment, furnishing articles of comfort, funds to tide over the difficult periods, the friendly touch of personal encouragement, helpful recreation and worry-dispelling amusement. It is the warm hand of sympathy and understanding which the American Red Cross extends to the majority of these disabled ex-service men, some of them friendless in the whirl of life, thousands of them with wives and children dependent upon them, and hundreds of them frequently helpless in the face of grim necessity.

2,679 Chapters Aiding Veterans.
In this work, upon whose accomplishment the American Red Cross is urging a record-breaking enrollment in the Roll Call which opens on Armistice Day and closes with Thanksgiving Day, 2,679 Chapters in all parts of the country are engaged. This is 350 more than were working for ex-service men last year when approximately $10,000,000 was expended by the National Organization and the Chapters working together in harmonious unity. For the current fiscal year National Headquarters appropriated $3,080,692.90, an increase of $365,608.84 over the amount spent for the work among ex-service men in the year ended June 30 last. Since it is estimated that the Chapters will expend close to $7,000,000 from their own funds, the grand total of Red Cross expenditures for this single work is expected again to reach the $10,000,000 mark by June 30, 1923.

Hospital and District Office Work.
During the fiscal year a total of over 1,000 persons, paid and volunteer, has been engaged in Red Cross duty in hospitals or district offices of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau. An average of 8,000 new cases requires definite and particular attention each month. The demand for Chapter-made articles for hospital patients is constant.

During last year Service Claims and Information Service at National Headquarters handled 37,000 compensation and insurance claims, 24,500 allotment and allowance cases, and 9,700 miscellaneous claims. Since February, 1919, it has disposed of 64,174 allotment checks payable to veterans which the Post Office Department reported undeliverable.

The Chapter is the unit of the Red Cross organization which is accessible to every disabled veteran or his family. Between July 1, 1921, and June 30, 1922, the Chapters had reported 1,663,079 instances of service to ex-service men and their dependents, at a cost estimated from reports now at hand of more than $3,340,000.

The basis of this far-reaching work of the Red Cross is the individual needs of the disabled veteran to the end that he may obtain his rights under the law, that his special wants may be immediately supplied, that his own and his family's situation may be rendered happy and cheerful, and that their outlook for the future may visualize incentives for independent and fruitful effort.

Spread Christmas Joy Abroad.
More than 100,000 Christmas boxes for the children of Central Europe were packed by the Junior Red Cross last year. The spread of Christmas joy through these boxes will be largely increased this year because of the plans already under way.

Your Peace-Time "Bit".
Not "all you can," but your "bit," $1, makes for strength of the American Red Cross in peace-time service. Strength in numbers multiplies service. Join today.

VAN WAGENEN'S

A Commanding Display of Suits, Coats and Dresses

—Reasonably and Uniformly Low Priced
You Keep in Your Pocket the Difference Between Our and Elsewhere Prices

Tailored Cloth FROCKS

Featuring all the newest modes—slim, straight lines, new sleeves and irregular hem. Developed in Point Twill and French Serge. Plain and combinations of colors. Sizes 16 to 44

$9.98 to $34.98

An Army of Men With a Half Million in Cash Have Prepared a Cake—and

There's a Slice For

YOU

—ALL About it in Tomorrow's Paper

The ROSS Stores

NEW CREPE FROCKS

Developed in Canton or Crepe Satin. In draped or with a definite waistline, new sleeves and neckline giving the youthful smartness. Metallic ribbon, braid or embroidery trimmed. Black and Navy.

SPECIALLY PRICED

$22.98

New Winter Coats for Girls $6.98 to $15.98

Featuring all the newest modes, graceful and youthful—in belted or flared models—in all wool fabrics—Velour, Pebble Cloth or Bohvia—well tailored—half or full lined—colors Navy, Brown and Tan—sizes 6 to 14 yrs.

Winter Coats for Juniors $15.98 to $19.98

Straight and semi-wrap styles. Plaids and panels used effectively—novelty buttons and belts—some have fur collars—generously cut and well made—lined throughout—colors Brown, Navy and all the new shades—sizes 15 to 19.

Coats for Women and Misses $45.00

Fur collars or self collars. Some have both fur collar and cuffs and all have fine decorative Garniture such as embroidery, folds of fabric and stitching. Colors are Navy, Black and Brown. Fabrics are Maryanna, Lustrosa and Arabella of choice quality. Beautifully lined.

Cleverly Tailored Suits $24.98 to $49.50

Developed in Point Twill and Tricotine. Navy Blue and Black. Superior values. Long straight lines. Silk lined.

Plenty of Dash in These Hats at $5.00

Hats for everybody here including many nice hats for the Matron. Felts, Scratch Felts and Velvet. Turbans and Poke shapes, Off the Face models and Toques. Some bright with the glitter of metallic ribbon, others have Ostrich, Coque and other feather fancies. Many are smart sport models. Tremendously good looking and at prices that are universally acknowledged to be the lowest in town.

HATS AS LOW AS $1.49 AND UP TO $17.98

Corduroy Robes

OF WARMTH AND BEAUTY

$2.98

The popular breakfast type of rich velvet corduroy in wide wale. Such becoming colors as wistaria, cherry, open and rose. Two patch pockets and belt serve for trimming.

Seco Silk Night Robes

EXTRA

$1.98

Worth $3.00. Figured Seco Silk in flesh color. Shirred and bowed. Narrow silk lace at neck line.

Colored Princess Slips

$1.98

Light as a feather and lustrous as satin. For wear with one piece dresses they combine perfect comfort with smartness. Colors Navy, Black, Brown, Purple and Orchid.

$5.00 NEW SILK Chiffon Velvets $3.98

So beautiful in its rich gleaming finish. Suitable for the early Fall suits, cape or dress. Our special price for this elegant Chiffon Velvet is actually lower than today's wholesale price. 40 in. wide. Black.

$2.25 ALL-WOOL Tweed Suitings $1.69

56 inches. This cloth could not be made today to sell for less than $2.50 per yd. Strictly all pure wool, in rich heather colorings and suitable for suits, dresses, skirts, coats, etc.

Regular 25c Percales at 19c yard

Yard wide. Every piece new, choice and perfect. Selected styles of all the latest designs. There are stripes and neat patterns on both light and dark grounds.

Black Rock and Lockwood Unbleached Muslin 12½c yard

Still another value of the kind that makes this store the busiest place in Kingston. Comes in a good, firm weave. Quantity large but will sell quickly at this price.

79c Silk Striped Shirts 59c yard

32 inches wide. Amongst this lot will be found the most artistic and varied color combinations ever offered by us. Early shoppers will be afforded the choicest selections.

$2.50 Blankets $1.98 Pair

Full size blankets—64x80—in Gray, Tan and White. Extra heavy.

HEAVY Outing Flannel 12½c

19c grade. Substantial weight flannel in pretty stripes and plaids.

Look for the Mark!

The Norwegian "Fisherman Mark" of quality and goodness that is on every bottle of

Scott's Emulsion
assures you health-building, vitamin-bearing cod-liver oil in its purest form, pleasant to take, readily assimilated and transformed into strength. The "Fisherman Mark" should be on every bottle of emulsion you buy.

Scott & Borden, New York, N.Y.

(Over the Back Fence)
"Why! washing out already, Mrs. Jones?"
"Yes, I'm making the P and G whiteness test."
P AND G

The Up-to-Date Co. Inc.
KINGSTON, N. Y.

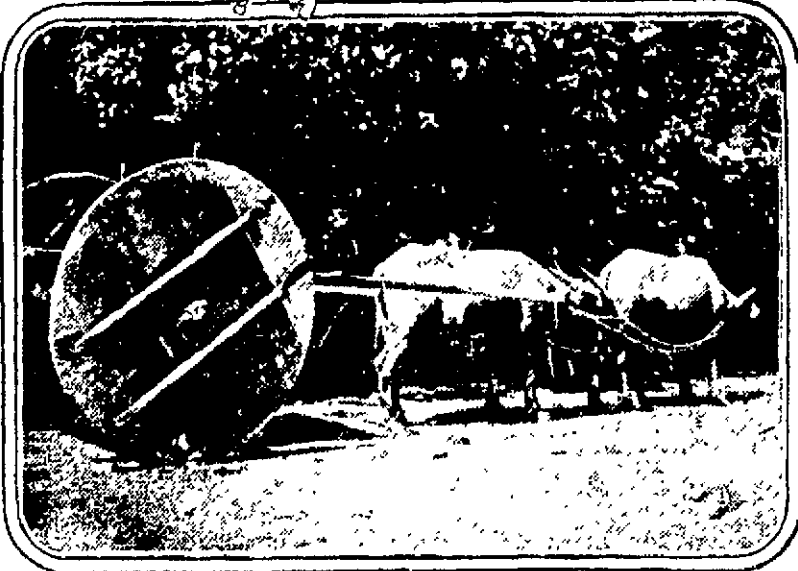

INIMITABLY SMART HATS

Featuring the major style success of Paris in adaptations for American gentlemen.

$5.00 to $35.00

MILLINERY SALON SECOND FLOOR.

"Beautiful Isle"

Type of Cart Used in Sugar Cane Districts of Formosa.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

One of the most important of the "slices of China" taken by outside nations, but one which there has been no mention of restoring, is the island which the world knows as Formosa, but which the Japanese, since they gained possession of it through the China-Japanese war, have named Taiwan.

"Tutu Formosa"—Beautiful Isle—the early Portuguese voyagers called it; and never was a more appropriate name given to an Isle of the sea.

If you care to confirm this in one of several pleasant ways, sail along the west coast of Formosa in a teak pal or bamboo raft on a clear day, and you will witness a pageant of mountain scenery that will haunt the memory for many a day.

Beyond the fertile plain with its emerald paddies and its picturesque little villages dotted here and there on the banks of meandering streams, foothills with unending varieties of contour silhouette their tree-fringed summits against the paler screen of more distant mountains. Of these sometimes five and sometimes even six parallel ranges are visible at once, each a separate ribbon of color, sliding from the deepest sapphire to the palest azure and extending in an unbroken chain of beauty from north to south.

On the east of the island you can see the highest coastal cliffs known, at some places rising abruptly to an elevation of about 6,000 feet, and affording an impenetrable wall of defense to the wild aboriginal tribes living in the mountainous heart of them.

All Kinds of Vegetation.

Formosan scenery is unusual in its diversity of vegetation within such narrow confines. The greatest length of the island from north to south is about 264 miles, and 90 miles is its greatest width.

From the palms and tropical fruit trees of the western plain it is only a short step to the staves of the tower mountains, with their exuberant growths of bamboo grass, the hard-leaved ferns, the great tree ferns, which in scattered spots attain the height of palms, and the ubiquitous bamboo grass.

Here, among mossy forest trees, is found growing the beautiful butterfly orchid, while in exposed spaces, nesting among the rocks, rose pink azaleas flaunt their gay blossoms. A little higher are plateaus covered with camphor trees, the largest trunks of these valuable trees in the world, while still higher grow the forests of coniferous trees—the giant hemlock, similar to the redwoods of California, the largest trees in the East, and the second largest in the world, the valuable hinoki or Japanese cypress, and the pine cedar and spruce of the New England states; and higher yet the craggy peaks of the tallest mountains, but sparsely covered with vegetation of one sort, where eagles build their nests, and which for the greater part of the year lie beneath a mantle of snow.

The usual approach to the island is the port of Keelung, in the extreme north. Almost any time one arrives in Keelung the rain will be found coming down in sheets, obscuring the hill-crowned harbor.

Board a train for Taihoku, the capital city, which on most maps still bears its old Chinese name of Taipei, and in about ten minutes you will pass through a long tunnel, under a mountain ridge on the other side of which you will in all probability find the landscape flooded with sunshine. Rain seems as out of place in this new world as stars in the broad daylight.

Here and there the train passes the low, mud, thatched dwelling of some Chinese homesteader with a pool of water by way of front yard, where huge slate-colored buffaloes take their noonday siesta.

Taihoku is a Fine City.

The distance of 20 miles to Taihoku is covered in a little more than an hour, and there the traveler is sure to be amazed at the westernized appearance of the city—the broad streets, the beautiful parks, and the imposing public buildings. Only the gateways of the old wall, which surrounded the ancient Chinese city, remain, looking as out of place in their rejuvenated setting as the Egyptian obelisk in Central park. Even Daitoel, the Chinese section of Taihoku, is unnaturally clean for a Chinese city.

The Japanese insist upon two official house cleanings a year, and as they are executed under a policeman's vigilant eye, there is nothing slipshod in the undertaking. All a man's chattels, his furs and penates, his wives and children, even to his cherished opium pipe, are heaped unceremoniously in front of his dwelling, and the work of scouring begins.

During the summer months Daitoel presents its busiest face, for it is then that the tea season is in full swing. The colonnades of the tea houses, if such an imposing architectural term as colonnades can be fittingly applied to such unimposing structures, are alight with the staccato accents of clattering tea pickers. These are generally young girls, as old hands are too numb for the deft manipulation of the tea leaves.

Scattered on low stools before wide wicker trays, these bright-eyed maids, in their peacock blue smocks, their front hair clipped in bangs, and with a gay post or two stuck in the braided knots at the backs of their necks, are in animated contrast to their rather drab surroundings.

Everywhere one sees coolies packing the gaily flowered lead-lined boxes that carry their sensitive freight of tea to America. About 90 per cent of Formosa's output goes to the United States.

The population of Formosa is mainly agricultural. The cultivation of rice, and more especially sugar cane, is encouraged by the government, and these are grown in great quantities.

Monopoly in Camphor.

However, the most interesting industry is the production of camphor, and it can truly be said to be peculiar to the island when it is remembered that Formosa holds a practical monopoly in the world's market of this valuable drug.

Shortly after the Japanese came to Formosa, 25 years ago, the camphor industry became a government monopoly. Before that time there had been a great deal of ruthless waste, both in the cutting down of trees and in extracting camphor from them.

At first the Japanese, too, were careless in this respect, for the supply of camphor trees seemed practically limitless, but the great increase in the demand for the product in late years has made scientific afforestation necessary. Now large tracts of land are given over to the cultivation of the camphor laurel. The oldest of these cultivated trees are now some twenty years of age.

In point of view of value, few trees can rival the camphor. An average tree, say with a basal circumference of 12 feet, will yield about 50 piculs of camphor (approximately 6,000 pounds), which, at the present market price is worth several thousands of dollars.

Native skills are scattered here and there throughout the districts where camphor is collected, packed in tin and carried down precipitous mountain paths on coolies' backs to the nearest railway line, whence it goes to the refinery at Taihoku.

Ever since we have any authentic record, Formosa has been peopled with wild tribes of probably Malayan and Polynesian origin. They are nearest in point of resemblance to the Dyaks of Borneo, and although their origin has never been proved beyond a doubt, they are sufficiently like certain of the South Sea tribes to justify us in ascribing to them a common ancestry.

They are found on the island today in all stages of development. The "raw" savages as the Chinese term them, live much as their ancestors did centuries ago, while the "ripe" savages, living on the borderland between their wild kin and Chinese settlers, have more or less assimilated Chinese ways of life. The savage population of Formosa is estimated at about 150,000.

At present Formosa enjoys greater freedom from savage attacks than ever before in her history. This is due to the fact that the Japanese have installed a live-wire barrier from Karenko, about midway on the east coast, to Pinnan, in the south, a distance of about a hundred miles, to serve as a protection against savage raids.

The future of Formosa under its present benevolent paternal government looks bright indeed. Never before has this island, so beautiful to the eye, enjoyed such a degree of prosperity.

Keep Traffic Moving Toward

555 Broadway

(United States Hotel Building)

As an opening sale we are offering this 10,000 Mile Written Guaranteed Holyoke Cord Tire—Heavy Duty and Oversize. Adjustments made by us at any one of our stores, or at any one of the factory branches to your own satisfaction.

30x3 1/2 Cord ... $9.00	34x4 Cord ... $17.95	36x4 1/2 Cord ... $23.95
32x3 1/2 Cord ... $12.95	32x4 1/2 Cord ... $21.95	33x5 Cord ... $24.95
31x4 Cord ... $14.95	33x4 1/2 Cord ... $22.50	34x5 Cord ... $25.95
32x4 Cord ... $16.95	34x4 1/2 Cord ... $22.95	35x5 Cord ... $26.95
33x4 Cord ... $17.25	35x4 1/2 Cord ... $23.50	37x5 Cord ... $27.95
		36x6 Cord ... $43.00

---SPECIAL---

30 x 3 1/2 (Over-Size Fabric) $7.50

7,000 Mile Guarantee.

We will ship anywhere C. O. D. subject to inspection.

Müller — United States — Royal Cord — Hood — Diamond

C-L TIRE SHOP

UNITED STATES HOTEL BUILDING.

555 Broadway,
Kingston, N. Y.

NEAR WEST SHORE RAILROAD CROSSING.

Branches—Poughkeepsie, Saratoga Springs, Glens Falls, New Rochelle.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Sixteen months ago the Republican Party took over the management of the largest business concern in the world. It found the organization of this concern utterly demoralized as a result of eight years of riotous waste, gross mismanagement and class legislation. There was a bonded indebtedness of $23,997,000,000. Government bonds were selling at 85 cents on the dollar. There were outstanding loans to foreign countries of $11,000,000,000, for which there was no written evidence of indebtedness, much less any business or legal agreement as to how and when the loans and interest were to be paid. The discount rate at Federal Reserve Banks was 7.5 per cent for gilt edge loans. Five million wage earners were in idleness. Farmers faced bankruptcy. Hard times prevailed. Business lived from hand to mouth. Everything needed readjustment and reconstruction. Such, in a broad way, were the conditions prevailing when this administration took control of the country and the present Republican Congress was called into special session.

Today we have a President whose wise, business-like, constructive policies have won the confidence and affection of the American people. He has surrounded himself with a cabinet composed of men endowed with common sense, especially qualified for the work of their departments and devoted to the promotion of public welfare. As soon as the administration assumed control it called into special session the Republican Congress to assist it in straightening out the situation. Since then the executive and the legislative branches of the government both under Republican control, have worked together.

As a result of their joint effort there has been within the last 16 months a marvelous transformation. The bonded indebtedness has been reduced by $1,014,000,000. Today every issue of Liberty and Victory Bonds is selling at par or above, representing an increase of $3,000,000,000 in the value of government securities in 16 months. A refunding commission has been created for the purpose of getting foreign loans on a commercial basis. The interest rate at Federal Reserve Banks has been reduced until it is now 4 1/2 per cent.

The last year of Wilson's administration the actual cost of running the government was $5,538,000,000. The actual cost of running the government for the fiscal year just ended June 30 was $3,795,000,000. This is an annual saving of $1,743,000,000 which the Republican administration has made in the routine expenditures of the government. This was possible because the Republican Congress early in its special session re-enacted a budget law which the previous Republican Congress had passed only to have a Democratic President veto it. It was easily the most important piece of business legislation which has been enacted within this association. After its enactment it was speedily applied by the executive officers of the Republican administration.

The work of Congress, the wise administrative policies and the introduction of business methods by the departments in the conduct of public affairs have all combined to give in individual and corporate enterprise so that today, in contrast to a year ago, unemployment has ceased to be a factor outside of those industries in which there are strikes. Agriculture is on its feet. Business is improving each day. Industrial output is increasing. Capital is going back to work in the channels of private and profitable enterprise. It really makes some difference at the end of a year whether the government has been controlled by an administration and a Congress that are generally right in contrast to an administration and Congress that were generally wrong.

The Republican party will go before the country this fall without any apology for this record. It is a record which needs no defense. The people are not going to stop the magnificent work so well begun. They are not going to retreat to the conditions which prevailed prior to March, 1921. They are not going to return the Democratic party to power and thereby restore the evil conditions which have been so largely corrected in the past 16 months of Republican control of the executive and legislative branches of the government.

See America First.

Colorado has a mountain area six times as great as Switzerland, with 42 peaks exceeding 14,000 feet altitude as against eight such giants in the Swiss Alps, and 36 mountains higher than Mount Fuernsternhorn, the highest peak in Switzerland.

"I never saw Mother so pleased with anything as she is with that wash."

P AND G

A Puzzling And Expensive Problem Solved.

In a few short months we will all be trying to solve the Christmas problems what shall we give and how much can we afford to spend. There is no more exclusive gift than a photograph nicely finished and richly mounted or framed.

One dozen photographs ordered now will enable you to solve that many Christmas gifts and to have them wrapped ready to distribute long before the rush. It is a source of great satisfaction. It is not too early to make an appointment while the light is good and our time is at your disposal. Remember that "Your friends can buy everything but your photograph."

PENNINGTON STUDIO,
72 Main Street.

—Advertisement.

DANCE AT RUBY HOTEL.

Every Saturday Evening.—Advertisement.

Dining room at Dreamworld.

Thomas W. Lawson.

Ever since Thomas W. Lawson wrote "Frenzied Finance" he has been a doomed man, for Wall Street vowed to "ret him." It did, and now his $6,000,000 Dreamworld estate, near Boston, finest country estate in America, is to be sold on October 12. Lawson is said to be practically broke, though he purchased a $500,000 annuity several years ago, when at the height of his wealth, so he can struggle along in a cheaper home.

One of Sicily's Beauty Spots.

Sicily is one of the most beautiful islands of the Mediterranean, and Taormina is one of her most beautiful spots. Greek colonists ages ago formed the early colony of Naxos at the foot of Mount Etna, and out of that colony emerged the present Taormina. Etna is still an active volcano, and invariably snow capped. Taormina is even today more a Greek than an Italian city and the famous theater in the center of the town was built by Greeks. The unmistakable Hellenic type lingers on in the faces of the youths and in the melancholy, oriental songs of the peasants working in their lemon groves or vineyards.

There Are Dogs and Dogs.

Buster is five years old and is developing a spirit of independence and choice that his fond daddy loves to tell about. Buster is about to have a new birthday and daddy consulted him as to his desires in the direction of a birthday present. Buster without much deliberation asked for a dog. "What kind of a dog do you want?" asked daddy. Buster pondered awhile and then answered seriously: "I don't care what kind of a dog he is. He can be big or small or long haired or short haired or anything, but—his voice took on a tone of finality. 'I don't want any jokes. The only kind of a dog I don't want is a 'hot dog.'"

"Traveler's Tree" Largely Myth.

Among the romantic stories of off lands that have long maintained their circulation and commanded more or less belief is that of the "traveler's tree," credited with possessing a reservoir of pure water fit to save the lives of wanderers in the desert. An American scientist declares, from his own experience, that the tree grows only in the neighborhood of swamps and springs, and that although it has a considerable amount of water in a hollow at the base of its leaf, the water possesses a disagreeable vegetable taste and, of course, inferior to other water found in the vicinity.

THE FREEMAN'S CENT-A-WORD ADLETS SAVE MONEY, TIME AND WORRIMENT---PUT YOUR "WANTS" UP TO THE LITTLE HUSTLERS

GREATEST CROWD YET TURNS OUT

(Continued from Page One.)

Giants: Kelly singled over second. Kelly out, trying to steal. Cunningham out, Dugan to Pipp. Smith singled to left. Scott fanned. No runs; two hits; no errors; one left.

Fifth inning, Yanks: Schang out, Kelly to Scott, who covered first. Ward flied to Cunningham. Scott out on a foul to Groh. No runs; no hits; no errors; none left.

Giants: Bancroft out on called strikes. Groh out, Dugan to Pipp. Frisch walked. Frisch out, trying to steal, Schang to Scott. None across.

Score by Innings:

Yanks	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Giants	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

MORRIS MEIDENBERG HAD BARNETT BELL ARRESTED

Claimed He Gave Him a Bad Check—Matter Adjusted.

Barnett Bell was arrested in Albany on Thursday and brought here on a warrant sworn out by Morris Meidenberg of West Strand charging Bell with grand larceny in the second degree.

According to Meidenberg he cashed a check for $86 drawn on an Albany bank when Bell assured him he had $1,100 on deposit in the bank. This morning Meidenberg and Bell got together and adjusted the matter. Meidenberg withdrew the complaint and Bell was discharged in city court.

Lohengrin.

Lohengrin, the knight of Swan, is the hero of medieval German romance and of one of Wagner's music dramas. In the drama the Princess Elsa of Brabant is falsely accused of the murder of her brother by her guardian, Count Telramund, and his wife, Ortrud. In response to her prayer, Lohengrin, who is a knight of the Holy Grail and a son of Parsifal, comes in a boat, drawn by a swan, to champion her cause. His one stipulation is that Elsa shall not ask his name. He fights and defeats Telramund and marries Elsa. Her foes, by trickery, induce her to break her promise. Lohengrin reluctantly tells his name and the swan appears to carry him off. The swan, who is Elsa's brother, changes to his original form, and a dove descends and bears Lohengrin away in the boat, Elsa fainting as he disappears.

A Turncoat.

One bright morning in springtime, a green caterpillar, on the bough of a tree, was going at a ladybird and seemed bent upon making her acquaintance. However, the ladybird disdained the insect, and flew away among the flowers.

Some time later, in the summer, the ladybird was earnestly admiring a butterfly which was fluttering about near her. She even approached the pretty creature and began a conversation, when the butterfly exclaimed: "No, no, madam! I do not value compliments from turncoats. You were ashamed of my appearance when I was only a caterpillar; but now that I have risen in the world, doubtless you would be very glad to make my acquaintance."

The butterfly then spread out its light wings and flew away, leaving the ladybird to her own reflections.

Hair of Bathers Turns Green.

On the Isle of Thines there are several wells which are naturally charged with radium which are much sought by invalids. They are generally attached to hotels and board is furnished at a rather high figure, with the privilege of the wells thrown in. The bathing method is simple and rather primitive. A piece of canvas is spread on the ground; the patient sits in the middle of it and two muscular men lift the ends. Lowered into the water hole one is immersed for a moment or two only. More would be too much. The heat might be dangerous if affected. Even after so brief a dip the body of a person thus immersed is almost as red as a boiled lobster. Women who take the dips are warned to avoid wetting their heads. The radium water turns the hair green.

Influence of the Opal.

The modern superstition which regards the opal as an unlucky gem is traced to an ignorant prejudice which arose in Italy during the plague in the fourteenth century. Before this time it was considered a most fortunate stone, particularly to those born under the heavenly constellations Leo, Libra, or Aqu. So highly was it prized in Rome that the Senator Nonius, desirous to be killed rather than sell to Mark Antony for 20,000 sesterces an opal ring that Iovelsick Mark wanted to bestow on Cleopatra. Nonius had his precious opal buried with him, and it was found a few years ago in his tomb.

FIFTEEN LABORERS

At U. & D. Extension Shop or apply
MICHAUD-CAMPBELL CO.

REGISTRATION AND ENROLLMENT SOON

Registration days this year fall on October 13th, 14th, 20th and 21st. At this time voters may register for the coming election and also enroll in one of the regular parties so that they may be eligible to vote in the primaries next September. The registration places are the same as the regular polling places in this city.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD:

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

The first anniversary Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of the soul of Patrick F. Nugent in St. Mary's Church, Saturday morning, October 7, at 7 o'clock.

Martha, widow of the late John D. DuBois of Rochester, N. Y., formerly of this city, died this morning at the residence of her niece, Mrs. John Slater, 120 Prospect street. Notice of funeral later.

George Berigan of Glasco, died at his home, Monday October 2, after a lingering illness. Deceased is survived by a wife and two small children. The funeral was held from deceased's late home Wednesday, October 4. Interment was in Montrose cemetery, this city. He was 24 years of age.

The funeral of Al Graham, colored, an employee on the McCord Farm at Gardiner, who injured one of his arms last week and died later after being placed under chloroform by Dr. Baldwin of New Paltz, was held Monday at Gardiner. The cause of his death was unknown. Fright, weak heart or loss of blood are thought to have caused his death.

Emily Palmatier, wife of Josiah Sprague died on Monday at her home on the Plains in New Paltz. She leaves besides a husband one son, Joseph, a sister, Addie Rogers of California, and half-sister, Mrs. Lane of Lloyd; a brother James Palmatier of Lloyd and a half-brother Charles Palmatier, also of Lloyd. Funeral services were held at the home on Wednesday and the interment was at the Highland Cemetery.

The funeral of Clara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ebnus who died Thursday of diphtheria, was held Thursday from the home, 25 Livingston street this morning. The interment being in the family plot in Montrose Cemetery. At the grave the children of the Livingston Street School of which the deceased was a pupil, sang, and the pastor of the church, the Rev. F. Schroeder, conducted the services.

Mrs. John C. Kaiser of New Paltz, died on Saturday morning of pneumonia, after an illness of a few days only. She was seventy-nine years old. Some time ago her husband suffered a severe stroke of paralysis which rendered him helpless. Mrs. Kaiser spent much time at his bedside in attendance, and also looked after her household duties. She was a woman of excellent sense, very industrious, a devoted wife and mother and a good Christian. She and her husband had always lived in New Paltz since their marriage about sixty years ago. She leaves three children, Henry and Cornelia who live at home, and Mrs. Patrick Hughes who resides in Connecticut, but who was with her mother at the time of her death. The funeral was held at the residence on Tuesday afternoon.

John C. Kaiser died at his home in New Paltz on Tuesday morning three days after the death of his wife. He was eighty-eight years old. Notwithstanding his great age he had attended to work in the field until a few months ago when he suffered a stroke of paralysis. He was born in Germany, but came to this country when a young man, and had lived in New Paltz for sixty years or more. He owned the first house in that part of New Paltz known as Vineland, and had been there ever since. He was a carpenter by trade and always noted for his honest and substantial character in his work. He held for a long time the office of constable, and was very efficient in its duties. He was one of the first members of the lodge of Knights of Pythias in New Paltz, and took great interest in the fraternity. The funeral was held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon.

THE JOINERS.

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

The following lodges hold regular meetings this evening:

Wawarsing Tribe, No. 323, Improved Order of Red Men, 5 Railroad avenue.

Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, J. O. U. A. M., 14 Henry street.

Kingston Chapter, No. 155, O. E. S., will meet at its rooms this evening.

Monday evening the first degree will be conferred on a class of candidates by Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M.

Mystic Court No. 62 Order of the Amaranth will hold food sales at the stores of L. B. Van Wagenen, Wall street; S. L. Torrey, Broadway; S. E. Eighmer, Broadway; Mrs. P. Sullivan, Port Ewen, Saturday from 2 to 5 p. m.

COBB EJECTED; WOULD'NT STAY AWAY; IS JAILED

Persisting in going back on property from which he had been ejected twice before, Percival C. Cobb was brought to jail Thursday evening by Constable Decker to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace Irving C. Barnes at New Paltz on Saturday, October 7. He is charged with violation of Section 2035 of the Penal Law, which makes returning to take possession of lands after removal by legal process a penal offense. Cobb bought a property on which he made payments but failed to pay the entire amount and was ejected but did not stay put out, hence the arrest.

Temporarily Out of Order

By RUBY DOUGLAS

(Continued from Page One.)

Grace O'Brien spent many hours of her day cooped up in the tiny outside box office of a movie theater. It was the only way she had of earning her living when she found herself a young widow after the war. She was accurate, systematic and quick, and it did not take her long to become expert in the art of selling tickets to the hurrying public.

Two elevators ran from the outside foyer of the theater where she sold tickets and two girls operated these lifts. They were relieved as was Grace herself, by other girls who came on to do their turn at the work.

Sometimes, Gay, I wonder whether the monotonous ups and downs of my life here in this elevator are not more wearing to the nerves than the sedentary life you live cooped up in that box," remarked one of the elevator girls to Grace, when there was a lull in patronage for both of them.

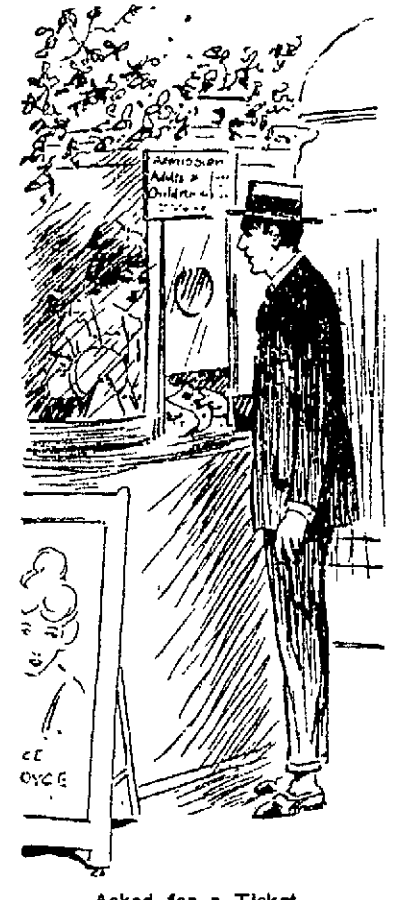

"It's an even break," acquiesced Grace, "but I think we are lucky to have any jobs at all, and I'm thankful for mine."

"That's the reason we call you Gay," At that moment a man stepped up to the little window, put down a dollar bill and asked for a ticket. As he took the change he looked through the circular aperture at Grace O'Brien's face. Suddenly he reached his hand through.

"Grace—why Grace 'Lowell' he exclaimed. "Is it you?"

Grace looked at him scrutinizingly. "Bob Morton?" she cried.

For a moment each held the hand of the other but did not speak. It was ten years since they had seen each other.

Asked for a Ticket.

"Aren't you lost?" asked Grace, at a loss for words, while he held her eyes so compellingly.

"I'm just on here for a visit. And you?"

"Oh—it's a long story with me," admitted Grace.

And then, urged by the gathering string of expectant patrons of the moving picture house, the man disappeared.

"An old friend?" asked the elevator girl when there was a moment of rest again.

"He was more than that—in our school days," said Grace.

"Oh—" breathed the girl meaningly.

"We were really truly sweethearts in those days, and then I came East and then the war and George in his uniform and the call to the front and—well, I married George before he left. That's all. I have never heard of Bob from that day to this."

"But you will—if I know a chin when I see it," laughed the girl. "And I saw his."

It was the next day that Bob Morton was dragged as by a magnet to the moving picture theater again.

"Isn't there some time, some place, somehow that we could have a visit?" he asked, after talking to Grace for a few moments.

Grace was silent. She could not ask him to her tiny room. She would not ask him to the general parlor of the boarding house. She did not like to let him take her to some place of amusement.

"Why couldn't you just visit—here?" she said hesitatingly.

A group of persons sought tickets. "It's a fine place to—talk," Bob said, amusedly, as he took again the place before the glass window. "Now— isn't it?"

"It isn't exactly my idea of—of romance," Grace laughed.

Bob stepped aside again. He was thinking. His time in New York was short.

"Gay says you are an old friend of hers," said a voice at his side.

Bob turned hastily and took off his hat. "Ah—yes—very old. From her home town, in fact. You—you call her Gay?"

The Whenceness of the Alphabet.

According to Dr. C. E. Moldenke, the Egyptologist, the alphabet was not invented by the Phoenicians, who merely "lifted" twenty-two letters from the Egyptians, and then spread them as their own through Greece and Italy.

"We call her that because she's such a brick in the face of all the trouble she's had—and it nicknames Grace very well."

Bob remembered that Grace was wearing black—all black—on both of the occasions when he had seen her. "She's—she's had trouble, then?"

"Oh—yes! Her husband was killed in the war."

Bob was silent for a few moments. "Oh—yes—so he was. I—perhaps I did see that in the local papers." He knew well that he had not. He knew that he had never connected Grace with any husband, dead or alive.

"I have been trying to get a few words with her, but she seems so busy," he admitted to the girl.

The elevator bell rang; the girl looked at her wrist watch. "She will be off duty in ten more minutes. Stick around."

Bob remained. The girl returned with a little placard which bore the lettering, "Temporarily Out of Order." She fastened it to the door of the elevator she was running.

"What's that for?" asked Bob, amused. There was still a crowd at the window, and Grace was busy selling tickets. The girl who was to relieve her had arrived.

"It means," said the elevator operator, "that you and Gay are going to have ten minutes of privacy that isn't a boarding place, and maybe you can fix up a date with her to take her out and tell her all about it again. No one will know the difference—but me—and I know it is hard to talk while a string of movie fans is waiting to buy tickets."

Bob laughed aloud. He looked at the sign on the lift door. Then Grace emerged from the little rear door of the ticket booth.

"I say, Gay," said her friend. Grace looked from the girl to Bob and back again. "What's up?" she asked, feeling the nearness of something important.

"We—have decided that though an elevator isn't a very sentimental place—it is very quiet when it bears this sign." She pointed to the card. "Come in for just a moment, Gay," said Bob.

Grace blushed as she had not blushed for ten years.

"In you go," urged the girl. "And you, too," she said, pushing Bob gently on the back.

She closed the door of the attractive little elevator and left the two alone.

When they emerged Grace came up to her, her eyes bright with a renewed outlook on life. "Bob wants you and me to have dinner with him. We—we might have a lot to tell you."

"Well—my internal economy is not 'temporarily out of order,' so I'll go," said the girl, removing the sign from the door and turning the elevator over to the relief worker.

ANNUAL BLESSING OF WINE

Ceremony in French Village on St. Marcellin's Day—Aid of Saint Invoked During Drought.

A similar custom is that observed in Rouillon-en-Provence, a village in the department of the Rouches-du-Rhône, near the town of Aramon, France, so famous for its red wines.

Every year, on St. Marcellin's day, that is on the first of June, there is a procession of bottles. About 7 o'clock in the evening, while the bells are ringing at full pitch, the men—the men alone—assemble and in a procession march to a distant chapel, every one carrying a bottle of his best wine.

The cure blesses these bottles, after which the participants drink a gulp of this wine while the priest chants psalms.

At the end of the ceremony the cortege returns to the village, this time following the banner of St. Marcellin. And then every one goes home with the precious flask, which is only opened in case of fever, stomach trouble or other indispositions.

St. Marcellin, in Rouillon-en-Provence, is as favorable to water as he is to wine. In periods of drought his bust is carried across the vineyards, whereupon, the carriers sing, and immediately it rains.

Letters as Newspapers.

At one time there were no newspapers, and news had to be passed on entirely by word of mouth.

The first papers were in the form of letters, and the earliest of these was the "Acta Diurna" (Daily Happenings), published in Rome in 691 B. C.

The last newsletter was issued in America in 1704. This was the Boston News-Letter, several copies of which are to be found in the collection of the Boston Historical society.

The first newspaper printed from type was called the Gazette, and was published in Bavaria in 1457, while the first advertisement that appeared in print was the announcement of a reward for the recovery of two stolen horses, and was contained in the London Impartial Intelligencer in March, 1618.

Saving a Bit of Time.

An American tourist in Yorkshire was very much interested in the "quaint" dialect of that section of England. He stopped to have a chat with an old Yorkshireman, who was busy cleaning some harness in the stable yard. Just then a butterfly settled on the stable door and the American exclaimed, "Pretty, isn't it? Now what do you call them here?"

The old man made a deft shot at the butterfly with his cap. "You was a flatterbug," he said stolidly, "but us chaps calls them fugs to save a bit of time."

Thought for the Day.

The highest price we can pay for anything is to steal it, the next is to beg it; the cheapest and best is to earn it.

Ten Largest States.

The ten largest states in respect to area are: Texas, California, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Colorado, Wyoming, Oregon, Utah.

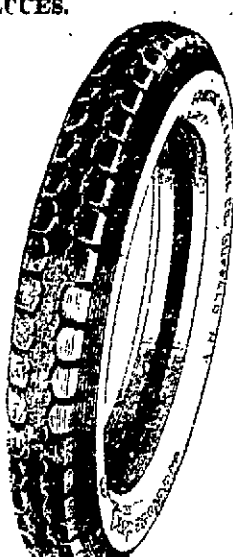

IF IT'S T.I.R.E.S. SEE BROWN

TIRES

BELOW COST

IN THE BROWN ANNUAL CLEAN-UP SALE

This sale is to close out all remaining stock—and wind up the season. In the matter of VALUES.

Give all your tires the once over. If there is any chance that you will need TWO—don't buy just one. This is a REAL opportunity. You'll have SOME WAIT to see its equal!

WHAT EVERY BROWN CUSTOMER KNOWS
Where You Meet Service, Price and Quality Face to Face
You Know This Store—Its Reputation—Make it Your Store.

Brown Tire Company

Phone 796. 662 BROADWAY, KINGSTON, N. Y. OPEN EVENINGS AND SUNDAYS

KINGSTON'S TIRE JOBBER AND FACTORY DISTRIBUTOR

Brown's Tire Store is the only Tire Store in this section having TIRES AND TUBES OF ALL THE STANDARD MAKES.

IF IT'S T.I.R.E.S. SEE BROWN

Pythian Theatre, Port Ewen.

Tonight Charles Ray in 19 and Phyllis, also Chapter 8 adventures of Robinson Crusoe and Fox News.—Advertisement.

DIED.

DONDERO—In this city Wednesday morning October 4, 1932, Teresa Agnes Dondero at her home 154 O'Neil street.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral which will be held from her late residence Saturday morning at 8:45 o'clock and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 o'clock where a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery. Arrangements by Leo V. Grogan.

HARDY—In this city Thursday, October 5, Daniel F. Hardy, beloved husband of Anna Molloy Hardy.

Funeral will be held from his late residence, No. 32 Jarrold street, Monday morning, October 9, at 9 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at ten o'clock where a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

MOGAN—In this city, Wednesday, October 5, 1932, John E. Mogan, beloved husband of Agnes Mogan and son of John and the late Mary Mogan.

Funeral will be held from the home of his sister, Miss Erasmus Hanson, 127 Abel street on Saturday, October 7, at 8:15 and at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock where a Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

SCHERMERHORN—In this city, October 6, 1932, Charles A. Schermernhorn.

Funeral at residence 86 Pearl street Monday at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment in Wilkwyck cemetery.

In Memoriam.

The first anniversary Mass of requiem will be celebrated for the repose of the soul of Patrick F. Nugent, at St. Mary's Church, Saturday, October 7, at 7 a. m.

Not gone from memory
Not gone from love,
But gone to a heavenly home above.

And while you rest in peaceful sleep Your memory we will always keep. Softly at night when stars are shining Upon the cold and silent grave, Where thou liest dearest brother, Whom we loved but could not save.

Friends may think we have forgotten And our wounded hearts are healed, Little do they know the sorrow That's within our hearts concealed.

BROTHER AND SISTER.

NO GAME SUNDAY.

There will be no ball game at East Kingston this Sunday as many of the players are at the World's Series. The closing game of the season will be staged Sunday, October 15.

An Easier Job.

"Fit ain't no cinch 't manage a top-eared mawl," said Charcoal Eph, rumi-natively, "but ef'n a man got 't argue wid a red-headed wife 'bout her opinion, he bettah git him a job plowin'."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Public Notice.

STATE OF NEW YORK
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION
ALBANY
October 3, 1932.
NAME OF APPLICANT—CENTRAL ELECTRIC COMPANY.
NATURE OF APPLICATION.—For permission to construct an electric plant (extension) in the town of Blauvelt, (Hudson county), and for approval of the exercise of franchise therefor dated August 24, 1932, received from said town.

SECTION OF PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION LAW UNDER WHICH APPLICATION IS MADE—63.

NOTICE is hereby given that a public hearing on said application will be held by the Commission (represented by Mr. C. A. Vior, Assistant Engineer) at its office, No. 91 State Street in the city of Albany on the eighth day of October, 1932, at two o'clock p. m.

By the Commission, FRANCIS E. ROBERTS, Secretary.

MR. T. R. REAL, President, Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Established 1894.

C. D. HALSEY & CO.

27 Williams St., New York City.

Investment Securities

BRANCH OFFICE,
260 FAIR ST., KINGSTON, N. Y.

Geo. G. Brooks,

Resident Manager.
Telephone 295.
Members of
New York Stock Exchange.

Any Hour. Ambulance! Any Distance.

LEO V. GROGAN

FUNERAL SERVICE
Cor. Wall & Pearl Sts. Phone 546

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1922.

Sun rises, 6:02; sets, 5:33.
Weather, fair.

The Temperature.

The lowest point registered by The Freeman thermometer last night was 54 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 79 degrees.

The Weather.

Washington, Oct. 6—Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday; cooler Saturday and in west portion tonight; moderate shifting winds.

Walt Whitman's Daily Bread.

Few poets have had a more varied existence than Walt Whitman, who began his career as an errand boy in a lawyer's office and tried in turn working in a printer's office, teaching in a country school and editing the Brooklyn Eagle. He founded and edited his own paper, the Long Islander, but gave it up and tried building and selling small houses in Brooklyn. During this checkered career, Whitman was continually writing poetry, and finally, in 1855, he published a small book containing a collection of his poems, under the title of "Leaves of Grass." It was characterized by Emerson as "the most extraordinary piece of wit and wisdom that America had yet contributed." Whitman's life was a poet's life—free, unburdened, unworldly, unconventional, unselfish, cheerful, optimistic, and it was contentedly and joyously lived.

Intelligent Investor.

The commuter went for a cup of tea, to get another story of her neighbor's colored maid, and, as usual, was not disappointed. Anita, the maid, was out, having demanded her money. As told by the neighbor: "Yes, ma'am, Miss Anita, I just naturally gotta have my money today 'cause Billie Malone won't wait." The neighbor, keenly interested, asked, "But who is Billie Malone?" "I dunno," "But, why give him money?" "I dunno," "Is he a relation?" "No, ma'am, I ain't never even saw dat man; but ma ole missle, what I need for work for tele me I must give it to him every month before the 10th." "But surely, Anita, you must have something to show for it, papers, receipts or some thing." At which Anita disappeared and returned with a book on which was clearly printed "Building and Loan."

Imagination.

Imagination exercises a wonderful force upon our health for good or ill. Samuel Rogers, the poet, tells of a man who, resolved on suicide, picked up a dose of poison, but died before he could bring it to his lips. Another man caught a violent chill by laughing himself in a draught from a window leading into a bookcase. A hardy soldier in the trenches swallowed a harmless spider. His mates agreed, as a joke, to tell him that it was a venomous insect, and all pretended that his looks were ghastly and alarming. The joke was carried so far that the soldier, completely believing them, fell into a state of coma and nearly died.

Efforts Not Appreciated.

An English priest, Monsignor Bickerton-Drew, has written his recollections of Cardinal Manning. The cardinal was evidently anything but a severe or inglorious person. Being in Norwich one day during a heavy shower, Manning happened to take shelter in a chemist's shop in company with a very severe-looking lady. Wishing to be agreeable, Manning tried to say something apropos of the occasion or of Norwich and quoted, "The man in the moon came down too soon and lost his way to Norwich. The man in the south has burnt his mouth with eating of cold plum porridge." "I hate a fool," remarked the austere lady.

Automatic Aerial Camera.

A camera, capable of making aerial maps at the rate of 50 square miles per hour, is being utilized in photographing hitherto inaccessible portions of Vancouver Island. The camera is electrically driven and is automatic in its action. Once the motor is started the shutter is wound and fixed at set intervals, new film being moved into place after each exposure. The camera is equipped with a "between-the-lens" shutter which is so designed as to expose the entire section of film in 1/50th of a second and thereby eliminate distortion introduced by focal plane shutters.

Use of Coal in Great Britain.

Just when coal was first used in Great Britain does not seem to be very clear. It was, however, used by early Britons and was to some extent an article of household consumption during the Anglo-Saxon period as early as 825 A. D. There seems to be good reason to believe that Britain was the first European country in which coal was used to any extent. A coal pit at Preston, Haddington, was granted to the monks of Newbattle between 1210 and 1219 A. D., and Henry III is recorded as having given a license to dig for coal in 1231.

Asks Public Spanker for Bad Boys.

A public spanker for boys who are too young to send to jail for their misdeeds is asked by Chief of Police Dickson of Toronto, Canada. Corporal punishment is better than probation for mischievous lads, the police chief declared.

"Mother's a bit set."

"She simply wouldn't believe the truth about P and G whiteness till she tried it—but now!"

P AND G

H. Hoshii

Twenty years ago H. Hoshii, a Japanese, landed on the Pacific coast, with less than $100, and went to work as a truck gardener. He saved enough to go East and graduate. In 1901, from Columbia University, with a degree in economics. Returning to Japan, he entered the drug business and to-day is the drug king of the Island Kingdom, worth more than $3,000,000. He had just established a $1,500,000 institute in Meguro to provide free education to ambitious Japanese.

Rocks That Compose Earth's Crust.
The rocks composing the earth's crust, according to the United States geological survey, are grouped by geologists into three great classes—igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic. The igneous rocks have solidified from a molten state. Those that have solidified beneath the surface are known as intrusive rocks. Those that have flowed out over the surface are known as effusive rocks, extrusive rocks, or lavas. The term volcanic rock includes not only lavas, but bombs, pumice, tuff, volcanic ash and other fragmental material thrown out from volcanoes. Sedimentary rocks are formed by the accumulation of sediment in water (aqueous deposits or eolian deposits). The sediment may consist of rock fragments or particles of various sizes (conglomerate stone, sandstone, shale); of the remains of products of animals or plants (certain limestones and coal); of the product of chemical action or of evaporation (salt, gypsum, etc.); or of mixtures of these materials.

Bird's Clever Ruse.

All creatures, including man, know and avoid snakes, so the great crest not only takes a snake skin into the nestling hole, but usually takes care to leave a little of the end protruding. It is a very definite warning to nest disturbers. It is a bold small boy who will put his hand and arm into a hole from which a snake skin protrudes. I doubt if a chipmunk or a Jay would enter a hole under such conditions, and I like to fancy that the great-crests reasoned it all out ages ago and wisely established the custom which has since existed. Great-crested flycatchers are useful and most interesting birds. They may be attracted to the home grounds by putting out flicker-sized nesting boxes.—Winthrop Packard, Secretary Massachusetts Audubon society.

Bide Dudley and Nicknames.

Bide Dudley, author of "Bullvar Brown," says that life to the small boy is just one nickname after another. "The only person who ever calls a boy by his proper name is his mother, and she seldom does it unless she is boiling mad," declares the creator of "Bullvar." "Let her catch Pug Jones stealing cookies from the jar in the pantry and he will be William Henry Harrison Jones for the moment. The full name always lends emphasis to the box on the ear that follows it. In my case, when I slipped into the pantry and picked the icing off the cake, it was Walter Bronson Dudley—biff! At all other times I was Bide to my mother, but let her become possessed of an ambition to scold me for some boyish prank and out would come the 'Walter Bronson,' sure."—Literary Gossip.

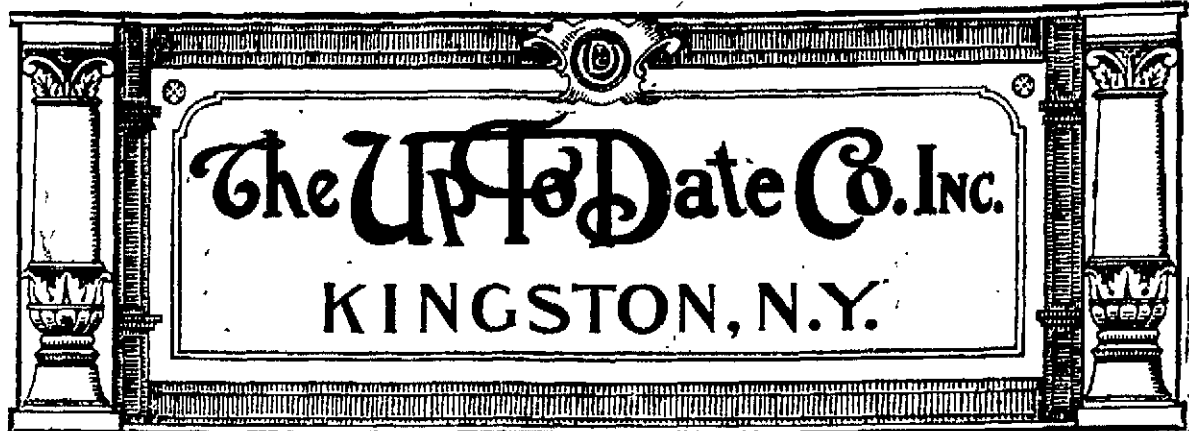

The Art of Lighting.

At a meeting of an engineering society one expert expressed the opinion that the illuminating engineer can treat a cathedral very much as a painter does, by emphasizing the lights and shadows. He has confidence in the results to be obtained by a solution of the problem of luminous paint. He described a concert hall ceiling, 125 feet square, which has been illuminated with a great variety of electric lights, modified by screens, so as to produce the effect of a vast, glowing, but harmoniously colored, oriental rug. He believes that in time there will be used twisted luminous tubes, and that means will be found better to make the atmosphere of a large room glow with the slightest visible means of illumination.

Facts for Marksmen.

A series of experiments made in France on the vibrations set up in gun barrels by the effects of firing indicates another allowance that the expert marksman should make for the individual peculiarities of his rifle. The shock of firing sets the particles of the gun barrel oscillating in elliptic curves, producing deflections of the barrel. The periods of vibration in different rifles vary between one twenty-fifth and one five-hundredth of a second, and the experiments indicate that a small-bore gun is to be preferred to one of larger caliber, because the bullet can leave its muzzle before the deflection of the barrel has become considerable.

WOOLTEX
Coats and Suits
Shown Here

PRINTZESS
Garments Sold Here
Exclusively

Exceptional Values Saturday IN NEW AUTUMN FASHIONS

NEW EXPRESSIONS OF FASHION IN AUTUMN SUITS, COATS, WRAPS AND DRESSES

SUITS

New Tailleur Suits. Bring style Messages. Tricotine, Poiret Twill, Duvetyne and Marlene.

$25.75 to $97.50

COATS

New Sport and Top Coats for Immediate Wear. English Fleeces, Scotch Mixtures and Pure Camel Hair.

$15.75 to $59.75

WRAPS AND CAPES

In Normandine, Panvelaine, Ardenna, Gerona, Veldyne and Marvella. Plain and Fur Trimmed.

$39.75 to $197.50

STREET AND AFTER-NOON DRESSES

Cantor Crepes, Satin Cantons, Crepe Romaines, Lace and Georgette Combinations and Poiret Twills.

Draped Models, Plaited Flying Panels, Beaded and Beautifully Embroidered.

$18.75 to $79.50

WOMEN'S SILK STOCKINGS

To match the Fall costume. As soon as the new suit or garment is safely chosen there is the necessity of Stockings to match. You will find the values here most alluring in variety and price.

$1.29 to $5.00

Natural Death of Trees.

In some natural pine forests where the trees grow very close together statistics show that more than 4,000 trees per acre die between the ages of ten and eighty and that only 300 out of the remainder die between the ages of eighty and one hundred. With some this natural dying proceeds faster than with others. With pine, birch, aspen and all species which demand a great deal of light, the death rate is enormous. The spruce, beech fir and, generally speaking, all species which are satisfied with less light, are not affected so seriously.

The North's Call to Trade.

Great Britain has always been to some extent a trading country. Long before the Romans came the Phoenicians (who are the same folk as the Philistines mentioned in the Bible) were sailing from Tyre and Sidon to the coast of Cornwall in order to purchase the tin that was mined there even in those days. Their chariots, their weapons, perhaps even the armor that Colah wore, were formed from bronze made with Cornish tin.

Priority of Sailing Vessel.

An ancient law of the sea held the big White Star liner Homeric at her pier for nearly an hour, the other day, after the starting signal had sounded, and the old salts of the harbor front were greatly interested and excited. A little Nova Scotia schooner, with enough lumber aboard to make several boxes of matches, had elected to save towing fees and come into the harbor under sail, writes the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star. The wind veered to an unfavorable quarter just as the schooner was off the White Star pier, and it was necessary for the little vessel to tack for 20 minutes before she could give the big vessel a clear course. Meanwhile, the Homeric, with thousands of passengers aboard and a cargo worth millions, was stuck at her moorings. The old and enduring law of the sea is that a sailing vessel moving without a tug, has the right of way at all times over any steamship.

Beggar Offered to Pay 'Cop' for Stand.

After offering to pay $5 a day for permission to beg on a street corner in Chicago, John Brooks, a professional beggar, was fined $10 and costs for vagrancy. Brooks, who is a cripple, pleaded that he was poor and unable to pay the fine.

PLANTHABER'S

SANITARY MARKET

MEAT FRESH, CLEAN AND TENDER.

KARO SYRUP, 10c can	Nature's Tonic! Had your IRON today? Sunmaid Raisins 18c pkg.	DOMINO SYRUP, 10c can
Sure Rising Buckwheat, 12c and 33c pkg	Two Pancake Flour, 12c pkg	Pillsbury's Flour, $1.20 sk
Aunt Jemima's, 2 pkgs, 25c	Hendrick Hudson Flour, $1.10 sk	Colonial Coffee, 40c lb
Sunmaid Raisins, 18c pkg	Italian Olive Oil, $1.00 qt	Plantation Coffee, 32c lb
Sweet Corn, 10c can		Bourbon Santos Coffee, 25c lb
		White Beans, 9c lb
		Babbitt's Soap, 5c cake
		Best Bulk Cocoa, 2 lbs, 25c
Best Creamery BUTTER, 42c lb	Mellow Wisconsin CHEESE, 30c lb	Curtis's Pure FRUIT JAMS, 30c jar
Cal Hams, 15c	Fresh Pork Sausage, 15c	Roast of Veal, 28c
Leg of Lamb, 38c	Cross Rib Roast of Beef, 28c	Stew Veal, 20c
Stew Lamb, 20c	Top Sirloin Roast of Beef, 32c	Leg of Pork, 28c
Liver Sausage, 15c	Frankfurters and Bologna, 20c	Roller Corned Beef, 15c

GEORGE PLANTHABER
UNION SHOP 30 EAST STRAND FREE CITY DELIVERY
TELEPHONE 1072

Unusual Values in Clothing and Gents' Furnishings

Don't Miss This Great Sale

Overcoats $10.50 and up
Blue Serge Suits $14.50
Suits of Latest Models $18.50
Blue Serge Pants, special $3.75
Working Pants $1.00 and up
Fleece Lined Underwear 69c

Large Assortment of Hats, Caps, Shirts, Overalls, Socks, Etc., at Greatly Reduced Prices.

SPECIAL BARGAINS

Boys' Suits, with 2 pair of pants, $5.50, all sizes
Sweaters 98c and up

H. Schwartz

70 NORTH FRONT STREET.
70 NORTH FRONT STREET.
OPEN EVENINGS.

All Cooks Look Alike

to the hungry man, but what a sad disappointment when the "kitchen queen" quits suddenly and the table looks anything but satisfying to a zestful appetite. When in doubt as to what to do, use The Freeman's "Help Wanted" Cent-a-Word Department.

The Inner Light.

After all, the kind of world one carries about within one's self is the important thing; the world outside takes all its grace, color and value from that.—Boston Transcript.

Degrees of Homage.

Kneeling on both knees was reserved for divine worship in the Middle Ages. Homage to the sovereign was done on one knee only.

Napoleon's Idea of Heroism.

True heroism consists in being superior to the ills of life, in whatever shape they may challenge him in combat.—Napoleon.

Not Permanent.

When the bride promises to obey she waives her right, but it isn't a permanent waiver. — Boston Transcript.

Know how it feels to get up feeling fit for the day's work!

Get rid of constipation through the use of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, and you'll be another and healthier, happier person. The action of Kellogg's Bran is natural—but it is wonderful. If you will eat at least two tablespoonfuls each day you will free yourself from constipation permanently. Chronic cases should eat as much more as necessary for results.

Get rid of constipation through the use of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, and you'll be another and healthier, happier person. The action of Kellogg's Bran is natural—but it is wonderful. If you will eat at least two tablespoonfuls each day you will free yourself from constipation permanently. Chronic cases should eat as much more as necessary for results.

If you or any one in your family or your friends suffer with constipation, Kellogg's Bran will relieve it! It is a revelation! Your physician will endorse Kellogg's Bran for constipation. We guarantee that it will prove effective in the most stubborn, persistent cases. Kellogg's Bran will also clear a plump complexion and sweeten the breath.

Kellogg's Bran can be used in many appetizing ways, besides as a cereal. Put it in raisin bread, or muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. See recipes on package.

Kellogg's Bran is especially desirable for children. Your grocer has it.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

Kellogg's Bran must not be classed with "remedies," or with pills or cathartics, which at best can give but temporary relief, at the same time aggravating the delicate conditions that already exist.

MARINE BAND HERE OCT. 29

The third concert tour the U. S. Marine Band has made since the great World War is now in progress and will bring the band to this city for one day only, on Sunday, October 29. The afternoon and evening programs will be entirely different as to selections and soloists. The soloist for the afternoon program will be Robert E. Clark, trombonist, a master of his instrument, which, in his hands, becomes capable of effects ordinarily regarded as entirely beyond its range of possibility.

For the evening program the concert soloist is Arthur S. Witcomb, whose playing recalls to the veteran students of band music, the performances of Liberati and Jules Levy. It is within the band that they have done most of their study.

Leader William H. Santelmann will direct each concert. The tour is under the supervision of the W. L. Radcliffe Enterprises, which include some of the most notable features now being presented under Chautauque auspices. The tour is limited to six weeks and it was not an easy matter to secure leave of absence for even so brief a time as this.

The concert in this city has been made possible through the interest the Rotary Club has taken in having the itinerary of the Marine Band touch this point. The programs include standard compositions from all nations, but the greatest ovations it receives are invariably extended to the superb arrangements of patriotic American melodies, and, in splendid finale, "The Star Spangled Banner."

TILLSON.

Tillson, Oct. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christiansa of Tarrytown and Everett Krom of Cold Spring called at Marcus Krom's recently.

Miss Elvira Turner and lady friend of New York city are visiting Miss Turner's father here.

Mrs. John Relyea and children of Port Ewen are spending some time with relatives in this place.

Mrs. Silas Terwilliger spent Wednesday with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fred Terwilliger.

Henry Myers, proprietor of the White Star bus line and Jesse Van Kleeck of the Ellenville and Kingston bus line with their wives are on their way to Tampa, Florida, where they will visit Jerry Van Kleeck, formerly of this place. They are traveling by auto and will camp on the way.

Mrs. D. Henry Ackert went to New Paltz Wednesday to see her brother-in-law, W. Craig, who had the misfortune to lose his right eye one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark and daughter Marion and Mr. and Mrs. Weston Clark called on friends in Walden Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Merrihue and Mrs. Marcus Krom attended the 50th anniversary of Walden Fire Department.

Joseph Hill is having an addition put on his house. Marcus Krom and Joe Osterhoudt are doing the carpenter work.

George Krom has accepted a position at Mohonk.

Wrong Slant.

A pessimist is a fellow who, when told that he should cheer up, as things are not as bad as they look, replies: "No, but they seem so."—Vaudeville News.

Dancing—Every Thursday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at the Center Hotel, Lake Katrine (Vino & Botta, proprietors (formerly Marz's Hotel))—Advertisement.

"Now that I've made the whiteness test, those ads sound as if I wrote them myself."

P AND G

For a combination of authentic style, quality tailoring, beautiful all-wool fabrics, at moderate prices, we recommend

UP-TO-DATE COMPANY

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, Oct. 5.—Miss Kate Deputy went to West Point on Sunday to see her nephew, who attends the military school.

Miss Cynthia Van Wagenen returned home on Monday, after spending a most enjoyable week-end at Mead's Mountain House, Woodstock.

Mrs. Sahler was a visitor in town on Friday past.

Mrs. Morse is soon expected to close her house and go to New York city for the winter.

The C. E. Society held a penny social in the chapel of the Reformed Church on Tuesday evening.

Prayer service was held on Wednesday evening. The subject was, "The Folly of Procrastination." Leader, E. D. Kortright.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Quick and sons, Raymond and William Quick, started Monday for Canada by auto. Mr. and Mrs. Quick have had a very busy summer as the hotel was crowded and they had to turn many guests away. So they have well earned a pleasure trip and their many friends wish them a most enjoyable time.

Miss Dumond is employed at the home of Mr. Winston of Kingston.

A load of coal has arrived in this place and more is soon expected. It is $13.75 per ton.

Mrs. Beckman has sold almost all of her chickens and wishes to sell the remainder before winter as she is intending to close her home for the winter months.

Mrs. Alsford has returned to Lake Mohonk till the close of the season.

Mrs. Silvette visited town on Saturday.

The Rev. Braithwaite made several pastoral calls on Monday. On Tuesday he went to Kingston to attend the meeting of the Classis.

The subject of the Sunday morning service was "True Life." His text was taken from Prov. 12:23: "In the way of righteousness is life." In his talk he gave conclusive proof that only in righteousness is true life.

Miss Kathryn Krom of Pleasant Valley was home the past week end. Martin Van Wagenen was in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Witsch and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Witsch of Poughkeepsie motored out one day the past week and called at the home of George Switzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker and Mrs. Charles Christiansa of Poughkeepsie motored out and called on friends in this place on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Church entertained friends the past Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Gheer spent the past week end at the home of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Deputy are moving into their new bungalow.

The Silvette family have moved into Kingston for the winter.

Arthur Williams has been painting his house. He also recently had it wired for electricity.

There will be a dance held at the Mossy Brook House every Saturday evening, commencing this week, October the seventh.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Murphy and daughter, Vera of New Jersey were guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. Chippard Quick, the past Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Felth of Peekskill are spending a few days at the home of her father, George Gheer.

Frank Gheer of Albany was home the past week end.

Julia Steen is spending a few days with friends in Connecticut.

Mrs. Homer Terwilliger and child and her mother, Mrs. George Terwilliger, are visiting relatives in this place.

The farmers of this section are doing their fall plowing.

Oscar Church had charge of the meat market on Monday. It being a Jewish holiday.

Mrs. Thomas Snyder was most agreeably surprised the past Saturday evening, when a number of her relatives gathered at her home in honor of her birthday.

Among the out of town guests were her sister, Mrs. Elma Schoonmaker and Mrs. Joette Snyder of New Paltz, and her niece, Miss Kathryn Krom of Pleasant Valley. LeRoy Krom and family and her sister, Mrs. Mary Krom and daughter, Miss Miriam Krom were also present.

A birthday supper was served and her sister from New Paltz presented her with a beautiful large birthday cake. Among the other gifts received was a beautiful bouquet of hot house roses. These adorned the church the following Sunday morning. All those present spent a most enjoyable evening and all wished Mrs. Snyder many happy birthdays.

Regal Shoes and Oxfords Summer and Winter wear Regular price, $12, $10 and $8.00 SPECIAL $4.95

S. COHEN'S SONS, 331, Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

Monday's real whiteness test [and without boiling]

Win a Prize

The "White" Contest 25 Prizes in all

1st Prize—One full box of P and G The White Naphtha Soap (100 full-size cakes)

24 other prizes of 20 cakes each.

Write a statement of not over 50 words, telling why white clothes should be washed white. The statement containing the clearest reasons, using the word "white" the greatest number of times, wins the first prize. Others in order of merit. There are 24 other prizes.

The statement must make sense. At the top of the page write plainly the number of times the word "white" appears in your statement.

Mail your answer to this newspaper, and mark the envelope: "The 'White' Contest."

Contest closes October 15th. Winners published in this paper.

Lots of fun—easy. Win a prize.

Boiling or Non-boiling

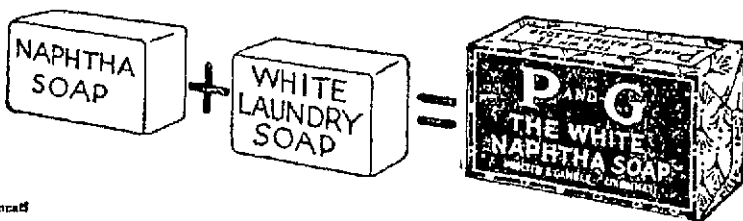

The famous whiteness test is not for the purpose of inducing you to give up boiling unless you wish. We have asked you to omit boiling next wash day simply to show you this soap's ability, even when unaided by boiling, to keep the clothes white.

P and G is as safe for colored clothes

A large part of your wash is colored and cannot be boiled. P and G will clean colored clothes thoroughly and, of course, without harm to the colors. You will find it a convenience to be able to handle the whole wash alike on Monday.

You will not wonder that Procter & Gamble have seen P and G The White Naphtha Soap grow from nothing to the largest selling laundry soap in America.

PROCTER & GAMBLE

Copyright 1922, by The Procter & Gamble Co., Cincinnati

SAFE. Leaves white clothes WHITE. Harmless to COLORS. Remarkable for dishwashing and general use

Free! Free! Free! BIG MARDI GRAS AND CARNIVAL

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF LIBERTY CLUB OF KINGSTON

ALL THIS WEEK

Opening Tonight, Closing Saturday, Oct. 7

SHOWS, RIDES AND 50 BOOTHS OF THE BETTER CLASS

At Carnival Grounds, Mutton Hollow, Just Across Viaduct

SAVE THIS COUPON, IT IS VALUABLE

VOTE FOR THE MOST POPULAR GIRL, THE MOST POPULAR MAN OR PRETTIEST BABY EVERYBODY CAN ENTER. VOTES FREE. EVERYBODY JOIN.

Fill out Coupon with name and address and deposit in box on carnival grounds nightly.

CONTEST ENDS ON FRIDAY NIGHT AT 10:30 O'CLOCK.

FIRST PRIZE TO GIRL—WRIST WATCH. FIRST PRIZE TO MAN—WATCH.

FIRST PRIZE TO BABY—RING.

MOST POPULAR GIRL

Name

Address

MOST POPULAR MAN

Name

Address

PRETTIEST BABY

Name

Address

These Coupons will appear in this paper daily all this week

Daddy's Evening
Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

STRANGE BIRDS

"I am the Peach-Faced Love Bird," said one of the birds in the zoo. And indeed he was well named. For his face was of a rosy peach color—just that color, in fact, of a luscious, delicious-looking peach.

He had green and blue feathers as his back feathers, but his face was the most exquisite color of all.

"I come from South Africa," he said, "and I am considered a very rare love bird, if not one of the rarest. That means that there aren't many of our kind."

"We're unusual—not to be seen often."

"And I'm the South African Ground Hornbill," said another yet strange bird. "I am black in color, but I have a kind of pouch—perhaps you would call it a puffed-out cravat—of a tomato-red color."

"Quite unusual it is. It is under my beak where a cravat should be, were I wearing a cravat."

"When I am in the free state I eat insects and snakes and small animals."

"You see I have a varied diet as one might say. Yes, I don't eat just one thing. I like a lot of different things to eat."

"You know my name means something. It means I like the ground, and care more for the ground than I do for the air.

"Some Can Look Wise."

"Of course, the air is around the ground, too, but I am sure you know what I mean. I like being upon the ground and I do not care about being up in the air."

"Surely that is clear."

"I," said the Concave-Casqued Hornbill, "am a cousin bird to my neighbor Ground Hornbill. I have a yellow beak and a long yellow neck, and I have black feathers with touches of buff and yellow."

"My back is certainly very long. Yes, look at it all you want to—I do not mind, in the least. While you are staring at my long beak and head, I can stare at the people with their small noses and mouths, such small ones as they have."

"The Mrs. Concave-Casqued Hornbill lay from one to two white eggs in a hollow tree. Then we plaster up the entrance with clay leaving a little wee, narrow slit through which we can feed our mates."

"The Mrs. Concave-Casqued Hornbill is imprisoned in the trees until the eggs are hatched, but that means that they will be safe and the eggs will be safe, and we make sure of feeding them."

"Anyway it is our custom. And so is it the custom of the Malayan Hornbill family. They have pink-and-buff touches—quite pretty."

"And they have black feathers and pale yellow beaks."

"I'm Cock-of-the-Rock, a nice name," said the next bird neighbor in the zoo.

"I'm from Guiana. I have a fine crown or comb upon the top of my head of orange."

"In fact, I am all orange in color."

"They say that there is hardly any bird anywhere so vivid and bright in coloring as I am."

"In fact, I don't believe they know of any bird wearing a brighter suit."

"Isn't it handsome?"

"It is so gay and so beautiful an orange color. Yes, you would notice me anywhere."

"I often open my mouth as though I were going to say something wise, and I don't say anything at all."

"I hope that people will think I'm wise by my face. You know how some can look wise, and as though they were going to say something smart and clever and bright, and yet they never do."

"Still they give the idea they're clever because they give the idea they're always going to say something so clever and people almost imagine they have said something worth hearing."

"That is the way I want to look. And I can help myself along by being so bright in color, so gay and so brilliant in plumage."

"Outside you will see Lady Amherst Pheasant. I hear she dropped a fine feather of golden and brown and that it was given to a visitor to the zoo who is prizing it highly. Well, I don't object to that."

Teddy's Regret.

Teddy—I wish I hadn't asked Jimmy Brown this morning.

Mother—You see now how wrong it is to fight, don't you, dear?

Teddy—You bet I didn't know till noon that his mother was going to give a party.

Drake's Valuable Remedy

For External Internal Use
For breaking up a Cold, Sore Throat, Neuritis and Toothache, Colds, Croup, Cholera, Malaria, Headache, External Pains and Discharges.
Price 35c per bottle
Four Druggists or Grocers.

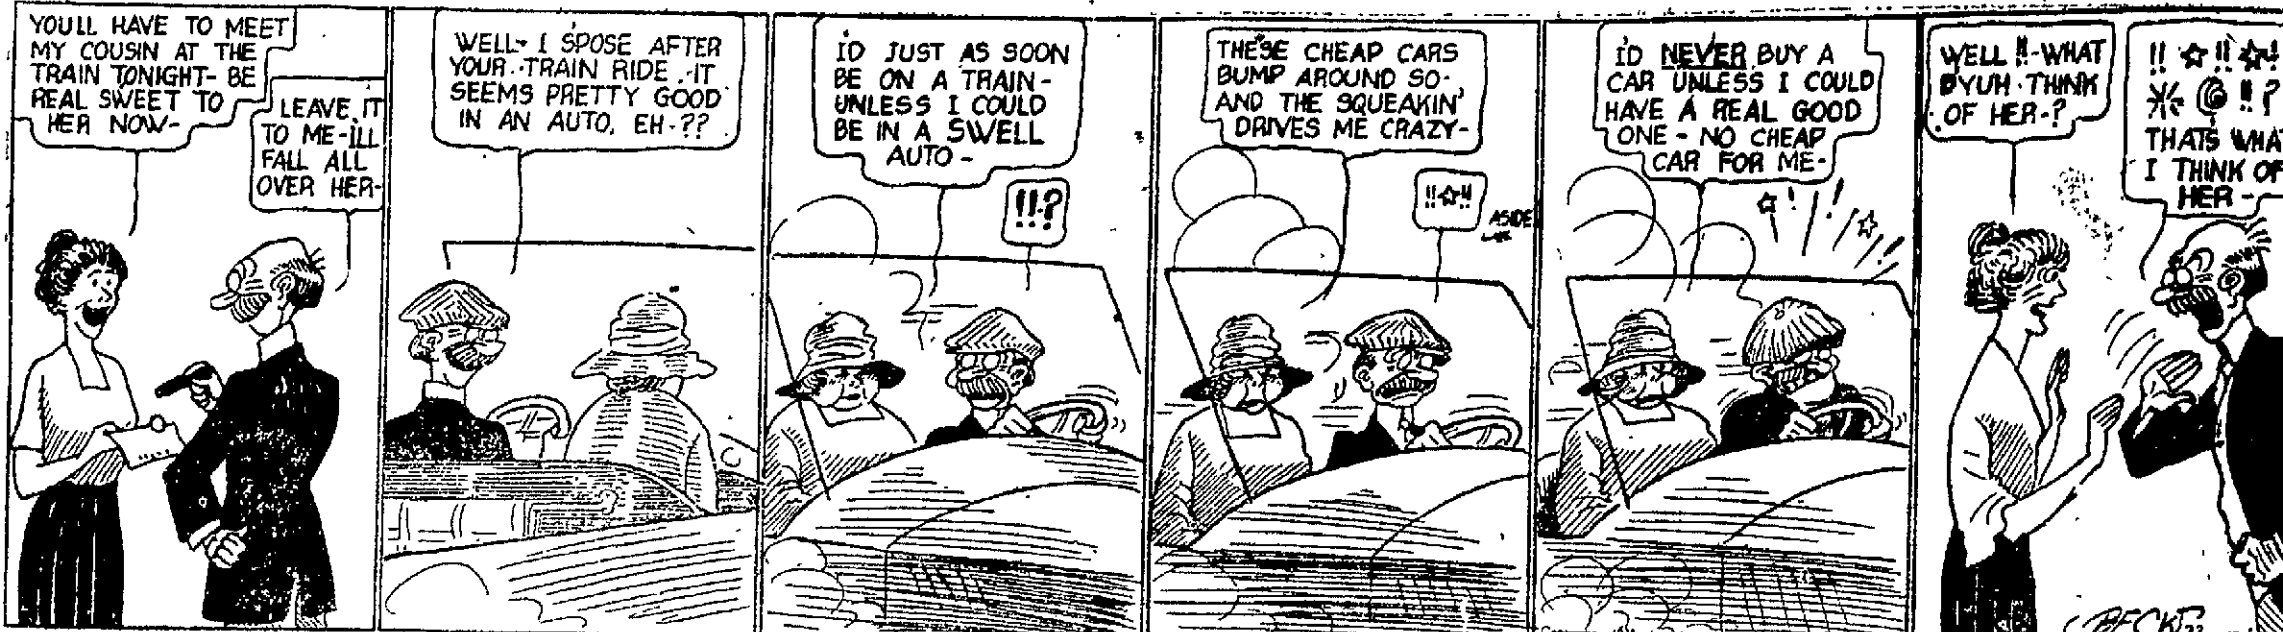

Edmond's Police and Fireman's

Shoes—Winter wear
Regular price $7.00
SPECIAL $6.00 Pair

S. COHEN'S SONS,

331 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

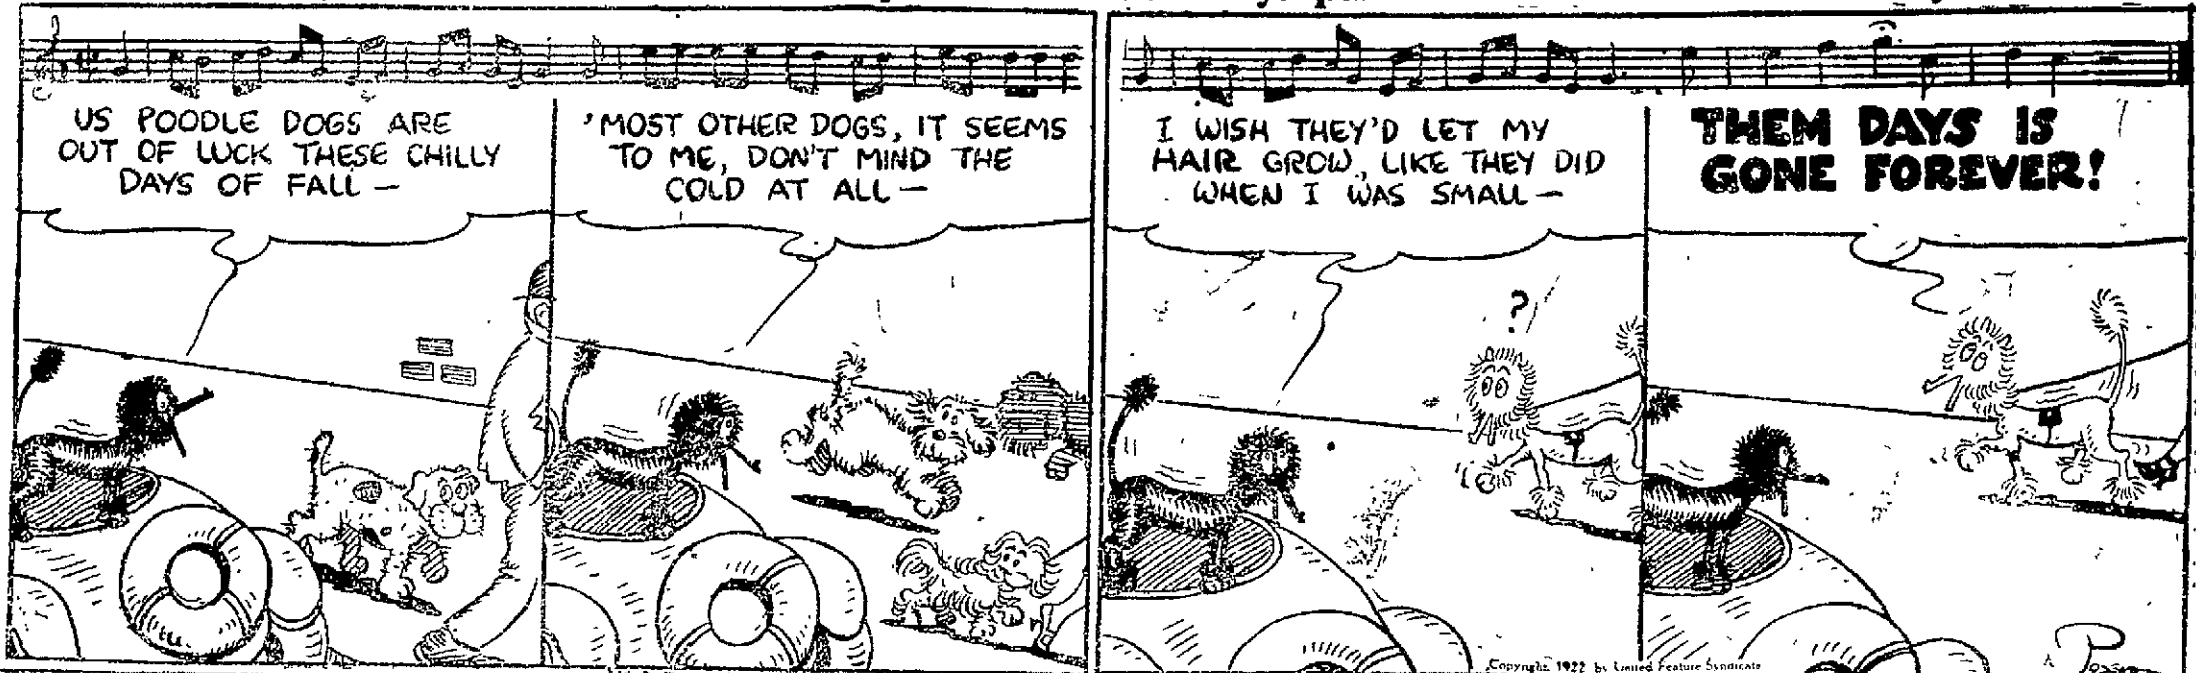

GAS BUGGIES—Never Tell an Owner What You Think

THEM DAYS IS GONE FOREVER

Try This On Your Tympani.

By Al Posen

THE KITCHEN CABINET

When we cultivate the power of focusing all our force on any single act, we are cultivating also the power of crowding out all other thoughts from one subject to another. The power to concentrate is the attribute of genius. Thus we can forget worry, grief, discouragement in happy work.

SEASONABLE PICKLES AND CONDIMENTS

In most families favorite recipes are handed down from generation to generation. Some of us like variety and would enjoy trying something which has been recommended by others.

Mustard Pickles.
To one gallon of vinegar add one-half cupful of dry mustard, one cupful of salt, two cupfuls of brown sugar. Stir until dissolved and pour over the cucumbers, cover with horseradish leaves and drop in the well-washed pickles as they are picked each day.

Mushroom Catsup.—Wipe carefully but do not wash, fresh mushrooms. Put in layers in a stone jar with salt on each layer. Cover with a cloth and let stand in a warm place twenty-four hours. Wash and strain by pressing through a sieve; to every quart of this liquor and pulp add one ounce of peppercorns and boil thirty minutes very slowly; add one-fourth ounce of whole allspice, one-half ounce of sliced ginger root, one dozen whole cloves, three blades of mace. Cook fifteen minutes, take from the fire, strain again and put into small bottles. Cork and seal with paraffin.

Tomato Soy.—Peel and chop one peck of ripe tomatoes, put over the heat with one-half cupful of whole cloves, one-half cupful of allspice, one cupful of salt, one tablespoonful of pepper, three red peppers, three onions (chopped). Cook for one hour, add one quart of cider vinegar; after straining, it is cooked mixture, reheat and bottle.

Oil Pickles.—Slice one hundred small green cucumbers unpeeled and three medium-sized onions, slice and sprinkle thick with salt and let stand over night in the morning rinse off the salt and place in jars. Cover with the following: Two quarts of vinegar, two-thirds cupfuls of mustard seed, one tablespoonful each of celery seed and ground pepper, and one cupful of good olive oil. Mix well before pouring over the pickles.

Easy to Prevent Goiter.

"Simple goiter is the easiest of all diseases to prevent," wrote Doctor Marine, the great specialist in this disease, some time ago. Iodine is known to be necessary to the normal function of the thyroid gland. Goiter is an expression of deficiency of iodine in the thyroid, and the elaborate experiments made recently by Dr. C. P. Kimball on the school children of Akron, Ohio, furnish conclusive evidence that administering a minute quantity of iodine every day acts as a preventive in such regions where goiter prevails.

Nellie Maxwell

Easy to Prevent Goiter.

"Simple goiter is the easiest of all diseases to prevent," wrote Doctor Marine, the great specialist in this disease, some time ago. Iodine is known to be necessary to the normal function of the thyroid gland. Goiter is an expression of deficiency of iodine in the thyroid, and the elaborate experiments made recently by Dr. C. P. Kimball on the school children of Akron, Ohio, furnish conclusive evidence that administering a minute quantity of iodine every day acts as a preventive in such regions where goiter prevails.

Teddy's Regret.

Teddy—I wish I hadn't asked Jimmy Brown this morning.

Mother—You see now how wrong it is to fight, don't you, dear?

Teddy—You bet I didn't know till noon that his mother was going to give a party.

Drake's Valuable Remedy

For External Internal Use
For breaking up a Cold, Sore Throat, Neuritis and Toothache, Colds, Croup, Cholera, Malaria, Headache, External Pains and Discharges.
Price 35c per bottle
Four Druggists or Grocers.

Edmond's Police and Fireman's

Shoes—Winter wear
Regular price $7.00
SPECIAL $6.00 Pair

S. COHEN'S SONS,

331 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

World's Greatest Charge Account House Welcomes
All!

24 Stores
24 Cities

SHOP WITH AN EVER-READY CHARGE
ACCOUNT AND TAKE 20 WEEKS TO PAY

You do your shopping without ready money. You pay in little weekly amounts. You can make the terms. You don't have to spend your spare cash. You need no introduction. You wear the clothes while paying for them. You get your new Fall styles at once. You pay later. WELCOME!

Full Line of Stout Sizes

Ladies' Stunning Suits Down to $24.50
Ladies' Exquisite Dresses Down to $9.75
Ladies' Elegant Coats Down to $12.50
Men's New Fall Suits Down to $20.00
Men's Ulsters & Overcoats Down to $20.00
Boys' 2-Pants Suits Down to $7.50
Boys' Warm Overcoats Down to $7.50
Girls' Smart Coats Down to $7.50

Half Million Customers in 24 Cities Are Benefiting by Our Lowered Prices

No charge account house in the world has ever equaled our lower prices nor matched our extraordinary values.

World's Best Styles

Newest, smartest, finest Fifth Avenue and Broadway styles—the cream of the fashion world—always fresh, always up to the minute, always the best to be had—for men, for women, for children. Remember, your terms are our terms. WELCOME!

OPEN MONDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

The Peoples Store
291 Wall Street

Cuticura Soap —Is Ideal for—
The Complexion

RONDOUT SAVINGS BANK
20 Ferry Street

OFFICERS:
J. GRAHAM ROSE, President.
JOHN D. SCHOONMAKER, First Vice-President.
JOHN S. THOMPSON, Second Vice-President.
DAYTON MURRAY, Secretary.
HERBERT HALL, Bookkeeper.
EDWARD J. ARBUTHNOT, Clerk.

TRUSTEES:
J. D. Schoonmaker, E. Cockendall,
J. Graham Rose, F. Stephan, Jr.,
Wesley B. Hale, W. A. Van Derveer,
Frank Cockendall, A. A. Stern,
John S. Thompson, H. H. Flemming,
Nicholas Stock.

Deposits July 1st $6,487,806 1/2
Surplus with Bonds at Par $61,211 57
Value $62,967 12
Deposits made on or before the third day of any month will draw interest from the first of the month.

A semi-annual dividend at the rate of 4 per cent per annum was declared for six months ending June 30, 1922, of all sums from $5.00 to $5,000.00.

Banking Hours, 10:00 A. M. to 3:00 P. M. Saturdays, 9:00 A. M. to 12:00 P. M. Accounts may be opened by mail. Send for full instructions.

How to Buy Radiators
Without Mistake

DUNHAM
HEATING SERVICE
HEATING troubles caused by air and water in the radiator where the steam ought to be.
The Dunham Radiator Trap removes the air and water from the pipe, but keeps all the steam in the radiator.
If your present heating system is unsatisfactory, it can be Dunhamized at moderate cost. If your radiators knock, pound, leak or do not give even, steady heat, write or call. Estimates without obligation.

L. F. BANNON
402 Broadway,
Kingston, N. Y.

TIME TABLE OF
ULSTER & DELAWARE R. R.
Effective September 24, 1922.
Eastern Standard Time.
Trains are due to leave this city as follows:
Kingston Point 12:15 p. m.
Rondout Station 12:30 p. m.; 1:30 a. m.
1:30 p. m.
Union Station 12:20 a. m.; 1:30 a. m.
1:30 p. m.
Trains are due to arrive as follows:
Union Station 11:35 a. m.; 1:30 p. m.
Rondout Station 11:55 a. m.; 1:30 p. m.
Kingston Point 12:00 p. m.
Daily. Daily except Sunday. Sunday only.

Hudson River
Day Line
Steamers "Washington Irving," "Hendrick Hudson," "Robert Fulton," Daily Including Sunday.
Down steamer leaves Kingston Point at 2:35 P. M. for Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point, (except Sundays), Bear Mountain, Yonkers and New York City, arriving at 12:15 St. 5:30 P. M. W. 424 St. 6:00 P. M.
Up steamer leaves Kingston Point at 2:15 P. M. to Catskill, Hudson and Albany, arriving at 6:30 P. M. Time table subject to change without notice.
Music. Restaurant. Luncheon.

ENDING WET-DRY
REFERENDUM HERE

National Liberal Alliance Collecting Its Ballot Boxes—Vote Already Tabulated in Large Cities Is Overwhelmingly Wet.

The voting on the wet and dry question which has been going on in this city during the past few weeks, under the auspices of the National Liberal Alliance, will be concluded within the next few days. Representatives of the Alliance have already begun to collect the ballot boxes from stores, hotels and other public places in this city and vicinity.

The votes will be counted, arranged alphabetically and presented to Congressmen as an expression of public sentiment on the wet and dry question in their districts. Later they will be added to the mass of other votes cast throughout the country and will be presented as a huge memorial to the National Congress at its session next spring.

An indication of how the sentiment is running is had from the votes already gathered and tabulated in the large cities of the state. A total of 114,124 votes have been counted. It was announced today at Syracuse headquarters of the Alliance. Of this number 404,701 are in favor of a modification in the existing law in some form that will permit the sale of light wines and beer. For strict enforcement of the present laws, 9,423 votes have been cast. These votes in the main were cast in New York City, Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Amsterdam and Syracuse. Approximately 300,000 votes were cast in New York City with a very small percentage in favor of the present Volstead Law. The votes represented in this count do not include the ballots deposited in the boxes which are now being gathered up.

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, Oct. 5.—Miss Mabel Snyder, a teacher in a New York city school and a daughter of Mrs. Asa Snyder of this village, who has been spending her summer vacation by a trip to Japan on the palatial S. S. President Grant and an eleven day trip from San Francisco going and a fourteen day trip returning going a roundabout way of an extra thousand miles to see various ports, returned to this village last Thursday. She left on Sunday to take up her former position of teaching. Miss Snyder reports a splendid trip, every day of the trip, was not seasick but found the climate exceedingly warm for a northern person. The inhabitants are mostly small but like and active, the weight of a Japanese lady being about 90 pounds, that of a man 115.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis of this village visited friends at Accord on Wednesday.

Don't forget the autumn pig roast supper in the M. E. Church hall, Cottekill on Tuesday evening, October 10, at 5:30 o'clock. At 8 o'clock an address by the Hon. H. Westlake Coons of Ellenville. A fine supper will be served for sixty cents per plate. A social evening and an occasion to see and greet former friends and acquaintances.

There are several beautiful flower gardens in this village and your correspondent is unable to say which lady really has the choicest.

The village school is in a flourishing condition under the supervision of Miss Pauline Palen, principal and Miss Helen Heiser of the primary department.

The tax list for District No. 5, Rosendale, will soon be in the hands of the collector. The amount to be raised by tax this year is much larger than last year from the fact there are two teachers employed instead of one as formerly. The district voting at the last annual school meeting in favor of employing two teachers, section No. 2 of the school house had to be repaired and put in proper condition for the second teacher, occupancy. The largest number of pupils being in the second or primary department.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Cottekill Reformed Church, on Sunday, October 8, at three o'clock. The Rev. J. B. Steketee will officiate.

Children will be received for the rite of baptism at this service, also any who may wish to unite themselves with the church.

Sunday school will be at two p. m. Everyone welcome to both services.

Mrs. J. A. Keator and children of Summitville are visiting relatives and friends in this village.

It is rumored that several families in this village will move this fall, some to other homes in this village, others to leave the village.

George Van Wagonen and family have returned to their home in this village. We extend to them a welcome.

Oscar Beach, extra operator for the N. Y. O. & W. R. Y. Co., is working at Napanoch at present.

With the number of autos in this village and vicinity, it looks as though a garage and repair shop would pay some bustling mechanic.

ACCORD.

Accord, Oct. 5.—The Country Woman's Club of the M. E. Church are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Russell Lawrence on Thursday, October 12, at 2 o'clock. Visitors are always welcome at the social meeting. The ladies are planning for a supper on Halloween night.

There will be communion at the M. E. Church Sunday morning, October 8. Service at 11 o'clock Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

"Here is another of those white-mess ads."

"I never read anything more reasonable."

P AND G

HELPED OUT MOTHER NATURE

Venetian Women Went to Some Pains to Acquire Hair of Tint Greatly Admired.

Some ungallant bookworm has dug up a scandal that Sappho was bald. There are not wanting grounds for the suspicion that Queen Elizabeth's red wig concealed a nude scalp.

As for the thrice lovely Mary Queen of Scots, she actually wore a wig when she went to have her head cut off, and she left a suspiciously large collection of wigs behind her.

The lovely and naughty Queen Margaret, wife of Henry IV, kept a train of pages with yellow hair for the replenishment of her wigs.

How much trouble the Venetian women took to acquire the reddish tints that is admired in the pictures of Titian may be judged from this account written by an Italian chronicler in 1589:

"The houses of Venice are commonly crowned with little constructions in wood, resembling a turret without a roof. At the base these lodges or boxes are formed of masonry and covered with a cement of sand and lime to protect them from the rain. It is in these that the Venetian women may be seen as often as, and indeed often than, in their chambers: it is there that, with their heads exposed to the full ardor of the sun, during whole days they strain every nerve to augment their charms."

"Seated there, they keep on wetting their hair with a sponge dipped in some elixir of youth. They wear on their heads a straw hat without a crown so that the hair, drawn through the opening, may be spread upon the borders; this hat doing double duty as a drying line for the hair and a parasol to protect the head and face."

And consider the Roman matrons who used to blonde their "crowning glory" with a mess of decomposed leeches.

The Rural Appeal.

To be out of doors is the normal condition of the natural man. At some period of our ancestral life, so dim in our thought but so potent in our temper, disposition and physique, we have all lived, so to speak, in the open air; and although city-born and city-bred we turn to the country with an instinctive feeling that we belong there. There are a few cockneys to whom the sound of Bow Bells is sweeter than the note of the bluebird, the resonant claxon of claustraleer, or the far-off bleating of sheep; but to the immense majority of men, these noises are like sounds that were familiar in childhood. I have sometimes thought that the deepest charm of the country lies in the fact that it was the home and playground of the childhood of the race, and, however long some of us have been departed from it, it stirs within us rare memories and associations which are imperishable. The lowing of the cattle coming home at nightfall; the bleating of sheep on the hillside pastures; the crowing of the cock, are older than any human speech which now exists. They were ancient sounds before our oldest histories were written. I know of nothing sweeter to the man who comes out of the heat and noise and dust of the city in mid-summer.—H. W. Mabie.

Credulochemistry.

Of all the "scientific" titbits dished up by our newspaper chefs, none enjoys more perennial popularity than the discovery of the "lost art" of hardening copper. Only lately our foremost journals were devoting columns to the World War veteran who, finding in an ashcan some leaves of an old encyclopedia dealing with an ancient metallurgist and his success in hardening copper, fell to experimenting on his own account, with the result that his process was bought by Judge Gary for $1,000,000 in cash plus 2 cents per pound royalty. A modest and retiring denial subsequently appeared. For such newspaper crookery Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering suggests the apt name of credulochemistry, while the Engineering and Mining Journal intimates that the press might vary its menu by creating unbreakable glass for milk bottles and petrified wood for construction purposes. Certainly these would prove no less digestible than copper—even hardened copper.—Scientific American.

Had Good Reason for Smile.

John E. Milligan, chief clerk of the public utilities commission, breezed into his office Monday in high spirits. A broad smile adorned his face and he went about his work with the alacrity of a man who has just inherited a fortune.

His fellow-workers began to confer with one another as to the probable cause of the chief clerk's jubilation.

"Til bet he just got a ton of coal," suggested one young statistician. "Maybe he struck a gold mine out in his Maryland farm," another said. Later in the day the truth leaked out. Milligan had become the papa of an eight-pound baby boy.—Washington Star.

True Happiness.

Re is happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home.—Goethe.

Watch for our ad
Next Week

OUR SECOND FLOOR IMPROVEMENTS

A WONDERFUL CHANGE HAS TAKEN PLACE ON OUR SECOND FLOOR.

The front of our second floor is now devoted to corsets, muslin underwear, infants' wear, waists and sweaters, while our Cloak and Suit Department now occupies the center, close by the Carl Millinery store, who has just moved from his store on the corner of Wall and North Front streets. Our elevator service to all floors is an added feature of service.

DRESSY COATS

Our coats this season as every other season show the workmanship of expert tailors. These high grade dressy coats are made from the finest imported and domestic cloths, such as Gerona, Shorie, Veldyn, Pano-llyn and Orlando Cloths, in rich colors of navy, brown, hurnane, sorento and black. Some plain tailored and draped others with rich fur trimming. Priced

$47.50 to $98.50

CHILDREN'S WINTER COATS

We would suggest you seeing our big line of Children's Winter Coats. Again we have those good warm quilted kind, made of fine Velour, Broadcloth, Poio, Marville and Chinchilla. Some plain tailored, others fur collar trimmed, sizes 2 to 16. Priced

$6.75 to $29.50

Children's Dresses

Children's Dressy Dresses in Wool Crepes, Serges and Velvets, trimmed in embroidery, applique and crepe de chine. These are very girlish dresses, in popular browns, henna, navy and copen. Sizes 8 to 16. Priced

$8.75 to $29.50

CHILDREN'S REGULATION DRESSES

Children's Wool Regulation Dresses of fine French Serge, trimmed with braid and emblems of gold and white. Sizes 4 to 14. Priced

$7.50 to $11.50

WOMEN'S SPORT COATS

Mannish Sport Coats are very popular this fall season. Not only because of their popularity are they desirable, but because they are warm and durable. The Kenyon make and other high grade garments are here for your choosing. Some semi-lined, others plaid back. Some made of boucle, others of heavy plain coatings.

Only all wool garments appear on our racks, thus assuring you of service and best wearing qualities. Prices are normal for these fine high grade garments. Priced

$25.00 to $47.50

Fine Philippine Underwear

"Oh! what a wonderful collection of the finest hand made Philippine Underwear is being shown by The Wonderly Co." You must see these beautiful garments to appreciate the fine hand work of dainty embroidery and filet and Irish lace, with which these garments are trimmed. Only new this week. They come in gowns and chemise. Made of fine nainsook. Priced

$3.50 to $12.50

CARL MILLINERY—Second Floor

New Hats, reflecting the latest developments of the fashion centers, are regularly replenishing our stock.

Unusual Extensive Showing of Sport Models

$1.97 up to $12.00

MISS L. SCHOONMAKER, Manager.

We would be pleased to have you call at our Shop frequently to keep in touch with authentic interpretations of the changing styles.

School Hats and Hats for the Young Miss

$1.50 to $4.97

Rugs, Draperies, Blankets—3rd Floor—Elevator Service

A Wonderful Transformation has taken place on our third floor—from a store room of empty boxes to a beautiful selling floor for Draperies, Rugs, Art Goods, Window Shades, Blankets and Comfortables.

The floor is light and airy, equipped with the latest lighting system and connected with an entirely new elevator service. Every customer has congratulated us on these big improvements. Come in and walk around. We want you to feel at home as these improvements are only a new added feature of Service for our increasing patronage.

RUGS—Third Floor

We are just completing our new Rug Department and are showing the newest designs in Tapestry, Axminster and Velvet Rugs. The color combinations are rich, in neat and bold effects. The velvets are all fringed, making them most desirable for living rooms, dining rooms and libraries.

These prices we are quoting are all special on the quantity we now have in stock. As these rugs were purchased very early in the season, and in order to advertise our Rug Department we are quoting prices under today's market value. We would suggest that you come and see these rugs before you make your purchase elsewhere.

We are carrying the best the market affords, as we do in every other line in our store. Prices are as follows:

Tapestry Rugs, 9x12. Priced$23.50
Axminster Rugs, 9x12. Priced$42.50
Colonial Velvet Rugs, 9x12. Priced$59.50
Wilton Velvet Rugs, 9x12. Priced$85.00

DRAPERIES—Third Floor.

We have been complimented very highly on our new line of draperies, opening up our third floor with the latest and most desirable fall designs in cretonnes, Terry cloth, reps, taffetas, silk wraps and tapestries. We are prepared to furnish you estimates on Valances and Curtains for bedrooms, living rooms and libraries.

The latest novelties and most wonderful collection of curtains shown in Kingston are here for your inspection. Every pattern is entirely new.

Cretonnes 39c to $1.25 yd.
Reps 75c to $1.25 yd.
Taffetas 85c to $1.25 yd.
Silk Warp Prints $3.75 yd.
Tapestries $7.00 and $8.00 yd.

CRESTWOOD RUGS

These are for bed and bath rooms. In five beautiful light shades, sizes 27x54 and 36x72, colors blue, rose, gold, grey and helio.

Priced, 27x54 $2.69 each
Priced, 36x72 $3.89 each

Coatings

Fine plaid back and plain coatings. The season's newest materials for coats. Comes 50 to 54 inches wide in grey, brown and a line of mixtures. Priced yard

$3.50 to $5.50

DRESS GOODS OFFERINGS

POIRET TWILLS, 42 inches wide, a fine twill wool material suitable for dresses, rich in lustre and most serviceable for wear. Priced, yd. $2.50

TRICOTINE, 50 inches wide. This is a heavier material than the poiret twill, but of excellent wearing quality. Comes in colors and black. Yd. $3.00

WOOL CREPE, 42 inches wide, similar to eponge, fine for dresses, either for children or grown ups, all wool. Priced yd. $2.00

"I've always said that some body would make a soap like this."

P AND G

ORPHEUM THEATRE TODAY 4 GREAT ACTS 4 VAUDEVILLE 4 TODAY'S FEATURE

In His Latest Paramount
Star Picture
Int. News.
Orpheum Orchestra

Mat., 2:30 30c
Eve., 7-9 ... 30c-35c

COMING ALL NEXT WEEK
THE SHOW OF WONDERS

EDDIE COLLINS Musical Stock Revue

A Company of Beauty, Youth, Talent, Mirth, Melody and Pretty Girls.

Monday—"Grumpy."
Tuesday—"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway"
Wednesday—"What Happened to Jones."
Thursday—"The Divorce Question."
Friday—"Niobe."
Saturday—"Other People's Money."

MONDAY and TUESDAY
The Latest PARAMOUNT Picture
GLORIA SWANSON in "HER GILDED CAGE"

Matinee, 2:30 30c
Evening, 7-9 30c-40c

SLASHING REDUCTION

WILLYS-KNIGHT and OVERLAND CARS

Biggest Value at New Prices, in America.

WILLYS-KNIGHT, 7 pass. Touring $1,560.00
WILLYS-KNIGHT, 7 pass. Sedan $2,365.00
WILLYS-KNIGHT, 5 pass. Sedan $2,110.00
WILLYS-KNIGHT, 5 pass. Touring $1,350.00
OVERLAND, 5 pass. Touring $595.00
OVERLAND, Roadster $595.00
OVERLAND, 5 pass. Sedan $975.00
OVERLAND, Coupe $895.00

F. O. B., Kingston.

GEO. J. SCHRYVER MOTOR CAR COMPANY

71-73 NORTH FRONT ST. TELEPHONE 211.

HAVE YOU A HOME?

Then insure it! A home is a simple problem, but an expert can serve by helping you to properly protect it.

Investigate—Then Insure
This agency is local headquarters for the free Fire Prevention Service of a reliable Fire Insurance Company, and writes safe insurance.

PARDEE'S Insurance Agency

No. 6 Broadway (Upstairs).

Kingston, N. Y.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. George F. Kaufman, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Patrick F. Nugent, late of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, deceased, intestate, to present the same with the vouchers in support thereof, to the undersigned, James J. Nugent, the Administrator of the estate of said deceased, at the office of Chris. A. Murray, 32 East Street, in the said City of Kingston, on or before the 10th day of October, 1922.
Dated April 4th, 1922.
JAMES J. NUGENT, Administrator

Edmond's Foot Fitter
Winter Shoes and Oxfords
Regular price $7.00.
SPECIAL $6.00 pair
S. COHEN'S SONS,
331 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

COLUMNS DECAY BUT BEAUTY OF POSTPILE GROWS

Phenomenon of Far West is Seldom Visited.

INTERESTS FOREIGN SCIENCE

This Marvel, Which Thus Far Has Attracted So Little Interest, Is But Few Hundred Miles From Los Angeles—Located in the Heart of Hearts of the Stupendous Sierra Nevada—Likely to Hold Out for Another Thousand Centuries.

The Devil's Postpile, natural wonder and national monument, is crumbling. Mysteriously wrought in the cosmic crucible, possibly when our planet's foundations were laid, it gradually is succumbing to the onslaughts of elemental forces. But let not this startling statement occasion immediate alarm or regret, for here's a comforting paradox. The basaltic marvel of the California wilds improves as its destruction progresses! And as it likely will hold out for another thousand centuries there remains time to go and look it over.

Disintegrating agencies under the masonry of the remarkable structure, and frost, earthquake, tempest and thunderbolt rend, topple and shatter its adamantine supports, but always the newly exposed columns stand forth stronger and more perfect of form, more brilliant in their pristine glory. So huge is the mass, says John L. Von Blon in Dearborn Independent, that it must endure for ages before demolition shall be complete. Fortunately, it affects only the outermost segments, hence a year discloses but slight change.

Devil's Postpile.

Do you know where the Devil's Postpile is? Have you ever heard of it? Though set apart by the President a decade ago, authoritatively recognized as the best example extant of its peculiar type of columnar basalt, and readily accessible in summer, it remains virtually unseen and unknown. Not more than one out of every 10,000 Americans has beheld it or could tell its location, while foreign governments and institutions send their scientists to study the splendid tower of long, dark, glistening prisms in all its fascinating aspects. This phenomenon, which thus far has attracted so little interest among our own people, is but a few hundred miles from Los Angeles, an easy drive of a day or so northward along the eastern base of continental America's loftiest mountains—a trip of varied picturesque and rare charm. From San Francisco the distance is about the same via the Yosemite valley—also a route of grandeur. The nearest highway is the transcontinental National Roosevelt Midland trail, almost direct from Montank Point, Long Island, to the "postpile" and the Golden State's major cities. Two or three hours by trail, afoot or in the saddle, will take you from a resort called Mammoth to the weird, enchanted precincts of his satanic majesty's reputed post-setting or pile-driving operations. The spectacle is astonishing and inspires awe.

In the heart of hearts of the stupendous Sierra Nevada, surrounded by scores of white-robed peaks two and a half miles in the sky, residual glaciers, gorgeous lakes, dreamy meadows, boiling springs, and ice-chilled, dashing brooks, the Devil's Postpile occupies the center of a region of magnificent scenery, more beautiful than the imagination can conceive or mere words describe. It seems a grim sentinel holding watch over the middle fork of the San Joaquin river, which noisily rushes by within a hundred yards. The curiously attractive and impressive prodigy is set at an elevation of 7,500 feet above sea level and is itself a pygmy as compared with the titanic heights all about. Nevertheless, even a prosaic visitor would give heed to naught else the first day or two. The one object enthralled.

Formation of the Wonder.

The "pile" is a mile long, half as wide, and 400 feet high. The odd formation, whence its appellation is derived, is not everywhere in evidence, cropping out only in certain places. The most striking columns constitute more than 1,000 feet of its western face. They rise more than 100 feet above the talus—a vast heap of broken "posts" accumulated through the never-ceasing battering of the cliff by nature's processes. Ultimately all will be leveled in this agglomeration. How far downward they extend man knows not; it may be that they go far beyond the heat-radiating center of the ball comprising our tiny share of the universe, but probably they pinch out close to the surface. The geological experts gladly would pay a liberal admittance fee for a peep under.

The columns in this amazing bluff are arranged in rows as regularly as the pipes of a cathedral organ. At most perfect prisms, they are fitted together like cells in a honeycomb,

"I'll never again say one soap's as good as another."

P AND G

each placed with the nicest care of true artistry, and really look as if carved by human hands. The ends above were polished to a gloss by grinding glacial motion, and may be compared with a parquetry floor. The mosaic effect is startling.

These columns range from 14 inches to more than three feet in diameter. Most of them are pentagonal, whereas elsewhere, as in the Giant's Causeway, the general shape is hexagonal. The Devil's Postpile affords strange deviation in this respect, some of its immense columns being eight-sided, many seven-sided, and the remainder hexagonal. In one extensive section they are straight as saved timbers and perpendicular. In another they lean and are gracefully curved en masse and the individual prisms twisted and fluted in the making or the cooling as sticks of pliable candy might be shaped. At one point they have the wavy appearance of flowing water. At the southern upper end they project almost horizontally and resemble gigantic railroad ties or evenly corded wood on a hillside. All the columns sparkle like precious stones in the glare of the mountain sun and the sight is bewildering. They are black in the main, but colorful withal, some in varying shades of green, blue and gray, a few white as alabaster.

For many years the handsomest of all the columns, tall and symmetrically tapered, was separated from the body and stood upright and alone, a proud, stalwart symbol of independence, but it is there no more. During my last visit to the postpile it was struck by lightning and fell with a reverberating crash, seared from end to end. Happily, it was broken into few sections.

Center of Electrical Storms.

It would be difficult to find a locality where more sudden and violent electrical storms come booming up. At midday, while the sun shone brightly, a small cumulo-nimbus cloud floated over the range from the west and in less than as many minutes three blue-white streaks darted earthward, and each shivered a tree. The fourth and final bolt, with a peal that made the mountains themselves tremble, took a column. No rain drops pattered scarcely a shadow appeared on the grand landscape. The lavatic formation, which has the metallic ring of iron and somewhat its hardness, may tend to draw electricity. At that altitude, eternally shut in by tremendous granite ramparts, the summer lightning season is brief, the winter long and rigorous.

During the warm months the region is fragrant paradise of bloom and bird-song, a melody of sweetest melody. The whole is a forest of pine, tamarack, fir and other sturdy trees, which cover even the postpile where the basalt is not actually bare. Wild flowers carpet the meadows and shaded places and sway breast high in the balmy air—thousands upon thousands of kinds, many of which grow here only. Few are more interesting than the squaw's carpet or mahala mat, a rich evergreen trailer that literally covers the ground with its foliage and feathery clusters of violet blossoms and later bears odd scarlet fruit. The botanist who does not go to the high Sierras misses more than he ever can realize.

At the very upper edge of the crumbling cliff, where a "cornice" has formed, their roots fastened in the columnar jointing, a number of gnarled, torn, dwarfed cedars are hanging for dear life, even as dying humans cling to hope, the while their precarious support is tumbling away. This carries with it sufficient soil and pumice to afford a foothold in the talus below for lustrous quaking aspens, which spring up rapidly and shine as the breezes stir their leaves. A meadowweet locally known as "postpile tea" and used by knowing mountaineers to make a palatable, refreshing beverage, also thrives amid the wreckage of the scintillating pillars. Above, where moisture comes from the lines of cleavage, delicate rock ferns and dainty mosses give a touch of softness to relieve the harsh glister of unyielding surfaces.

Where Trails Meet.

The Devil's Postpile is at the junction of important trails leading afar in various directions. Close by, the government has a log cabin that sometimes shelters storm-bound tourists. At times it is occupied by trappers, who bring out thousands of dollars' worth of furs. Big game and wild life abound.

Down stream two miles, and a part of the national monument, is Rainbow Fall, a gem unique and worthy of its name in that it literally is the birthplace of rainbows. The San Joaquin flings itself like a delicate curtain of lace and silver more than 100 feet over a ledge of black basalt—a continuation of the postpile, though without the columns—into an abyssal box canyon. When the sun's rays reach into the fairy box, rainbows arch the mists that flood the chasm—rainbows so clear that color photographs register them distinctly. The setting of this fall, in the bosom of the virgin forest and between exalted heights, is a masterpiece of nature, exquisite, sublime. There is not another elsewhere to match it. The picture lives in memory without fading as time robs across it.

Old Newspapers.

Old newspapers are the best medium for cleaning a greasy stove.

"I'm going to try that soap next Monday."

P AND G

S. COHEN'S SONS

Clothiers
KINGSTON, NEW YORK

DOLL OVERALL FREE!

MR. F. J. SCHEFFEL OF THE H. D. LEE MERCANTILE COMPANY FACTORY WILL PRESENT TO EVERY LITTLE GIRL A PAIR OF LEE DOLL-OVERALLS THAT WILL CALL AT OUR STORE WITH HER DADDY TO SEE

Lee Overalls Demonstrated Saturday, October 7th, 1922

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY TO GET THESE DOLL OVERALLS YOUR LITTLE GIRL WILL BE GIVEN THESE OVERALLS IF SHE WILL JUST BRING HER DADDY TO SEE MR. SCHEFFEL.

LEE OVERALLS ARE A NEW PRODUCT OF THIS COMPANY THAT IS BECOMING MORE POPULAR EVERY DAY—LET MR. SCHEFFEL SHOW YOU HOW GOOD THEY ARE.

Window Demonstration

Saturday

October 7th, 1922

Mr. Scheffel Demonstrates the merits of

LEE OVERALLS

IN OUR WINDOW

Don't Fail to see him demonstrate Saturday, Oct. 7th, 1922.

Special This Coming

Saturday

LEE OVERALLS

Good heavyweight denim,
Triple stitched seams, special reinforcements.

Saturday all day

$1.85

These Overalls Are Manufactured By The Originators of the Famous

"Lee Unionall"

ISIDORE SHATTAN

The Store of Good Values

Men's High Grade Suits or Overcoats at $20.00

Young Men's and Men's Suits of good quality material at $12.50

Boys' Wool Suits, 2 pair pants $6.49

Boys' Heavy Corduroy Suits, 2 pair pants $6.49

Men's Heavy Wool Sweaters, from $3.50 to $6.00

Boys' Sweaters from $1.00 to $3.50

Winter Underwear at Low Prices.

Suits and Overcoats and Uniforms Made to Measure

SPECIALS IN SHOES

Men's Dress Shoes at $2.98

Men's Dress Oxfords at $3.50

Men's Army Shoes at $3.75

Men's High Top Shoes, 17 inches at $6.50

Boys' or Girls' Dress Shoes at $1.98

Boys' High Top Shoes at $1.98

Women's Shoes or Oxfords at $2.98

The above prices are really wonderful values.

Do not fail to get them.

ISIDORE SHATTAN

42 N. FRONT ST.

OPEN EVENINGS.

1872

1872

Having Been in Business 50 Years

I will have Anniversary Sales on all Building Materials and Picture Frames, Doors, Sash, Blinds, Moldings, Porch Newels, Posts and Balusters, Auto Wind Shields, Cab Glass Window and Plate Glass.

ALBERT MAUTERSTOCK

113 Broadway.

1922

1922

FREEMAN WANT ADS. BRING RESULTS

Used Cars for Sale

Hupp Touring, 21...$850
Hupp Touring, 20...$700
Hupp Roadster, 19...$475
Olds Touring, 15...$350
Olds Touring, 17...$350
Olds Truck, 1 ton...$800
Maxwell Touring, 21...$400
Maxwell Touring, 17...$200
Maxwell Touring, 15...$100
Maxwell Touring, 22...$750
Dodge Touring, 16...$300
Dodge Suburban...$675
Oakland Touring, 17...$300
Pierce Touring...$450
Ford Touring...$175
Ford Touring, 17...$125
Ford Coupe...$200

EASY TERMS.
TRADES CONSIDERED.

Stuyvesant Garage

250 Clinton Ave., Kingston.
Open Evenings.
Phone 1176.

ENTERTAINMENT AND BALL!

Thursday, Oct. 12, 1922

—At—

STATE ARMORY

Under the Auspices of Cristoforo Colombo
Societa Di Beneficenza
TWO ORCHESTRAS FOR DANCING.

Tickets, One Dollar

Entertainment Under Personal Direction of Al King.

SUPREME COURT, ULSTER COUNTY.—In the Matter of the Application of UNITED BUTTON COMPANY, a corporation for voluntary dissolution. PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that a general meeting of the creditors of the above named corporation, UNITED BUTTON COMPANY, will be held at the office of Messrs. Latimer & Tamblin, No. 66 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, on the 16th day of October, 1922, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon of that day at which said meeting the accounts and demands for and against such corporation, and all its open and subsisting contracts shall be ascertained and adjusted as far as may be, and the amount of money in the hands of the receivers declared.
Dated August 29th, 1922.
WILLIAM A. PORTER,
EDWIN S. SCHENCK,
FRANK P. TENNEY,
HENRY E. BOWMAN,
Partners: Receivers.

Two Months Added to Ditch-Blasting Season!

Now that du Pont Straight Dynamite has been made low freezing, you can blast ditches to drain land when the weather is as cold as 10 degrees above zero.

Take advantage of the extended blasting season to use to drain swamp land and turn it into acres yielding bigger crops and larger profits.

DU PONT STRAIGHT DYNAMITE

Du Pont Straight Dynamite is sensitive enough to explode by the propagation method—making it the best and cheapest explosive for use in wet soil ditching.

Come in and let us give you more information about du Pont dynamites for ditching and land-clearing work.

L. S. WINNE & CO.

328 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

DU PONT

DYNAMITE

for DITCHING - STUMPING - TREE PLANTING

To the Woman Who Demands the Utmost in Flour Quality

Every sack of Occident Flour is sold under an absolute "Money-back" guarantee.

It is a guarantee of better bread on your table, no matter how good your baking is now.

You be the judge. If you are not entirely satisfied that Occident-made bread is whiter, lighter and better tasting than any other, the full purchase price of the flour will be refunded without argument.

OCCIDENT
The Guaranteed Flour

Not only better bread—but better cakes and pastries too. Order a sack of Occident today

Wolven & Ebel

Kingston, New York, Distributors.

Costs More

Worth It!

Max Abel's 133 Hasbrouck Avenue

SPECIAL SALE ON DUTCHESS COUNTY PORK.

Legs Pork, trimmed, without hockey.....27c

Whole Legs Pork.....22c Small Shoulder Pork.....16c

Pork Chops.....22c Salt Belly Pork.....24c

Pork Sausage Meat.....22c Fresh Belly Pork.....24c

PRIME WESTERN BEEF.

Rib Roast.....24-28c Chuck Roast.....26c

Stew Beef.....12c Hamburg Steak.....22c

Legs Lamb.....38c Breast Veal.....24c

Legs Veal.....28c Stew Lamb.....20c

Flat Spareribs..... Home Made Liverwurst, 18c

Skinback Hams.....27c Thompson's Hams.....28c

Cali Hams.....15c Bacon, by strip.....28c

Armour's Star Hams.....27c

Fresh Killed Fowls, Roasting Chickens, Broilers.

NEW BARREL SAUERKRAUT.

Telephone 659. Free Delivery.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Pulls a Bonehead.

"Teacher pulled something on me that made me mighty sore."
"What was it?"
"My ear."

A household budget does just one thing: It convinces a man he must increase his income

Flapper's Prayer "Lead us not into temptation, but tell us where it is and we'll find it Amen."

The Gude Samaritan.
Old Scot—Dinna cry, ma wee lad! If ye dinna find yer penny afore dark, here's a match!

Hickory, Dickory, Dock.
The mouse ran up the clock.
But down it ran when she screamed—
"Twas shocking,
For you see the clock—
"Twas on her stocking.

Left It Outside.
"Now, this big fish—"
"Yes?"
"Why did you let him get away?"
"We really didn't have room for him in the boat."

The liberal minded man is willing to keep half the Ten Commandments and let his wife keep the other half.

When driving out on the roads at night, and even in the city, a careful driver often has to stop and wait until some dumbbell with glaring lights, often about six of them, goes by.

Sister—Has the baby had the measles yet?
Mr. Newdard—Don't speak so loud whenever he hears anything mentioned he hasn't got he cries until he gets it.

About the only thing the modern robber won't take is medicine.

Now they have a "better speech" week on schedule. How about a "less speech" week?

Style makers say the short skirt is on its last legs.

After the hardest day at the office the ordinary man needs only thirty minutes at home to brag himself into a good humor.

The meanest man of today may not hold the record long.

No Call to Kick.
"A man ain't got no right kicken' against luck," says Charcoal. Epa, when all he got t' do is spit on he hands an' say Sir t' de gang boss."

The girl question is "has he got a car?"

ALLIGERVILLE
Alligerville, Oct. 5—Mrs. Martha Harnden, who died in Brooklyn and was buried in Montrose Cemetery, Kingston, Monday was born in this village and spent the greater part of her life here. She was 87 years old at her death.

George Young is building a large chicken house. It looks as if George expected to do some business in eggs. Claude Decker and wife, little son and mother went to Haines Falls, Thursday to spend the winter. Claude has employment there.

The Knights of Pythias will hold their next session next Tuesday night, in their new hall. They expect to move Friday.

There was a good attendance of the Ladies Aid at Mrs. Young's Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Emma Harnden and Mrs. Steen spent Tuesday in Miss Harnden's home.

Mrs. C. H. Glaire left Thursday for her home in Saginaw, Mich.

Floyd Garrison and family of Ellenville spent Sunday with George Garrison and wife.

Burdens Never Too Great.

We never have more than we can bear. The present hour we are always able to endure.—H. E. Manning.

F&D CIGARS
HANDMADE
FULL HAVANA FILLED

J. P. Smith Shoes and Oxfords
Winter Wear
Regular price $10.00 and $8.00
SPECIAL $7.50 and $7.00

S. COHEN'S SONS,
331 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

St. Remy, Oct. 5.—Harry Krom and family were at Palenville on Sunday.

There will be Sunday school at the usual hour, 1 p. m., Oct. 8. Owing to a misstatement only a few were present last Sunday.

Lewis E. Snyder's house has been fumigated and the quarantine card removed from the door.

P AND G

She: "Those people know what white clothes mean to a woman. I'll just try that soap."

HOTEL ASTOR
COFFEE
2 lbs.

75c

ARMOUR'S STAR
Hams

lb. 28c

THOMPSON'S REG.
Hams

lb. 28c

CALIFORNIA
Hams

lb. 18c

Mueller's Macaroni
SPAGHETTI

Regular 15c
pkg. 11c

FANCY WHITE
Potatoes
pk. 30c

73 ROSE'S 73
Franklin Street
Friday & Saturday Specials
Tel. Calls 1124-1125
Street

SWEET
Potatoes
pk. 35c

TETLEY'S O. P. TEA,
Regular 50c size

39c

TETLEY CEYLON TEA,
Regular 45c size

35c

Bacon by strip.....32c
Roasting Pork.....30c
Pork Chops.....30-32c
Belly Pork.....22c
Fresh Shoulder.....20c

Leg Pork, whole, lb.....25c
Roast Pork Leg, lb.....30c
Hamburg Steak.....20c
Pot Roast Beef.....28c
Stew Beef, lb.....25c

Plate Beef, lb.....12c
Smoke Tenderloin, lb.....40c
Franks & Bologna, lb.....25c
Salt Pork Lean, lb.....25c
Home Made Sausage, lb.....28c

Home Dressed Fowls.....42c
Home Dressed Roast Chickens.....45c
Roasting Veal.....35c
Stewing Veal.....25-28c

Delmonte Peaches
Large can 29c
Doz. $3.25

Standard Tomatoes
Large can 15c
Doz. $1.65

Early June Peas
Can 15c
Doz. $1.60

Caywood Telephone
Peas, can 18c
Doz. $1.90

Imp. Norwegian
Sardines in Olive Oil
2 cans 25c

Imp. Safety Matches, doz. 10c; 3 doz. 25c

Crookshanks Sweet Relish.....15c

Pure Maple Syrup, gallon.....$2.10

Kipperd Herring, 1 lb. tins.....15c

Palm Olive Soap, 2 for.....15c

Jelly, Glass Jars, 10c; 3 for.....25c

PLYMOUTH BACON, lb......20c

Grape Fruit, 5 for.....25c
Oranges, doz.....60c
Bananas, dozen.....35c
Lemons, doz.....35c
Pears, 2 quarts.....15c
Citron, 2 and 3 for.....25c
Hubbard or Mar. Squash, lb. 3c
Spanish Onions.....5c
Cranberries, qt.....15c

N. B. C. Specials

POUND CAKE, CITRON, RAISIN, PLAIN, MARBLE, 27c

MOLASSES FRUIT, lb. 27c

ANOLAS, RAMONAS, LOTAS, NABISCOS, HARLE- 25c

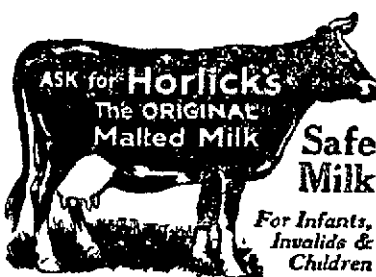

QUINS, 3 for 25c

Cabbage, head.....8-10c
Lettuce, head.....8-10c
Cauliflower, head.....18-20c
Red Peppers, doz.....20c
Green Peppers, doz.....15c
Beets, bunch.....5c
Carrots & Turnips, 3 lbs. 10c
Red, White or Yellow Onions, lb. 5c

He: "That must be interesting, I've spoken twice."

She: "It is. I am reading about this 'whiteness test.'"

P AND G

ASK for Horlick's
The ORIGINAL Malted Milk
Safe Milk
For Infants, Invalids & Children

The Original Food-Drink for All Ages. Quick Lunch at Home, Office & Fountains. Rich Milk, Malted Grain Extract in Powder & Tablet Forms. Nourishing—No cooking.

Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

HIGH WOODS

High Woods, Oct. 5—Aunt Polly Short spent last week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lenev Burrell.

Mrs. Almira Sheeley of Saugerties visited at her brother's, Wilbur Lowe, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Longendyke of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Carle have returned from their trip to the Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Winfield R. Snyder is visiting her relatives in Brooklyn and Jersey City.

Wilson Canner, who has been occupying Will Van Aken's house, has gone to Kingston for the winter months. George Wintaker has rented the house vacated.

Mrs. Alex Feltner and Miss Edna Kjersted spent a day last week in Bearsville with Mrs. Irving Lasher.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson DuBois and daughters, Edith and Millie, were week end guests of his cousin, Mrs. C. Vredenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson W. Snyder of Kingston spent the week end with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson W. Snyder of Kingston, Lewis E. and Dora A. Snyder of this place were fishing to Cooper's Lake Saturday and were very successful in catching fish.

Fred Short of Pine Grove has moved into part of Anna M. Wolven's house.

The Working Workers will hold monthly meeting October 11, in the church hall.

Robert Denhardt of New York spent a few days with his wife and her mother at their cottage here.

The family who has occupied the Kenyon and McGowan bungalow for the summer months, went home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Longendyke and son, Stanley, of Saugerties were guests of his sister, Mrs. S. V. York, Sunday.

There will be Sunday school at the usual hour, 1 p. m., Oct. 8. Owing to a misstatement only a few were present last Sunday.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Oct. 5.—Harry Krom and family were at Palenville on Sunday.

TRY THING'S SHOES

MEN!

READY NOW—The New Fall Numbers Full of Snap and Dash—

Big Lot Men's Dress Shoes

$3⁹⁸

AND THEY'RE ALL BRAND NEW

YOU'LL LIKE THIS LOT TOO—

$4⁹⁸ Our "Majestic" Line For Men—

Snappy young men's styles and others for older men—Buy Now—

10 Good Styles To Pick From

GOODS EXCHANGED

MONEY REFUNDED

HEAD OF WALL ST.

Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sharts rode their bicycles to New Paltz and return on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeWitt and Mr. and Mrs. McElheny and children of Fort Reading were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Freer on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shults of Modena, with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Taylor of Port Ewen, called on Mrs. K. Sutton on Monday.

The ladies of the church will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry Ellsworth on Thursday, October 12, to make garments for the fair. Come at 9 a. m. and spend the day and bring lunch.

Mrs. Mary Van Aken of Port Ewen was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Freer last week.

Miss Hilda Frost entertained her Sunday school class last Saturday afternoon.

Miss K. Sauer of Eddyville and Mrs. Jacob Frost were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Freer on Sunday.

Harry Krom is making extensive improvements to his residence. G. Bilstead has his new barn well under way.

Apt Illustration.
Freddie had come into possession of a dog—something he had always wanted. He and the dog were inseparable. Conrad asked him to his birthday party. He hesitated, but finally said: "I'd like to go first rate, if I can take my dog along. Where I go he goes. It's just like we were twins."

Harry Krom is making extensive improvements to his residence.

G. Bilstead has his new barn well under way.

Make your Wants Known in FREEMAN ADS.

CIVIL WAR IS FEARED IN ITALY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Rome, Oct. 6.—Italian troops in Trentino and other territory that was taken from Austria, are being reinforced today to prevent hostilities between the Fascist and the Socialist-Bolshevik faction of extremists.

Leaders among the Socialist extremists are openly demanding revolution. Among this extremist branch of the organization is Signor Serrati, editor of "Avanti" and one of the most outspoken of the radicals.

Fears are sweeping the country that civil war may be precipitated. Members of the Fascist deny that they are preparing for war, but all the indications are that they are plotting to get absolute control of the government within the next three months.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, Oct. 5.—The free moving pictures will be held in the grange hall on Tuesday evening, October 10 instead of Monday evening as stated in a previous issue of this paper.

Work has commenced on a large garage for Sally Tock, the property owned by Mrs. Chadbourne.

Frederick Davis is building a new chicken house.

Regular moving pictures on Wednesday evening. Subject, "Fool's Gold." A story of Alaska and the north.

"Leave it to a woman to recognize common sense—for instance, that P and G white-ness test."

P AND G

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Deeds Recently Recorded With the County Clerk.

The following deeds have been recently filed for record at the office of the Ulster county clerk:

Cecilia Weiss to Hyman Rosenthal, a parcel of land in the town of Rochester. Consideration $1.

William R. Ten Broeck to Ernest Drewes a parcel of land on the easterly side of Manor avenue. Consideration $1.

Robert Cohen and wife to Reuben Miller and wife of New York city, property in the town of Wawarsing. Consideration $7,000.

Edith Decker to David E. Decker, a parcel of land in the town of Rosendale. Consideration $1.

Joshua Miller to Nellie Wolven a parcel of land in the town of Saugerties. Consideration $1,500.

Rebecca Snyder to James E. O'Neil a property on the easterly side of Henry street. Consideration $1.

Josephine B. Backman to John Weiss a property in the village of Ellenville. Consideration $3,000.

Christian Melbert and wife to Roy A. Tremper a parcel of land at the corner of Lincoln and Farrelly streets in the city of Kingston. Consideration $1.

Munson E. Haley and wife to James Wells and wife a property on the Wilbur road in the city of Kingston. Consideration $1.

John C. Crittenden and wife of Walkill to Elizabeth M. Handover of Brooklyn a parcel of land in the town of Shawangunk. Consideration $1.

Clifford E. Sagendorf to Elder Coin and Curio Company of New York city a tract of land of about 100 acres in the town of Woodstock. Consideration $1.

Clifford E. Sagendorf to Elder Coin and Curio Company of New York city a tract of land in the town of Woodstock. Consideration $1.

Ella Mack to John M. Taylor a parcel of land in the town of Shawangunk. Consideration $1.

Simon Osterhoudt and wife to Stanley F. Kelder and Belle D. Kelder a property in the town of Rochester. Consideration $1.

Phebe M. Osterhoudt to George W. Osterhoudt of Briar Cliff Manor, N. Y., a property in the village of Kerhonkson. Consideration $1.

Ulster County Savings Institution to Daniel Kelly and wife a parcel of land in the town of Woodstock. Consideration $1.

1888—MAX JACOBSON—1922

Everything that's Good Men's Fall Suits AND OVERCOATS!

Adler-Rochester
Frauhof Bros.
Michaels Sterns
Clothes

NOW IS THE TIME TO PURCHASE YOUR SUIT OR OVERCOAT

Our New Store was never more in readiness to meet your every requirement in Gent's Clothing and Furnishings.

Why pay more when you can get the best made clothes in America here for less.

We do not claim to buy clothing for less than our competitors—but our low overhead expenses allow us to cut under in price.

You Can Save From $5.00 to $10.00 on Any Suit or Overcoat

IT'S WORTH YOUR WHILE

MAX JACOBSON

COR. MILL ST. AND BROADWAY, DOWNTOWN

KINGSTON Opera House

SATURDAY
OCTOBER 7

MATINEE and NIGHT

JOHN GOLDEN

Producer of "Lightnin'," "3 Wise Fools," "Turn to the Right," and other notable successes

PRESENTS

the 1st Year

A Comic Tragedy of Married Life

By FRANK CRAVEN—Staged by WINCHELL SMITH

Direct from 2 Years' Triumph in New York

An Unusual Play of Laughs and Heart Thrills.

A True Touch of Human Nature Without an Unclean Line.

Unparagonably Amusing.

CAST OF CELEBRITIES INCLUDES

GREGORY KELLY, RUTH GORDON, JOHN W. RANSOME, FANNY RICE, RAY L. HOYCE, TIM CODY, EDITH WRIGHT, JOSEPH GARRY and ISABEL DE ARMOND

"Simple, human, joyous. A play for all of us."—N. Y. Times.

"Best American comedy ever written."—N. Y. World.

SPECIAL MATINEE PRICES

Entire Balcony 50c Main Floor $1.00

First Four Rows—$1.50.

NIGHT (plus tax) 50c to $2.00

SEATS NOW SELLING.

KINGSTON Opera House

Wednesday Night
OCTOBER 11

The VANDERBILT PRODUCING CO. presents

IRENE
IRENE
IRENE
IRENE
IRENE
IRENE
IRENE
IRENE

in all the scintillating splendor that sensationalized its record-breaking runs in EUROPE and AMERICA where it has been voted the most VIVACIOUS BEAUTIFUL and MELODIOUS NOVELTY of recent theatrical history.

Book by James Montgomery Lyrics by Jos. McCarthy

Music by Harry Tierney Staged by Edward Roche

THE GREATEST GIRL IN THE WORLD
PRICES, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.00, Plus Tax
MAIL ORDERS NOW.

Tonight

KEENEY'S THEATRE

1 to 5
20c

7 to 11
25c

Children, 15c

NEWS
SPORT
PICTORIAL

The Comedy Screen
"THE BEGGAR MAID"

Wonderful Music

THROUGH THRILLS TO HAPPINESS

Thomas Meighan

"The Bachelor Daddy"

Five cute kiddies orphaned by a bandit's bullet—and when a big, handsome bachelor attempted to father the brood, they led him a merry chase straight to a great love and happiness. Bearice Joy in the cast.

Tonight

Auditorium

2:30, 7-9
17c

NEWS

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

in
"SHANGHAI"

Saturday —
RODOLPH VALENTINO

—in—
"ONCE
TO EVERY WOMAN"

The Picture That Starts
Where Others Finish!

Katherine MacDonald

Domestic Relations

SEE IT!
A drama of courts and courtship and marriage after the glamour fades.
JUST ABOUT HER BEST.

Church Hall for the Rev. G. H. Scofield and family. It was well attended and all regret the leaving of these people.

Do not forget the C. E. convention, 11th and 12th at Marlborough. Many speakers of prominence will delight those who attend and all look forward to a very pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Balt and son have returned home. They have been in Europe, Germany and Denmark for three months and had a delightful time.

The Walker family, who have been spending the summer at their country home, "Braecroft," on Grand street, left for New York city last Saturday.

Mrs. Aline Whitley has been in town a few days' guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whitley. She left Saturday for her New York home. All her friends were glad to welcome her and to know she is so improved in health.

Mrs. F. L. Vail entertained a party of friends at her home, "Lakeledge," recently. They all enjoyed the matron, Florence Plais, had them escorted to the east and in her usual sweet manner and well chosen words presented them with gifts from the chapter which they will prize highly. Ice cream, cake and coffee was served at close.

Wednesday evening, a reception was given in the Presbyterian

IRINGLAND.

Hightland, Oct. 5.—The shore dinner given last Friday evening under auspices of the official board of the M. E. Church was a decided success, socially and financially. A very large attendance, fine music and grand eats. The Auxiliary Club had supervision of dining room, and Mrs. Coons and helpers made the chowder. Mrs. J. P. Whitley and helpers attended to the fish dressing and baking. Mrs. R. H. Decker, president and able corps of ladies waited on the people. Mr. Cornell, supervisor of coffee. Mrs. Ferris and helpers, for pie. Mrs. Charles DuBois and Miss Bessie DuBois were the floral decorators. Miss Bertha Dimsey, chairlady of kitchen. The official members are grateful to all who assisted and helped to make it a success. The music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Rhodes, and Mrs. William Maynard on piano. Pipe organ and saxophone and selections were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Suzanne E. Decker, past matron, and past D. D. G. M. of this place, will attend Grand Chapter, O. E. S. to be held in Hotel Pennsylvania October 10th, 11th, 12th.

Philip Schantz was in Kingston Wednesday on business.

Several from this place, attended the wedding of Miss F. Livingston and Clifton Carpenter, at Cliftondale on Tuesday evening. It was a very pretty wedding. They received many beautiful gifts. They will motor on to Canada.

Porter Lacey has been visiting relatives in this place this week.

Mrs. F. A. Coons attended the Danbury fair Tuesday; also Mr. and Mrs. George Hartshorn. All motored there and enjoyed the trip; also all displays of the fair.

Mrs. Florence Plais, worthy matron of Highland, Chapter O. E. S., will be in New York city next week, attending grand chapter sessions.

The Rev. Foster A. Coons was in attendance at a luncheon in Newburgh at Hotel Palatine last Saturday and he reports a fine attendance and swell affair. It was given in honor of Bishop F. H. Fisher of Calcutta, India. He gave a very interesting talk, which all the clergy enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Barcourt, J. Pratt with their guests from New York, were last week on a motor trip over the Mohawk Trail. They had a delightful time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wood, also Mr. and Mrs. George Wood and son spent Sunday out of town.

Miss Elizabeth Peeter of Truxton is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peeter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rose, also Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Elting have been on a trip recently over Mohawk Trail and also up to Lake George. They enjoyed every moment of the trip and enjoyed all good things in store for them at every place they stopped.

O. E. S. of this place had a very fine time on their opening night, good attendance and interesting meeting, yet regret was mingled with all at the departure of the Rev. G. H. Scofield, his mother, a past matron, and Miss Scofield, the sister, who has been the organist. They have all made friends in the order and will be missed very greatly.

The matron, Florence Plais, had them escorted to the east and in her usual sweet manner and well chosen words presented them with gifts from the chapter which they will prize highly. Ice cream, cake and coffee was served at close.

Wednesday evening, a reception was given in the Presbyterian flat in his house on Millon avenue to parties from Kingston.

Miss Fannie Kurtz motored to Albany last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dimsey of Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Daniel Kurtz was a shopper in Poughkeepsie Wednesday.

Costly Russian Papers.

The Izvestia, the most widely circulated Moscow daily, prints from 170,000 to 200,000 copies. Next come the Pravda, with 70,000 copies; the Ekonomical Life, with 27,000; and Journal of the Co-operatives, with 17,000. The Izvestia ("Tidings"), pays for its paper 3,000,000 rubles the pud (40 pounds), 300,000 rubles for the setting of 1,000 letters, 100 million rubles for the making up of each page, 5 million rubles for the printing of 1,000 copies.—New York Tribune.

Don't Worry About Fuel.

When we have need of alcohol for fuel purposes it will be produced commercially in sufficient quantity to meet all requirements, says Henry Ford, in an interview in the Popular Science Monthly. There is enough alcohol in an acre of Michigan potatoes to power the acre of ground that raises them for a hundred years. The "fuel problem" will take care of itself. It need be no source of worry now.

UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT, THE SAME AS SAVINGS BANKS.

Do You Really Want to Save? Do You Want to Own a Home?

We are prepared to help you do either or both of these very desirable things. Become a member, by joining the 62nd Series now open for subscription.

One Dollar a month deposited on our Installment Shares will give you $200 at maturity of the shares (144 monthly payments).

One Hundred Dollars deposited on our Prepaid Shares will pay you FIVE PER CENT DIVIDENDS.

An entrance fee of 25 cents a share on all shares, in addition to the above payments. Dividends declared twice a year—March and September.

A Safe—Sane—Profitable Investment in an Association well established and managed wholly by local business men whom you know and in whom you have confidence.

In business here since 1892.

Regular monthly meetings on the First Friday night of each month from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Kingston Co-operative Savings and Loan Asso.

288 Wall Street (One flight up).

Telephone 1080-J.

AVNET BROTHERS Clothiers and Furnishers

Kirschbaum Clothes—Fall—Winter 1922

They're in our windows, the new Kirschbaum overcoat styles, every type of models from dress coats to storm coats. Every type of fabrics from oxfords to plaid back. Look

$25.00 to $37.50

BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS AND OVERCOATS

$5.00 to $15.00

MEN'S AND BOYS' SWEATERS, ALL COLORS AND STYLES.

$1.50 to $10.00

MEN'S HATS, LATEST COLORS AND SHAPES, VELOURS, FELTS AND MIXTURES

$3.00, $4.00 and $5.00

REGAL SHOES

$5.00 and $6.00

FULL LINE OF TRUNKS, BAGS AND SUIT CASES

Cor. Strand and Hasbrouck Avenue

AVNET BROTHERS

Big Downtown Store

Both Cars Pass
the doors.

Special Sale

— FOR —

Friday and Saturday

Fricassee Chicken	22c	Soup Chicken	22c
Very Good Hens, medium size	30c	Large size	33c
Spring Chicken	33c	Milk Fed Broilers	33c
Spring Ducks			35c

DRESSED, DRAWN AND DELIVERED FREE.

KINGSTON POULTRY COMPANY

39 Ann St. TELEPHONE 1581 Kingston, N. Y.

Saturday Specials

Ladies' Suede Fabric Gloves, all shades, pair	50c, 75c
Ladies' Kid Gloves, Gauntlet, pair	$1.98
Ladies' Sport Hose, all colors	79c, 98c, $1.50
Ladies' Nainsook and Jersey Bloomers	39c, 50c
Ladies' Envelope Chemise	89c, 98c
Round Damask Table Covers	98c, $1.25
Table Damask Mercerized	59c, 89c
Boys' Corduroy Suits	$1.48, $1.98, $2.48
Girls' Dresses	98c, $1.48
Girls' Middies	$1.48
Men's Shirts, Special	98c, $1.50

M. KERLEY, 33 East Strand

"Oh, Willy,
Willy— look at your rompers!"
And yet why worry, when there's
P AND G

We Need the Space.
All shoes reduced in price.
S. COHEN'S SONS,
331 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

Advertising
in this paper will bring good returns on the money invested.

DR. INGERSOLL WARNS OF CRASH

Young People Travelling At Such Terrific Speed They Cannot Stop—
High School One Of Greatest Evils.

The Rev. Raymond P. Ingersoll, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church, this city, who gave the main address Tuesday afternoon at the sixty-fourth annual meeting of the Hudson River Central Baptist Association, in the First Baptist Church, Middletown, made a stirring appeal to the churches to recognize the claims which the young people have upon them and awaken to the performance of their duties and an appreciation of their opportunities.

Two short addresses of an impressive and helpful character, by Miss Ethel M. Hall, of Kingston, and Miss Jennie LeFever, of Poughkeepsie, the first on "Religious Education of Young People," and the second on "Young People and Training for Usefulness," preceded the address of Rev. Ingersoll.

"We are living in a young people's day; in numbers and in opportunities," declared Rev. Ingersoll. This is a young people's day in the sense that the young people have found themselves—whether it is a good find, or not, remains to be seen. The young people of today don't care a rap for father, mother, or anybody but themselves, rushing on with such speed that they will send their souls into hell if they are not checked in the course which they are pursuing. In my church the conditions of the young people's society are so unhealthy we may have to have a funeral. They have the same desires and intentions they used to have, and will promise to do, but they do not fulfill.

"The young people of today are travelling at such a terrific rate of speed that when they see the dangers ahead, they are not able to stop before the crash comes. One of the greatest dangers that threaten them at the present time is the high school of today. It is getting to be one of the greatest evils which ever entered into society. Every tendency of the high school is against the things I am trying to teach my young people. The young people are becoming snobs and losing their hold upon the things which make for better manhood and womanhood."

To illustrate his point, the speaker produced a portion of a New York Sunday paper of recent date, which contained the results of a woman writer who had been investigating some of the fraternity dances of the school, club dances, etc. She was not prejudiced against dancing, in fact, favored it under certain conditions, but in portions of her story which Rev. Ingersoll read, denounced some of the doings and warned of the results which in her opinion were certain to follow if the young people were not rescued.

"I read the Sunday papers, because they are printed on Saturday, but do not like to read the Monday papers, because they are printed on Sunday night," explained Rev. Ingersoll, smiling.

"The young people are hurling a challenge to the Church of Jesus Christ to awaken. This young people are not interested in the church, because they are unable to discover anything in the church for them and they rush madly on from one degree to another, in search of recreation and pleasure which their natures crave and must have in one place or another. You may call me a pessimist, an old fogey, or anything you like; that matters not, but the thing is on my heart and I must speak my convictions on this point.

"The challenge by the young people of today, to the church is to give them a square deal. I pity the church which lays down on its job. Before I get through in my church there will be somebody moving. If I have to quit the pastorate, that would not matter to me."

"Give the young people a chance for their social life. We build our magnificent temples, at great expenditure of money and make no provision for the social life of the boys and girls. It is heathenish. I love the young people and am not a crank in regard to the dance, but I see the tendency of the times as a result of the neglect of the church and lift up my voice in warning of what is as sure to happen as that we exist today, according to my idea. I may be wrong, but do not think I am."

Several times during his address the speaker referred to his fourteen-year-old daughter and the anxiety he felt that in the midst of all the temptations which threaten the young people she might be trained right. He also referred to a young woman in his own church who stood high in the estimation of all who knew her and yet talked glibly concerning the smoking of cigarettes and gave them to her friends.

"You may think I am an old man, and I presume I look to be real old, with my white hair," he explained, "but I will get out here with any one of you and run a foot-race and will jump over a six-foot fence if you want me to."

In closing, the speaker exhorted the churches to get back to Jesus Christ.

Chinese a Cooking Nation.
The Chinese are a nation of cooks. There is scarcely an individual in their vast community who is not more or less competent to cook himself a respectable dinner.

"Well, the neighbors can look at that wash if they want to—thanks to
P AND G

MOHICAN MARKET

SATURDAY'S BIG SPECIALS!

OYSTERS A very wholesome and much liked seafood, very nourishing and economical food and when you have the Mohican quality large fat northern grown with that deep sea flavor you are getting the very best and the way we sell them just as they come from the shockers. No water, no waste. All meat, full flavor, full pint 35c

PRICE IS NO INDICATION OF VALUE. THE REGULAR MOHICAN CUSTOMER KNOWS THE BIG VALUE AND MONEY-SAVING THERE IS ALL TIMES TO BE HAD BY PURCHASING AT THIS BIG DEPARTMENT STORE.

BEEF BEST CHUCK ROAST, lb. - 21c
LEAN POT ROAST, lb. - 17c
Fresh Cut PLATE, lb. - 8c
MEATY SOUP PIECES, lb. - 5c

Steak Fresh Chopped Beef, cut from government inspected corn-fed western steers. No bones, no waste, all meat. A steak well worth a quarter. 2 POUNDS 25c

Imported Roquefort Cheese, 18c; Debris Cheese, 25c; Castle Coated Camembert, 40c; Imported Edam Cheese, $1.05; Pineapple Cheese, 55c; Sapsago, 14c; Lunch Cheese, 10c; Imported Roquefort, lb., 96c; Old English Cheese, lb., 48c; Club Swiss, lb., 48c; Young American, lb., 38c; Club Pimento, lb., 48c; Mild Muenster, lb., 36c; Club American, lb., 48c; Wisconsin Brick, lb., 32c; Limburger, lb., 38c; Snappy Cheese, 14c; Neufchatel Cheese, 5c; Pimento Cheese, 14c; Philadelphia Cream, 14c; Liederkrantz, 23c; Extra Fancy Large Eye Swiss, lb., 52c

VEAL SHORT CUT LEGS, lb. - 29c
CHOICE MEATY CHOPS, lb. - 26c
Milk Fatted Home Dressed Calves BREAST FOR STUFFING, lb. 16c

MOHICAN Big Rich Walnut Loaf Cake 20c	Cocoanut Marshmallow Big Three-Layer CAKE 40c	MOHICAN Green Apple Thick Well Filled Pies 25c	Mocha Big Rich Three Layer Delicious CAKE 50c	Mohican Doughnuts Rich and Tender Dozen 19c
---------------------------------------	---	--	---	---

PORK SAUSAGE The very best quality possible, all pork. Little Dutchess County Pigs. And the very best quality seasoning go to make this all pork sausage. SPECIAL POUND 19c

HAMS Armour's Freshly Smoked, Little Picnic style 15c SPECIAL lb.	COFFEE MOHICAN DINNER BLEND A Very Pleasant Flavor. 25c lb.	BACON Freshly Smoked Lean Breakfast Squares 16c SPECIAL lb.
--	--	--

MOHICAN MEADOWBROOK CREAMERY

The World's Best Butter BUTTER Fresh From the Churn

1 lb. 39c ONE DAY Special Saturday 1 lb. 39c

JELLY Pure Strawberry lb.-19c-lb.	ALL FRESHLY SMOKED FRANKFURTERS, SLICED MINCED HAM BOLOGNA, ALL KINDS SLICED MEAT LOAF Your Choice, All you want. 19c POUND.	JAM Pure Pineapple lb.-23c-lb.
---	--	--

THE MOHICAN COMPANY

296 WALL STREET, Near JOHN ST., KINGSTON.

He Didn't Say Much.
When Robert T. Lincoln went to England as the American minister he soon became noted for the charm of his conversation. Mr. Gladstone, we learn from Mr. Chauncey M. Depew in Scribner's, was anxious to meet Mr. Lincoln and enjoy a pleasant evening with him. So finally a common friend, Henry Labouchere, arranged for a dinner at his house, which was an hour's ride into the country from Mr. Gladstone's city residence. Mrs. Gladstone before permitting her husband to go made Mr. Labouchere promise that Mr. Gladstone should be back at 10 o'clock.

The dinner had no sooner sat down than some question rose that interested and excited Mr. Gladstone, and he at once began to talk. He talked long and eloquently; and there was no way of interrupting him without being rude. When the hands of the clock were nearing eleven, and Mr. Lincoln had had no chance whatever to interpose a remark, Mr. Labouchere interrupted Mr. Gladstone's torrent of words by saying, "Mr. Gladstone, now 11 o'clock; it is an hour's ride to London, and I promised Mr. Gladstone to have you back at 10."

Later when the two were seated in the carriage Mr. Labouchere said to Mr. Gladstone, "Well, you have passed an evening with Mr. Lincoln; what do you think of him?"

"Mr. Lincoln is a charming person," was the reply, "but he does not seem to have much conversation."

Canada's Splendid Water Power.
Canada is said to possess nearly half the water power of the world.

Buy Your STOVES NOW—

Here is Fall at hand with a Cold Winter coming. Coal is high. It would be a wise move for you to buy a Stove that is economical in its fuel consumption. For this reason you will be interested in seeing our display of Oak Heaters and Ranges of every description.

Special Sale on PERFECTION OIL HEATERS

An Oil Heater we can highly recommend at prices from $5.75 and up

CONGOLEUM RUGS

At a Special Price. Size 9x12

$13.75

All First Quality.

Other Sizes at Reduced Price.

Kaplan Furniture Co., Inc.

14 EAST STRAND.

TELE. 755.

OPEN EVENINGS.

DOWNTOWN.

WM. P. LEHR

Grocer and Fruiterer

Phone 221 622 Broadway Free Delivery.

Wheat Flour, Pillsbury's Best, 24 1/2 lb sack	$1.03
Gran. Sugar, lb	7c
Compound, 2 lbs	25c
Peas, Corn, String Beans, Lima Beans, 2 cans	25c
Norway Mackerel, fancy white fish, 2 for	25c
Potatoes, fancy Sweet or White, peck	31c
Coffee, Lehr's elegant drinking quality, 2 lbs	47c
English Walnuts, extra fine, new, lb	33c
Cocobnut Shreds, lb	21c
Best Rice, 3 lbs	25c
Comb Honey	25c
New Buckwheat Flour

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Quinces, fancy	40c
Elberta Peaches, 2 qts	25c
Basket	$1.50
Oranges, doz	21-40-60c
Grapefruit, 4 for	25c
McIntosh Apples, 2 qts	15c
Greening Apples, 4 qts	25c
Pears, 4 qts	25c
Cauliflower, fancy	15-20c
Radishes, bunch	5c
Fresh Beets, bunch	5c
Carrots, lb	5c
Red or Yellow Onions, 4 qts	25c
Cabbage, head	10c
Fresh Celery Hearts	12c
Squash, lb	3c
Lettuce, Tomatoes, Peppers

But there is more than just a name behind EDISON MAZDA LAMPS. There is a reputation and service which make the lamps dependable.

Canfield Supply Company

ELECTRICAL DEPT.

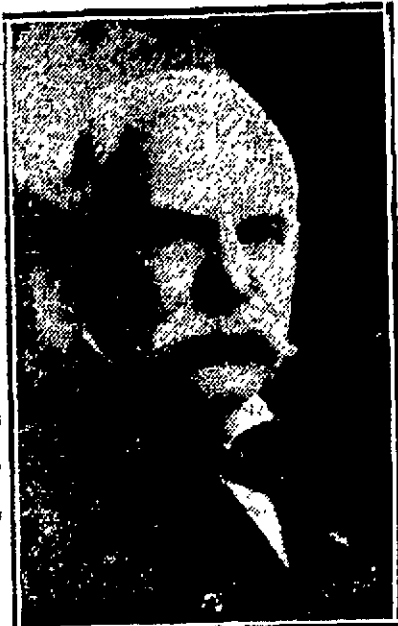

KINGSTON, N. Y.
(THE BIG DOWNTOWN STORE)

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. George F. Kaufman, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Mollie H. Brown, also known as Mollie H. Brown, Mollie Brown and Mrs. Mollie H. Brown, late of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, deceased, testate, to present the same with the vouchers in support thereof, to the undersigned, Charles Brown, the Executor of the estate of said deceased, at the office of Chris. A. Murray, Attorney for Executor, 32 East Strand, Kingston, N. Y., on or before the 10th day of October, 1922.

Dated April 5th, 1922.
CHARLES BROWN,
Chris. A. Murray, Attorney for Executor,
32 East Strand, Kingston, N. Y.

C. A. SCHERMERHORN DIES AT SEVENTY

Two Months' Illness Ends Life Of Unusual Activity And Prominence In City's Political, Business And Fraternal Circles—Was a Tailor Par Excellence.

CHARLES A. SCHERMERHORN.
Charles A. Schermerhorn died at an early hour this morning at his home, No. 86 Pearl street, after an illness of about two months. Mr. Schermerhorn was in his seventieth year.

Mr. Schermerhorn for many years was prominent in the business and political life of Kingston and was one of the most widely known residents of the city.

He was born in Warren county, N. Y., January 18, 1853, his father being of Holland Dutch descent and his mother being of English Quaker. When he was one year old his parents removed to Fort Edward, N. Y., and his early education was received in the Academy at Stamford, Delaware county.

In 1870 Mr. Schermerhorn came to Kingston and learned the trade of tailor with the firm of Odell & English, who had a custom tailoring shop in the Ulster County Savings Institution building. Later he bought out the interest of Mr. Odell and the firm became English & Schermerhorn. In 1873 Mr. Schermerhorn bought out the interest of Edmon English and continued in the tailoring business until about a year ago. As a tailor Mr. Schermerhorn catered to the best class of trade and he took great pride in his work. He believed that tailoring work from his establishment should be as nearly perfect as possible, and seams and edges of cloth which would not be seen were given the same careful attention that the rest of the suit received. For a number of years he conducted his business on Wall street, in the building adjoining the National Ulster County Bank building but removed from there some years ago to the building at No. 286 Fair street. Several years ago he leased the lower floor of the latter building for restaurant purposes but continued to occupy the upper floor.

For many years Mr. Schermerhorn was active in Republican politics. He was elected alderman of the First Ward in 1897 and continued to serve as a member of the common council until 1912 when he became supervisor of the First Ward containing in that office until the beginning of the present year. As alderman and supervisor he was alert to the city's interests. He believed in combining public improvement and progress with public economy and sought for what he believed was for the public welfare. As a supervisor he was instrumental in the establishment of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and the Bacteriological Laboratory.

When Company B of the old 20th Battalion of the New York National Guard was formed, Mr. Schermerhorn became a charter member and served as a member of the company for seven years. After the company became the Fourteenth Separate Company, he served another enlistment of one year.

For many years he was an active member of Willwyck Hose Company and always displayed marked interest in all matters pertaining to the fire department, especially during his years of service in the common council.

When the Ulster County Republican Club was formed in 1904, it occupied the building at No. 286 Fair street which afterward was occupied by Mr. Schermerhorn's tailoring establishment. When he removed to that building, he offered the club the free use of the upper floor, and until he occupied that floor for his own business purposes, the headquarters of the Republican Club remained there. Election returns always were received there, and up to the time of his death two rooms of the upper floor were set apart for the daily use of the members of the club and his friends who wished to pass an idle hour at dominoes or cards.

At various times Mr. Schermerhorn was actively interested in real estate operations and owned a number of properties which he improved. As a landlord he took great pride in keeping his properties in the best possible condition and sought always to provide his tenants with every convenience.

Mr. Schermerhorn was generous almost to a fault. In innumerable cases which were known to but few people he provided personally for needy and unfortunate families until such time as their misfortune could be overcome, and no deserving charity failed of ready response from him on any appeal for help.

Fraternally, Mr. Schermerhorn was a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, Free and Accepted Masons, which he joined in 1884; Mount Horeb Chapter, No. 75, Royal Arch Masons; Rondout Commandery, No. 52, Knights Templar; Cyprus Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and of the Kingston Shriners' Association. He was also a member of the Kingston Club and of the Fair Street Reformed Church.

Mr. Schermerhorn married Martha Lefevre, who died several years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. H. T. Pratt of Jersey City, N. J.; one grandson, John P. Keator, Jr., of Boston, Mass.; one brother, Melvin J. Schermerhorn, and one sister, Mrs. Alice J. McKillip, both of this city.
The funeral will take place from his late residence on Monday afternoon at two o'clock and will be in charge of Kingston Lodge of Masons. Interment will be in Willwyck Cemetery.

Ostrander & Woolsey

HEAD OF WALL ST.

NEXT TO ROSE-GORMAN-ROSE.

KINGSTON.

Men's All Wool Suits in Neat Effects

$28

The staple plain style suit, in silk mixtures, heavy blue serges, brown worsteds, mixed cassimeres in herringbone effect, at $28.00 and worth $35.00. Yes, Yes, they're all wool.

Kuppenheimer Suits and Overcoats

$38

A big lot of Kuppenheimer suits and overcoats, at $38. Two floors full. Everything at now. We have other Kuppenheimer suits at $35.00 and $48.00.

Young Men's Sport Suits With Two Pairs of Pants

$28

This is a sport style suit, comes in brown checks and brown mixtures, all wool cloth and don't forget, two pairs of pants, the suit is $23.00 with one pair of pants.

Boys' Suits With 2 Pants $9.98

Ages 7 to 18 years, in brown or heather mixtures, the full cut suits, made well, some stores get $12 for same suit.

Boys' Overcoats 10 to 18 yrs. $9.85

Heavy warm overcoats with fancy pleat in back and belt all around, a heather brown mixture, it's new.

Knit Wool Sport Coats for Men $3.98

The kind of sport coat that is fast taking the place of the sweater, it's close knit, light in weight and very warm. $3.98 instead of $5.00.

Young Bros. Hats $4.00 & $5.00

We are selling many Young Bros. Hats these days. Many colors and shapes to choose from.

Sale Men's $3.75 Corduroy Pants

The good heavy corduroy pants, not the kind you can "sift beans through," drab in color. $2.98.

Suits for Big Men $35

We carry a large line of suits for big men. Have many to show in the Michaels Stern make at $35.00. Sizes 42, 44, 46 in stouts or regular models.

MEN'S GOOD SLIPON PANTS $3.98

Many pants at $3.98, good make, "the Reading". Choose from many browns and greys.

Sale of $1.50 Lackawanna Underwear for Men $1.10

Bought this lot of Lackawanna wool underwear below price, that's why it's $1.10 instead of $1.50. No seconds, never handle any kind of seconds in this store. Shirts 36 to 46. Drawers 32 to 44.

Are You Rough on Batteries?

Everybody is likely to forget once in a while about putting in water or charging, or having the battery looked after. That's why the average driver needs the toughest, most reliable, longest lived battery he can find—the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery. It's a tough battery for rough trips. All sizes.

Frank L. Brown

523 B'way Tele. 1111

Kingston, N. Y. Open Evenings

Representing Willard Batteries
(THREADED RUBBER INSULATION) and GW Batteries
(WOOD SEPARATORS)

Everybody knows that the Freeman Cost-a-Word ads. bring quick results. Try them.

tended the fair at Grahamsville last week.

John Traver and his mother were callers at Kerhonkson, Accord and Mettacaohons. They called on Archie Deputy, and found Mrs. Deputy sick. We hope she will soon be around again.

Mildred Traver spent Sunday with her cousins, the Misses Myrtle, Laura, Ruth and Mary Davis in Krumville.

Ira Keator from Woodbourn recently spent Sunday with his uncle, Ferry Keator, at this place.

Mrs. Sarah Dymond and grandson Isaac have returned home from Kingston. She has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Markie.

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gray in their newly married life. May they have good luck.

Mrs. Ella Krom from Lake Minniewaska, spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Barley at Samsonville.

Mrs. Jessie Shurtler and children and Miss Florence Harris spent Sunday with Mrs. H. Traver.

Home Traver from Woodbourn, spent Sunday with his family in this place.

Oratory Analyzed

What orators lack in depth they make up in length.—Montesquieu.

DANCE AT RUBY HOTEL

Every Saturday Evening.—Advertisement.

"Pretty little frock, but won't it fade in the wash?" Not with

P AND G

PALENTOWN.

Palentown, Oct. 5.—Cecil Gray from Greene county, is spending a short vacation with his parents at this place.

School is progressing very nicely under the management of Teacher Leslie Roosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brannen at-

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. George F. Kaufman, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Helen E. Osborn, late of the Town of Rosendale, County of Ulster, deceased, testate, to present the same with the vouchers in support thereof, to the undersigned, Elias S. Auchmorin, the Executor of the estate of said deceased, at his place of business, Rosendale Village, Rosendale, in the said County of Ulster, New York, on or before the first day of March, 1923.
Dated August 24, 1922.
ELIAS S. AUCHMORIN,
As Executor of Miss Helen E. Osborn, Deceased.

EXAMINATIONS FOR NEW VOTERS

Any person who expects to vote for the first time this coming fall must present a certificate of literacy to the election officials before he is eligible. Any person who has completed the work of the fifth grade may receive such a certificate at any time by making application to the principal of the school at which he completed this work.

Those who have not completed the required amount of work may take an examination at the High School on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday evening. Persons desiring such an examination should make application to the Superintendent of Schools Michael M. Kaplan at any school day between 4 and 5 p. m.

Dance At Allaben.

The second dance of the fall season will be held at the well known handegnon Hall, Allaben on Saturday evening, October 7. A large crowd attended the opening dance last Saturday and enjoyed the delightful music rendered by the Imperial Jazz Orchestra of Kingston. The same orchestra will be on hand this week and dancing will start promptly at 8:30 p. m. The hall has been neatly decorated for the occasion.

Library To Be Closed.

Announcement is now definitely made to the effect that the Kingston City Library will be closed for two weeks, beginning next Thursday, during that time the new steel racks will be placed. All persons wishing books during those two weeks are asked to come to the library just as soon as convenient to get as many books as they wish for the period that the library will be closed.

DWYERS TO LAUNCH ANOTHER GRAIN BOAT

There will be launched this afternoon at the boatyard of Dwyer Bros., Abbeil street, this afternoon, the fifth large grain boat built at this yard for the New York Central railroad under the supervision of A. P. Pollock of Brooklyn, marine inspector for the New York Central. Five more large grain boats are to be built by Dwyer Bros., who were awarded a contract to build ten.

KINGSTONIANS LISTED IN "WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA"

The latest edition of "Who's Who in America," published by A. N. Marquis & Company in Chicago, contains the names of the following Kingstonians: James A. Betts, R. H. D. Boerker, W. I. Chambers, G. F. Chandler, A. T. Clearwater, Mary Gage Day, G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Charles M. Higgins, Francis J. Higginson, Edward Hungerford, Bernard M. Kaplan and A. F. Sheldon.

One Knot Not for Him.

You know the man who'll fight the flock of classmates who would copy your sex, who brings you trainable chow and wears your best inspection blou. He shares your room and guards your life, he is your good old N. A. "wife." But when you leave the portals wide and non-reg clothes don't have to hide, you wonder if a better half would give your hoary jokes a laugh, and stand your loudest midnight snore, and sweep your ashes from the floor. Although I'd like a helpmate near; my back don't fancy ice-cold feet. And though I fear no big gun's din, I'd hate to face a rolling-pin. So when the chaplain knots in glee, I'm glad a knot is not for me.—Annapolis Log.

D. A. R. CHAPTER OCTOBER MEETING

Convention Delegate and Alternates Elected—Information on Educational Work in South.

At the October meeting of Wiltsyck Chapter, D. A. R., held at the Chapter House on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. George Du Bois of New Paltz was elected delegate to accompany the regent, Mrs. W. N. Fessenden, to the State Convention of the D. A. R. to be held in Poughkeepsie. The following alternates were also elected: Mrs. A. D. Brodhead of New Paltz; Mrs. T. D. Lewis, Mrs. Hyman Roosa, Mrs. W. J. Cranston, Miss Juliana Wood, Mrs. L. W. Weed, Mrs. A. H. Van Buren, Mrs. Oscar Edwards, Mrs. E. H. Bogart, Mrs. A. W. Van Tassel. The Chapter received a gift from De Witt Roosa, a handsome fire-back which had once been in the Gouverneur residence in New York City and had been presented to him by Mrs. Roswell Randall Hoes. The same was accepted with appreciation and thanks. It was announced that October 16th, Chapter Day would be observed this year by the serving of afternoon tea at the Chapter House, each member to have the privilege of bringing one guest. The Chapter voted to pledge $25 to the fund for the "Women's Union Christian Colleges of the Orient," in memory of Mrs. De Witt Roosa.

The program for the afternoon which was devoted to the "Education of the mountain whites in South Carolina," was in charge of Mrs. Oscar Edwards and Miss Juliana Wood. Mrs. Robert Hamilton Gibbs of Schenectady was present and gave an exceedingly interesting and informing illustrated talk on "Tamassee," the school in northwestern South Carolina, in which the Daughters of the American Revolution are actively interested. The pictures showed the school, etc., including the building erected by the D. A. R. of New York state which houses twelve girls and two teachers. The speaker said that it was hoped that the D. A. R. of each state would erect a building similar to the New York state building as there is ample work to be done along this splendid educational line. The pictures made the entire project more realistic to those present. Mrs. F. D. Patterson then sang most acceptable, two plantation songs, "Doan You Cry, My Honey," and "I'm Alongin' Dear, For You." The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Hillis and Mrs. Mac Fadden.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, Oct. 6.—Dr. Wright of Port Ewen will occupy our pulpit on Sunday morning. Mildred Olsen will be the leader for the Epworth League on Sunday night.

Tonight at a quarter past six there will be a social hour; quarter past seven, devotional meeting; quarter past eight, study period and Bible study. After that there will be a meeting of the official board.

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary held a meeting at the home of Crissie Becker on Tuesday evening.

Jennie Pardee of Kingston is spending the week end with her mother and sister, Mrs. Henry Meyers.

Little Ruth Scherer is still in the Benedictine Sanatorium.

Fred Becker, spent the week end with his wife at Hoboken.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walters and son, Donald, have returned to their home in Weehawken Heights, after spending two weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark.

Mrs. Moore and daughter, Hazel, of Port Richmond, S. I., spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Margaret McKinley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Evans and son, Allen, of Poughkeepsie, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacDonald.

Harry Kellerman, pilot on the Washington Irving, spent Monday at his home.

John Schriber is confined to his home.

Mrs. Charles Becker and daughter, Crissie, and Jack Wilson of Kingston motored to Weehawken on Sunday and spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. Frank Spinneweber.

Dr. and Mrs. Conda Lawing and daughters, Clair and Helen, of West New York spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Neil and children of Kingston spent Sunday with Mrs. Margaret McKinley.

Philip Burelghn of Jersey spent Sunday with Mrs. Margaret McKinley.

Mrs. Clare Evans and son, Allen, of Poughkeepsie are spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacDonald.

Fred Fox spent the week end in New York and Hoboken.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Teanie celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary on Wednesday.

Mrs. Harry Kellerman and daughter, June, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osborn at Ulster Park.

Clarence Hyde motored to Grand Gorge on Sunday and stopped at Haines Falls and called on Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Haines.

A Reminder.

It will be quite time enough to talk about the faults and failings of absent friends when we have assured ourselves that we have none of our own of which to speak.

"Why do they say 'next wash day,' 'Just so folks won't put off the whiteness test.'"

P AND G

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Oct. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hoornbeek returned Sunday evening from Boston where they spent a week at the Hotel Vendome where their son, Jansen, has had a position during the past summer. Jansen has now returned to his studies for his fourth year at the Dental College.

Mrs. Rapp and daughter, Mrs. Graham, have been spending several days in New York this week. Miss Katherine Terwilliger has been confined to her home the past week with a severe cold.

Miss Rose Hawhurst of Ocean Grove is visiting Mrs. C. T. Hawhurst on Park street.

Mrs. Kate Nickols returned home Tuesday evening after spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. William Epper, at Guttenberg, N. J.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Potter and little daughter of East Orange, N. J., spent from Tuesday to Sunday at the Potter home on Park street.

Dr. George F. Wilklow was among the guests at the dinner to Dean Hickey of Kingston Thursday evening.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Steinhoff of upper Center street last Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Patterson returned from their automobile trip south Monday. They spent several days in Washington, visiting most of the places of public interest.

Albert W. Westbrook, Jr., of Ellenville has accepted employment at the Middletown State Hospital.

Jacob Deiman has taken the position of caretaker at Ulster Lake and will occupy the farm house there this week.

On Sunday morning at the M. E. Church Orville S. Poland will speak as a representative of the Anti-Saloon League of New York.

Mr. Poland is superintendent of the legislative department of the league. The subject for the Epworth League will be, "Get the Facts to the People." A mission study meeting.

The leader is Mrs. George H. Smith. Mrs. William Shannon has returned home after spending some time in Greater New York.

Lester Coons has been confined to his home with severe cold.

Mrs. Mary Bishop has returned home after a visit of several weeks in Dunellen, N. J.

Helen Campbell has entered upon her course of study in the Women's Medical College in Philadelphia.

Miss Frederica Schipper spent the past week with her grandfather, W. A. Briggs, at Grahamsville.

Miss Harriet Startup has sold her house and furniture on Chapel street and has gone to live with her brother Lyman in Buffalo.

Allen D. Potter has been elected to membership in the Orange County Golf Club and played his first round as a full fledged member last Saturday.

Mrs. Burton H. Wood and Miss Ella De Vany sang several selections at the Community Sing at Accord on Monday night.

Mrs. Thomas G. Church of Peabody, Mass., and Miss Ella Hicks of New York were visitors in town over the week end, stopping at the Mitchell House.

Treasurer of the United States.

The treasurer of the United States is charged with the receipt and disbursement of all public moneys that may be deposited in the treasury at Washington and in the sub-treasuries, and in the national bank depositories. He is the redemption agent for national bank notes, federal reserve bank notes and federal reserve notes; is trustee for bonds held to secure national bank circulation and public deposits in national banks, and bonds held to secure postal savings in banks; is custodian of miscellaneous trust funds; is fiscal agent for paying interest on the public debt and for paying the lump-sum bonds of the Philippine Islands, principal and interest; is treasurer of the board of trustees of the postal savings system; and is ex-officio commissioner of the sinking fund of the District of Columbia. The office is filled by presidential appointment.

Egotistical Man.

In "God's Country," by J. O. Curwood, the author, who in early life was a big game hunter, writes: "I wish that some mighty power would rise that could show to man how little and how insignificant he is. Only therein, I think, could the thorns and brambles be taken out of that path to peace and contentment which he would like to find, and would find if he were not blinded by his own importance. He is the supreme egotist and monopolist. His conceit and self-sufficiency are at times almost blasphemous. He is the human peacock, puffed up, inflated, flushed in the conviction that everything in the universe was made for him. He goes out and murders millions of his kind with his scientific inventions; yet he calls a tiger bad and a pest because the tiger occasionally kills the two-legged thing that hunts it."

Love at First Sight.

Disraeli undoubtedly was great at pampering a queen. John Middleton Murry, at this late day, finds that he was funny in the love-making of his book people. Murry studied the case of Ferdinand and Henrietta in "Henrietta Temple," and became convinced that either "Disraeli intended to emulate Shakespeare, which was rash in the extreme, or that he had forgotten Shakespeare, which was careless." For one thing, the Ferdinand of Henrietta exclaimed, "There is no love but love at first sight," which is at least no improvement on the words of the Shakespearean Ferdinand, lover of Miranda, who asked, "Who ever loved that loved not at first sight?"

Ever Think of That?

Civilized man is a wonder. He cuts down a forest to build a city and then plants trees to make a park.—Atlanta Constitution.

GOLD'S RELIABLE SHOP

30 Main Street,

Kingston, N. Y.

Smartest of New Fashions

ADVANTAGEOUSLY PRICED HERE SATURDAY

Coats-Suits-Dresses

Style, Variety and Moderate Pricing Assure

Satisfaction

So varied in every detail are our garments that no matter what one's type, one will discover appeal which minutely interprets one's own personality in line, in deft ornamentation, and in the subtle merging of colors.

WOMEN'S AND MISSES SUITS

$16.75 to $45.00

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' COATS

$13.75 to $27.50

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' DRESSES

$16.75 to $55.00

SPECIAL SALE SATURDAY—SWEATERS

$1.95 up to $3.75

Slip-on and Tuxedo Silk and Wool Sweaters at Same Price

HOWARD SAYS HE HAS A NEW IDEA

Ideas Come Seldom but When They Suck They Must Be Used—New Store to Replace Old One.

A well known instructor in psychology claims that if a man gets one real idea a month he is doing well.

You may feel inclined to disagree with him in this, but the more thought you put to it the more you will be convinced that he is right. Four years or so ago I had an idea. The more I thought about it the better it seemed until I put it over.

I will tell you about it.

My idea was in several sections, so to speak.

First—I reasoned out practically every man was just as fussy as a woman is about getting a hat that adds to natural beauty.

Second—I reasoned that practically every man in Kingston sometime during the week passes a certain corner in this city.

Third—I reasoned that every man wears some well-advertised article of haberdashery.

The number of things in a haberdashery stock is comparatively small and yet each article is made by concerns which advertise so heavily and so consistently that every man knows something about them.

So—to sum up—I figured that it would be a pretty good business to rent the finest corner store in Kingston, specialize in well-made, well-known hats—specialize, too, in properly fitting hats to men and men to hats, and to stock the store with the very finest, heaviest advertised line of haberdashery.

Such haberdashery as every man wears or prefers to wear.

The idea sprouted into reality. I rented the store directly opposite the Stuyvesant Hotel and installed every appliance for making and renovating hats.

Then I bought the finest hats made and a stock of material to make hats. Along with this I bought a complete line of haberdashery—such things as lead in their line.

Since opening this store I have been pretty busy. Almost too busy to think along lines that did not converge in Hats, Collars, Shirts, or some such thing.

However, slowly and assiduously there has been popping into my mind a new idea.

It persisted. It wouldn't go away.

It made me think, and the more I thought the better it looked and the more I studied it.

Finally I gave way to it. This means that I have another business idea—and a good one.

It means, too, that I want this store for that business idea.

I have made a lot of good business friends in this store, and so the thought came to me that I would sell out to them—let a man come in and buy what he needs—give him a cost price or less.

This would make the store valuable to him right up to the last minute—and let him stock up on things

EVERYBODY'S STORE

PLAY BALL

WE WIN THE PENNANT

—FOR BEST—

CLOTHING

Top Coats

For the Cool October and November Days

$15 to $45

SWEATER TIME

Have Some New Beauties in all colors. They're Wool in Button Coat, V Neck and Round Neck Styles.

MEN'S SUITS

Fine Line for Fall and Winter in Many Styles.

Prices $16, $18, $20, $25 to $35.

M. KANTROWITZ

CLOTHIER AND GENTS' FURNISHER

46-48 NORTH FRONT STREET,

KINGSTON.

OPEN EVENINGS.

ASK FOR DAVE

he always needs and let him save money.

Therefore I am offering you everything in the store at a price that will save you money.

The only condition, however, is that you come and get it quickly, for I want to get busy on a new business and I have Matty Morgenstern as a partner—and Matty is impatient—and wants to get going.

So come and get Hats, Caps, Neckwear, Socks, Shirts, Handkerchiefs, Suspenders Garters and what not—all famous goods—and get them at prices that will enable you to save enough money to do your Christmas shopping early.

E. B. HOWARD.

The Howard Hat Store.

Opposite the Stuyvesant Hotel.

SELLING OUT.

—Advertisement.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Bessie Eckert returned home on Saturday after spending a few days in New York city.

Charles Rosso left for New York city on Sunday to accept a position.

Mrs. Joseph Miller spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. William McVey.

A party of two automobiles motored from Newburgh on Sunday on their way to the Ashokan day stoped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wells, eating their lunch on the lawn. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lansperg and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnston and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Noley and daughter and Mrs. Noley's sister from Brooklyn, N. Y.

Charles Reick treated his house roof to a coat of paint.

Nature's gifts developed~

IN the plump kernels of wheat and barley, Nature places the elements which man perfects and utilizes as food for health and energy.

These nutritious grains reach their highest development of flavor and food value when scientifically converted into crisp, delicious Grape-Nuts. The 20-hour baking process partially pre-digests the starch, and makes Grape-Nuts a food which digests easily and assimilates readily.

There is no other food like Grape-Nuts!

Try a dish of appetizing Grape-Nuts with cream or good rich milk for breakfast or lunch. It is completely nourishing, convenient, economical—a wonderfully satisfying food for October days.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

NELSON BEEF COMPANY

Meats Meats

KINGSTON BRANCH, 306 WALL ST.

THE ORIGINAL CASH AND CARRY QUALITY MARKETS

Where you get a Dollar's Worth of Prime Quality Meats for 65 to 75 cents.

LITTLE PICNIC HAMS, lb.	14c
SUGAR CURED CORNED BEEF, lb.	8c
TOP ROUND STEAK, lb.	38c
BOTTOM ROUND ROAST, lb.	34c
CHOICE CHUCK STEAK, lb.	20c
FRESH CHOPPED STEAK, lb.	18c
BONELESS POT ROAST, lb.	15c
COUNTY PORK, VEAL and POULTRY
CHICKENS, FANCY, FRESH KILLED, lb.	42c
PORK SAUSAGE, OUR OWN, lb.	30c
PORK SHOULDER, SMALL, lb.	20c
VEAL, LEG OR LOIN, lb.	32c
FOWL, FRESH KILLED, lb.	40c

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, LARD

BUSINESS NOTICES

Dr. Broberg, Graduate Chiropractor and Chiropractor, 65 St. James St., corner Clinton Ave. Hours: 10 to 12 and 2 to 6. Phone 744. Lady assistant.

INSTRUCTION ON VIOLIN.
Virgil H. Winchell, No. 50 Green street. Tel. 426-J.

The Daily Freeman is on sale at the following stands of the Schultze News Agency in New York city:
102 West 42nd Street.
42nd Street and Park Avenue, (opposite Grand Central Depot).
30th Street and Broadway. (S. W. Corner).
42nd Street and Sixth Avenue, (S. E. Corner).

Prof. Clyde Van Steenberg's dancing class will meet on Monday evening, October 9, 1922, at Clermont Hall, Imperial Orchestra. Lessons 7 to 9. Assembly 9 to 12.

Trucking-Moving-Express.
Estimates on all classes of work. Local and long distance moving. Sheldon Tompkins, 203 Elmendorf street. Tel. 1771-R.

WHILE THEY LAST.
Come see our Jahilia display. They are beautiful.
VALENTIN BURGEVIN, INC.

For your new and second hand stoves and stove repairing. M. Kaplan, 66-68 North Front street. Phone 1043.

Concrete blocks made by A. H. LAWATSCHE, 51 Summer street. Will sell and deliver at a moderate price.

NATIONAL BEAUTY WEEK.
"Look your best" October 2 to 7. Millie M. Snyder Vanity Parlor, 356 Washington avenue, Kingston, N. Y. Phone 1792-J.

IT'S GREAT.
Try a loaf of Mrs. Salzmann's Caraway Rye. At your grocer or phone 1610.

Civil Engineers and Surveyors.
The W. E. Joyce Co., Inc., Telephone 1912. 276 Fair St.

Perry's Express. Phone 71-M.
A. H. Lawatsch at the Hifton Flour Mill has hired Hiram Prier to grind the farmers' grain. He has been with Lawatsch for many years. The mill is now open for business.

KINGSTON TRANSFER CO. Moving and trucking, local and long distance. New York trips regular. 769 Broadway. Tel. 1122-J.
A. KREISIG, Prop.

John Remus 20 Brewster street. Carpenter and builder. Tel. 1469-J.

MOTOR SERVICE
Between Kingston and New York. Two trips a week. FRED W. PHILLIPS, 81 Lucas avenue, Kingston. Phone 300. New York phone, Stayresant 1929.

SNYDER BROTHERS EXPRESS.
Phone 767. 625 Broadway. Package and delivery service, moving and hauling; local and long distance.

When it's trucking, local or long distance, call 885. PINN'S baggage express, 31 Clinton avenue.

Do your feet suffer? I immediately relieve you of your foot troubles. Go where relief is assured. DR. ALBERTS, 340 Broadway. Open evenings. Phone 1109-W.

CADILLAC TAXI SERVICE.
Open and closed cars for all occasions. Telephone 1631-J. Charles H. Johnson.

JOSEPH F. FROMMER
Plumbing, tinning and heating, sheet metal work. Telephones 2032 and 62-R.

Piano Tuner
Frederick C. Winters
231 Clinton Ave. Phone 1113-J

SCORR'S TAXI SERVICE.
Day and night. Phone 535-J.

Dr. Magnus Gross,
Chiropractor.
284-286 Wall street. Tel. 420.
Treats all foot ailments. Open evenings. Sunday by appointment.

Laundry—Tel. 1985. Make wash day a play day, by sending your wash to the Kingston Laundry 95-87 Broadway.

MOVING, TRUCKING, EXPRESS.
Local and long distance. Masten & Strubel, 742 Broadway. Phone 1255-J.

The State Window Cleaning Co., 13 German street, Kingston, N. Y. We clean everything under the sun. Our work is guaranteed and price reduced. Tel. 1167-J.

W. U. SUPPLIES RADIO WITH NEWS OF WORLD SERIES

In reference to the statement that radio news of the World Series was received in Kingston ahead of the Western Union news, the local office of The Western Union states that the radio station in Newark, which supplies radio stations in this section, receives its news from the same wire which supplies Kingston, the news being sent from the field while the games are in progress by the Western Union operator over a wire which supplies a large circuit, including several local places and the radio station at Newark.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Popular Ever Seasonable Style.
3971. The apron and house dress are now considered an essential in every woman's wardrobe. Surely the model here portrayed will be much admired for its graceful lines and attractive pattern. As a "porch dress" or for garden and kitchen, this style will be very satisfactory. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: Small, 34-36; medium, 36-40; large, 42-44; extra large, 46-48. Inches bust measure. A medium size requires 4 yards of 36 inch material. The width at the foot is about 2 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department. The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

BUSINESS NOTICES

NATIONAL BEAUTY WEEK.
"Look Your Best"
Millie M. Snyder
Vanity Parlor,
356 Washington Avenue, Kingston.
Phone 1792-J.

J. MOORE.
Metal ceilings. Telephone 387-J.

The Kindergarten, 301 Washington avenue, DORA L. COSTELLO, Kindergarten. Phone 259-W.

FACTORY MILL ENDS CUT PRICES ON

Blankets, outing flannels, "Kingston Maid" house dresses, gingham, madras and percales.

DAVID WIEL,
44 Broadway, Bargain House.

JOHNSON'S TAXI SERVICE,
123 Green Street,
Day and night. Telephone 1566-J.

By Miss Betty Cowan. I specialize in stylish stouts. By day or hour. Telephone 1179-M.

We clean windows in stores and houses also offices cleaned. Kingston Window Cleaning Company, 43 Lucas avenue.

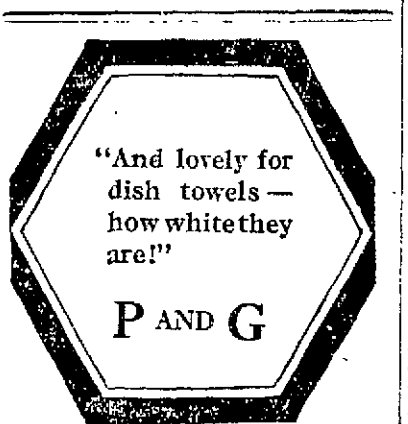

Mrs. R. H. McCutcheon, Licensed undertaker and embalmer, 44 Prince street. Telephone 1920.

K. H. S. FIT FOR PORT JERVIS GAME

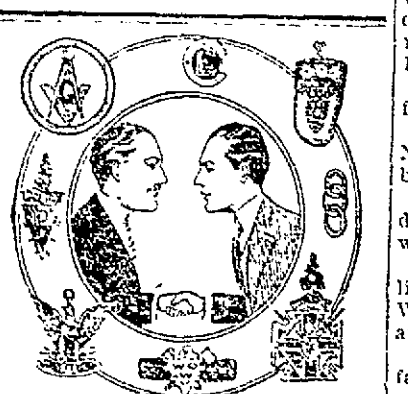

Hard Practice Thursday Evening—Game Next Saturday With Poughkeepsie Means Much to Both in View of Last Two Year's Results.

Tomorrow the K. H. S. "Yarsity" football team will travel to Port Jervis. The trip will be made in autos, the fellows starting early in the morning. This week's work has been marked by exceptionally hard practice. Thursday night a regular practice game was played between the first and second teams with Mr. Hall of the "Y" in charge of the whistle. Penalties were donated to the offenders as in a regular game, and all the requirements of regular play were insisted upon. The first team had little difficulty in scoring several touchdowns against the seconds. The fellows appear to be in fine shape, but Port Jervis has the reputation of being a strong opponent, so Kingston cannot afford to feel over-confident. A week from tomorrow, the first game of the league will be played, when the locals will travel to Poughkeepsie. This is an all-important game, as those who remember the tale of the past two years know. For the last two seasons, the first of the two games between Poughkeepsie and Kingston has resulted in a tie. The year before last the second game went to the Bridge City. Had the first been in favor of the locals, it would have caused a tie in number of games giving Kingston another show for the Valley Championship. Last year the second game ended in a dispute, with the result that no one was given the honors of champs, since Poughkeepsie did not care to replay the game. Had the first game gone to Kingston, the locals would have been first in line and there would have been no dispute. The fellows seem to appreciate the responsibility of winning the game next Saturday and are working real hard. Tomorrow, Middletown, who beat the locals last Saturday 7-0, will play Poughkeepsie. The result of this game will give a line on how evenly matched our team and the Blue and Whites are. The fellows are going to Port Jervis tomorrow to do their best and are determined to make a good showing before their big battle in the down river city. Coach Martin will take the same fellows to Port Jervis as went to Middletown last week, with the exception of Leverett who will replace Kenneth Davenport. "Davy" has shown that he has the goods for a football player, but Leverett has the edge on him in point of height and weight, and gets down the field at a somewhat livelier pace. The fellows who will make the trip are: Captain Davis, Faulk, Colvin, Vogt and Leverett for backfielders; and Fred Anderson, Herbert Anderson, McLane, Francis Davenport, Ed. Messinger, Shultz, Souers, Cassidy, Carroll and Bill O'Reilly for the line. Just who of these fellows will compose the eleven when the game starts is not yet known.

True Friendship Scarce.
Parents we can have but once; but he promises himself too much who enters life with the expectation of finding many friends.—Samuel Johnson.

Banister-Winter Shoes and Oxfords.
Regular Price $13.50 and $12.00
SPECIAL $10.00
S. COHEN'S SONS,
331 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.

good fellowship always follows the handshake. Wear with pride the emblem of your order so your brother may identify you. Our line of lodge emblems and jewelry has been selected with great care, hence, we are able to offer you a varied assortment of high grade goods for your selection.

Cordially yours,
SAFFORD & SCUDDER
JEWELERS

"The House of Lucky Wedding Rings."
310 WALL ST., KINGSTON, N. Y.

ELMENDORF ENDS TRIP TO PACIFIC

His Hupmobile At The Coast After A Fifteen And One Half Days Drive 3,420 Miles From Kingston To San Francisco.

Clayton S. Elmendorf of this city and Kendall Leek of Lomontville have arrived at the Pacific coast after a fifteen and one half days drive.

"We followed the Lincoln Highway out of Chicago to San Francisco," writes Mr. Elmendorf. We found that Ohio, Indiana and Illinois had the best roads. Although the roads are one hundred per cent better this year than they were last year when I drove through from the coast. This is from Laramie, Wyo., east but from there west they are about one hundred per cent worse, due to the heavy rains last spring. There are about one thousand miles of roads that you can't do over 5 to 10 miles per hour and stay in the seat. This is over roads with very deep chuck holes in through Utah and Nevada.

"The scenery through the Rockies and the Sierras has been very pretty. The roads through the Sierras are about 7,500 feet high and are very steep. We camped out nearly all the while and other times we stopped at hotels. We stopped at the restaurants for our meals each day except when crossing the deserts which required us to take a lunch as there wasn't any stops in between towns. We passed over the Goodyear section of the Lincoln Highway in Utah. This is the worst part of the highway between New York and San Francisco, due to the water from the surrounding mountains flowing down onto this desert in the spring. For seventeen miles this road is under about three feet of water on each side. This seventeen miles of road across the desert as far as you can see, the Goodyear people gave thousands of dollars to construct it so as to travel over it when the desert was flooded.

"The only bad weather we had was out of Omaha for one hundred and fifty miles of very muddy roads which also were very slippery. We were from one side of the road to another, made tracks like a snake.

"The best thing I saw was the western fellows drive Ford's over these kinds of roads. They give it the gas and the wheels turn about thirty and the mud flies about twelve feet in the air and the car goes fifteen miles per hour. We have 1,460 pounds of baggage and camping equipment which we carried across.

"Crossing the deserts through Utah and Nevada, there are three places which are over one hundred miles apart and lots which are twenty-five miles apart and better. This is where a Hupmobile is good because you don't have to worry about not getting there with a Hup. "The Hupmobile is the best car I know of to make such a trip as this and here are some of my reasons: First, they are a car that can be depended upon. Second, they run so slow and even in high gear without the least effort. Third, they are very cheap to run. Fourth, they will stand up under any condition and I can give several other reasons.

Speaking of economy I made from Kingston to San Francisco, 3,420 miles on 185 gallons of gas, 4 1/2 quarts of oil, in fifteen and one half days; average, 18.4 miles per gallon on gas, 760 miles per quart of oil and an average of 220.6 miles per day running. I didn't have any trouble with the car at all, not even to tighten a bolt. All I did was to give it plenty of oil, gas, water and grease.

"I want to tell you about my tires. I have a full set of Dayton Thoroughbred Cords sold by James Austin, that ran all the way across without a change. These tires saw all kinds of roads from smooth, paved roads to the creek bottoms and chuck holes of Nevada. Have used lots of other tires on my trips across but these have proved the best of any yet.

"It is wonderful touring when you do not have to worry about your car breaking down or that tire going flat, this is what I call pleasure. Have seen lots of Hupmobiles through the west and have talked to several of them and they all seem to be good boosters.

"Mr. Leek leaves San Francisco tomorrow for Pasadena, Cal., where he will visit his brother there and I am going north of San Francisco to Fortuna to visit my brother and friends."

LEIBHARDT.

Leibhardt, Oct. 5.—A social will be held Saturday, October 7. A hot dog supper will be served and refreshments of all kinds will be for sale. Proceeds for the M. E. Church.

Miss Jennie DeWitt has returned from Lake Minnewaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Terwilliger of Newburgh were guests at the Hornbeck home for the week end.

Mrs. Agnes Brown and granddaughter Miss Agnes, are visiting with friends in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Brown and little daughter Laura, and Chester Wager of Modena were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Romain Brown on Sunday.

Miss Hattie Kelder will spend the fall and winter season with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Krom.

Arlington D. Brown and William McInturf enjoyed an auto ride and attended the movies at Ellenville last Monday evening.

Isaac Van Vliet with his thrashing machine and outfit has been thrashing and filling the silo for Mrs. Agnes Brown for the past week.

Preaching services will be held on Wednesday evening, October 11, by the Rev. W. W. Churchill.

A number from this place attended the World's Fair at Grahamsville last week, September 27.

Mrs. Eliza C. DeWitt spent last Saturday visiting her sister, Mrs. Amelia Markle at Rochester center.

Mrs. Pearl Vandermark Lemunyon wife of Benjamin Lemunyon died at the home of her father, Darwin Vandermark on Friday, September 29, in the 36th year of her age. The funeral services were held in the undertaking parlors of Mr. Humiston at Kerhonkson, on Monday after-

Beautiful New Millinery
See our Fall
Dress Goods

CAKE AND FOOD SALE at this store Saturday from 2 to 5 under the auspices of Myrtle Court, No. 62, Order of the Amaranth.

Visit Our Big Floor Covering Department
This Week—

GOLD SEAL CONGOLEUM WEEK

"Jack was so pleased; even now he can hardly believe that such an attractive rug cost so little!"

Saturday the Last Day to Get Your Gold Seal Congoleum
At These Special Bargain Prices

6x9 ft. Genuine GOLD-SEAL CONGOLEUM RUG—only.....$7.25
Nationally Advertised Price—$8.10
7 1/2x9 ft. Genuine GOLD-SEAL CONGOLEUM RUG—only.....$9.10
Nationally Advertised Price—$10.10
9x10 1/2 ft. Genuine GOLD-SEAL CONGOLEUM RUG—only.....$12.70
Nationally Advertised Price—$10.10
9x12 ft. Genuine GOLD-SEAL CONGOLEUM RUG—only.....$14.50
Nationally Advertised Price—$16.20
GOLD-SEAL CONGOLEUM By-the-Yard, only 59c
Per square yard, 2 yards wide. Nationally Advertised Price 75c.
No factory left-overs or "seconds," but fresh new designs of rare charm and beauty. Every one in perfect condition, just received from the factory.

THE GOLD-SEAL GUANTEES—
—that you are buying the genuine nationally advertised Congoleum.
—that absolute satisfaction is guaranteed.
—that a light mopping will keep the colors fresh and clean.
—that it will lie perfectly flat without fastening.
The GOLD-SEAL Guarantee of satisfaction identifies the one and only grade of Congoleum. It is pasted on the face of every Gold-Seal Congoleum Art Rug or piece of yard goods we sell.
See our big assortment before Saturday night.

26 Broadway, Cor. Mill St., Downtown

The Merry Whirl
Not the name of a show nor a description of the dancers on the waxed floor, but the merry whirl of the latest
VICTOR RECORDS

That's what we're bringing to your attention. You will find here a remarkably complete stock, intelligent, courteous service and skill in recommending the records which will give you the utmost of enjoyment.

"THE SPORTING GOODS STORE."

Charles A. Warren
260 FAIR ST.

When Brothers Meet
good fellowship always follows the handshake. Wear with pride the emblem of your order so your brother may identify you. Our line of lodge emblems and jewelry has been selected with great care, hence, we are able to offer you a varied assortment of high grade goods for your selection.

Cordially yours,
SAFFORD & SCUDDER
JEWELERS

"The House of Lucky Wedding Rings."
310 WALL ST., KINGSTON, N. Y.

home of her mother, Mrs. Eliza C. DeWitt.
Miss Jennie DeWitt was a guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Alex Brown, Monday night.

ACCORD.
Accord, Oct. 5.—H. J. Knicker, postmaster at Accord, who is on his vacation in New Brunswick, N. J., visited his wife and children the week-end, returning to New Brunswick again on Monday.

The Reformed Church claim bake was well attended. Gross receipts $1,004. The net proceeds have not been learned.

Mrs. John Miller has been entertaining company for a few days.

Harry Ford, who has been employed at Liberty, Sullivan county in an express office, is at home and will be employed in the O. & W. station here.

Mrs. John Miller visited her mother at Kysierke on Wednesday.

S. P. Rogers, son and family will leave for New Paltz this week. The girls, the Misses Frances and Stella,

There was another runaway Tuesday, when H. Feldman's horse stood by the G. L. F. feed store scared by the train and ran toward the creamery. The wagon caught the telephone pole near Decker store and the horse broke harness and whiffletree, loosening him from the vehicle. He was caught near the creamery.

A large crowd is expected at the E. Hall on Thursday to listen to Newbury, on "The Care of Children."

The work on the Reformed Church is progressing under the skillful management of Mr. Quinette from Kingston.

The picket fence by L. M. Decker residence was struck by an automobile and some pickets were broken. has been replaced with new pickets.

Condemnation of Profanity.
Profanity is a brutal vice, who indulges in it is no gentleman. Chapin.